It voices belief in the right of the Filipinos to be free is expressed in the resolution and the President's words are cordially accepted as "a categorical declaration of the purpose of the United States to recognize the independence of the Philippines."

LENDERS ASK LOWER RATES.

Improved Position of Banks Affects Time Money Market.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A tendency towards a lower level is in progress in the time money market, owing to the reduced volume of bidding and the improved position of the banks as shown in Saturday's statement. For ninety days and four months advances, lenders are asking 1-4 of 1 per cent. less. Rates are 4 3-4 per cent. for sixty days, 5 per cent. for ninety days, four and five months, 4 3-4 per cent. for six months. Call money ½ per cent. Banks are buying short-term notes for the account of corporation customers.

"WORK OR RESIGN."

Demands That the Senators Carry the Hod or Stop Drawing Their Pay Become Insistent.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Demands that Senators either "resign" or "go to work," that absent members be brought back to Washington by the use of "any force that may be necessary" and the "miserable pretense" of trying to do business without a quorum be ended, marked the opening of today's session of the Senate.

Senator La Follette, leading the fight for the enactments of the seamen's bill began the attack on Senate absentees, but it was taken up and vigorously indorsed by Senator Kern, Democratic leader, and by Senators Borah and Cummins, Republicans, and others.

Later all absent Senators were telegraphed to return to Washington.

The Senate finally obtained a quorum, but the demand for the return of absent members will not be relaxed. Absentees who are able to come to Washington have been instructed to start at once. Plans of administration leaders in the House for a thirty-day recess were abandoned today because Republican Leader Mann refused today to yield in his determination to keep the House in session as long as the Senate awaits action on the currency bill in committee.

The Worm Turns.

COMES BACK AS A HERO.

Sulzer Returns to Gotham.

Deposed Governor of New York Greeted in Metropolis as a Conqueror.

Hurrahs Make the Dome of the Grand Central Station Fairly Vibrate.

Tammany Finds It Has a Load on Its Hands in the Sixth District.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A conquering hero returning from the wars could not have received greater welcome than that accorded William Sulzer, the deposed Governor of New York, when he reached New York from Albany at 10:45 o'clock tonight.

A more enthusiastic or a noisier reception has never, perhaps, been seen in New York. For many minutes before the one-time Governor, now candidate for the Assembly in the Sixth Manhattan District, made his appearance, the vast-domed waiting-room of the new Grand Central terminal was filled with shouts of "Hurrah for Sulzer" and the blasts of tin horns.

And when Sulzer, in the familiar black campaign hat and overcoat of Oxford gray, smiling as in the height of his career, came through a secluded doorway, the crowd let loose. From thousands of throats issued [illegible], and the scores of railway guards and porters were swept aside. The retaining ropes were thrown down and Sulzer was surrounded by swarms of admirers.

Big guards tried to form a cordon around Sulzer and his escorts—Max Steindler, the Progressive leader of the Sixth, and David Goldstein, who is running against Aaron J. Levy, the Tammany whip of the Assembly, for justice of the Second Municipal Court. But they, too, were swept aside. Fashionably-gowned women were yelling in the balconies. "Three cheers for the real Governor," was the cry that rent the air.

Sulzer was pushed and dragged toward the Vanderbilt-avenue entrance. Twice, before he reached the street, he just escaped serious injury from being crushed as he passed through the narrow doors. The first time was when, by mistake, his escort tried to drag him into the subway entrance. The former Governor was jammed against a pillar, and only through the presence of mind of those immediately behind him was saved. These men pushed back on the crowd and Sulzer managed to escape through the doorway. Again, as he was being led into the street, a similar thing happened.

At the exit at Forty-second street and Vanderbilt avenue, Otto Lorence, who withdrew from the Assembly race to make way for Sulzer, hustled the late occupant of "the People House" into a big touring car.

Slowly it made its way through the throngs and as it passed the corner, where hundreds stood on a platform, men and women cried out "Hurray for Gov. Sulzer." "Hurray for the real Governor."

Down Forty-second street to Broadway the procession of automobiles went, the horns tooting, the occupants shouting back the cheers of the crowd on foot.

For the greater part of the way the cars in the van were racing, running two and three abreast in an effort to keep close to the Sulzer car.

The excitement and the enthusiastic reception at the Broadway Central Hotel had its effect on Sulzer. For several minutes after his arrival both he and Mrs. Sulzer were in tears.

Sulzer was for retiring for the night, but finally yielded to the pleadings of David Goldstein and Max Steindler, who begged him to take a ride through his district and show himself to his East Side constituents.

When the automobiles started out early in the evening they paraded through the East Side until Second avenue was reached and as he passed Tammany Hall, the home of the "Tiger," some of the occupants of the cars yelled unprintable epithets against Tammany Hall and Murphy.

Washington University Scientist Discovers Causes of Variation in Earth's Magnetic Field.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Prof. E. F. Nipher of Washington University, in a lecture before the Academy of Science here last night, told of experiments which he conducted last summer on the shore of Lake Huron, which indicated that variations in the magnetic field of the earth are due to wind, rain and cloud shadows interfering with the solar rotation. The experiments were characterized by Prof. T. J. J. See, director of the Mare Island naval observatory, who heard the lecture, as the most notable contribution to the science of the earth's magnetism in the last fifty years and as absolutely conclusive.

ARMY SURGEON TELLS WOMEN HOW TO DRESS.

Assistant Surgeon-General Rucker Gives Advice on Method to Avoid Colds in Winter Weather and Incidentally Points Moral About the Abuse of Heavy Underwear.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the mercury tumbling in the tube, one of Uncle Sam's health officials comes to the succor of the shivering people hereabouts and tells them how to dress, incidentally defending the X-Ray gown and the slit skirt. It will do the favored denizens of California good to hear him tell the easterners how to dress when Jack Frost is cavorting about.

"Women wear too many clothes in winter, anyway," says Assistant Surgeon-General Rucker, who today prescribes a few fall and winter hints for the populace:

"Do not overload your body with heavy garments," he advises. "Split skirts and diaphanous gowns are not menaces to health in cold weather. On the contrary the woman who wears the present styles will be less liable to catch cold than one who crowds her body with heavy woolens the first chilly day.

"To prevent winter colds, dress warmly and comfortably, but don't wear too many clothes. This, of course, does not apply to overcoats and outer garments. Dress according to your particular climate, and your usual fall and winter colds are not liable to appear."

Thus is the slit skirt cleared of the charge of being an instigator of sniffles. Now comes heavy underwear for a hearing. This is a conservation institution against whose traditional bulwarks health faddists have made repeated onslaughts.

"Persons who are not in the open air during the day should specially guard against heavy underwear," said Dr. Rucker. "Heavier wraps when out of doors will equalize the temperature of the body; cold feet are always dangerous."

He also repeated the established warning about sleeping in stuffy rooms and declared that the open window in the bedroom, no matter how cold, is always a preventative of bad colds and pneumonia. And here is a way to cure a cold in its early stages:

"When you feel a cold coming on, go into a room, open all the windows and disrobe. The cold air won't hurt you. Take a stiff brush and rub your body until it glows all over. The cold will go away."

Twenty-two Riding on Freight Train Likely to Go to the Penitentiary.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OGDEN (Utah) Oct. 21.—Twenty-two Industrial Workers of the World, who say they are the advance guard of an army going from Butte, Spokane, and other northern points to Salt Lake, were arrested here today by the Sheriff's force and the police shortly after they alighted from a freight train of the Oregon Short Line.

Complaints of the crew that they could not dislodge the men who had taken possession were made here. County officials say that complaints will be filed against the entire group under a law that provides penitentiary sentences upon conviction of riding on freight trains.

SANTA BARBARA CITIZENS GIVE SHRINERS OVATION.

Over Two Thousand People Turn Out to the Concert Given at Athletic Park to Aid in Raising Money to Pay Expenses of Delegation—Twenty Cars Leave Los Angeles.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Shriners band, which is touring California in the "Hands-Around-the-State" movement, the purpose being to raise $100,000 or more to go toward paying the expenses of a delegation of Shriners to the meeting next year in Atlanta, Ga., gave its initial performance in Santa Barbara today and received a most enthusiastic greeting. It is estimated that more than 2000 people paid $1 admission to Athletic Park, where the band rendered a programme and Islam Patrol of San Francisco executed a series of drills that brought forth much applause.

Entrusiasm was unbounded, everyone seeming to take up the spirit of the occasion. Every business house in the city was closed and there was a small attendance at the city schools, the event being taken as a holiday.

One of the most pleasing features of the afternoon's performance was the singing by Miss Ella Atkinson, dramatic soprano of San Francisco. When she sang, "I Love You, California," she was given a tremendous ovation, the crowd joining her in the chorus.

FOUR PATROLS TAKE PART.

Four patrols participated in the performance, Al Malaikah of Los Angeles, Al Bahr of San Diego, Aahmes of Oakland and Islam of San Francisco. The San Francisco delegation was the only one to take part in the drills, and their efforts were persistently applauded.

Notable among those present today taking an active part were: Director-General Frank B. Silverwood of Los Angeles; George Bennett of San Francisco, leader of the $10,000,000 band, and Leo Youngworth, Potentate of the Los Angeles Temple.

The Shriners arrived in Santa Barbara at noon on a special train, being met at the depot by a delegation of local members and were escorted to the Arlington Hotel for luncheon. Immediately afterward the visitors marched down the main street, which was banked on either side by spectators. Dinner was enjoyed at the Potter Hotel, after which the Shriners' Special departed for San Jose, where they expect to arrive at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow.

TAKE MOVING PICTURES.

The Flying A Moving Picture Company made the most of the visit of the Shriners, taking views at the depot, at the hotel, along the line of march and at the ball park.

The full complement of the band and patrol teams did not come to Santa Barbara. There were about seventy in the band and the same number in the patrol. Many of the members of the San Francisco and Oakland Temples did not care to make the trip south. They will join the band at San Francisco and then come to the southern part of the State for the concert at Los Angeles and San Diego.

SHRINERS' LEAVE LOS ANGELES.

TWENTY CARS ON TRAIN.

When the twenty-car train of the "Hands-Around-the-State" tour pulled out of Los Angeles yesterday morning with its host of Los Angeles and San Diego Shriners aboard, the steam calliope attached to the engine burst forth in the strains of "I Love You, California" and a tour that will go down in the history of the State was started.

TOO MUCH EXPLOITATION OF PUPILS SAY MOTHERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the approval of the members of the Board of Education, thus making the work more of a public nature, the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, California branch, will visit the schools of the city to study methods and conditions for the purpose of making the school a public rather than an expert interest.

The special information concerning schools that will be sought by the association relates to the amount of schooling actually received, to ascertain whether or not the system reaches all who ought to be reached, means of aiding the laggards in the schools, the suitableness of the course offered, school equipments, sanitary and hygienic conditions, and neighborhood interest in the school.

Nearly all members of the association here are mothers and their interest is on behalf of their children. Mrs. Graupner said that if the association discovered anything which it thought could be improved upon it would report to the board; that the organization was a constructive and not a destructive one.

That the children of the public schools have been exploited enough in the past and that they should not in the future, was the tenor of a communication received from President Florence Muto of the San Francisco Congress of Mothers. She said that festivals and parades in which the children took part by schools was detrimental to their health and education and called upon the board to prohibit such participation in the future.

Empty Seats Greet Emmeline.

"What's Good for Frost Bite in America?" Is Her Chief Worry.

Room for Twelve Thousand, but Scarcely Three Thousand Were Present.

And the Fifty Centers Made a Rush for the Fine Two-Dollar Chairs.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a surprise in store for Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst tonight when she entered Madison Square Garden to the big mass meeting. The English militant suffragist discovered that although there were seats for fully 12,000 persons, scarcely 3000 had turned out to hear her much-talked-of lecture on militancy in England. Added to this was the fact that many persons were sorely discontented when, while Charles Edward Russell, the Socialist candidate for Mayor, was making the introductory remarks for Mrs. Pankhurst, those in the 50-cent seats, in the $1 and $1.50 seats poured down into the main floor and began to take the $2 and $2.50 seats, regardless of the ushers, or what they paid.

IMPOSITION.

Martin Littleton was among others who found this an imposition. He sent this letter to the newspaper men:

"To the Press Gallery: I just paid $2.50 apiece for three tickets to hear Mrs. Pankhurst and I had no sooner got seated when everybody from everywhere by some signal, which evidently was agreed on in advance, tumbled helter skelter into any seat for little or nothing. These people were just as good people as I am and probably in many respects better, but the point I am driving at is this: Must everything and everybody be a humbug? Is this a money-making affair? I left this hall because I did not wish to hear any argument about rights when the whole meeting was planned to sell rights and give them without discrimination. The whole arrangement is simply dishonest. Sincerely, Martin W. Littleton."

This communication was passed to Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, who sat next to Mrs. Pankhurst at the time. On it was written in pencil:

"Mrs. Belmont: Will you please give the press an answer to this?"

WHY THE SILENCE?

Mrs. Belmont refused to comment on the missive.

GLOOM.

Gloom filled the place, even before Mrs. Pankhurst and Mrs. Belmont reached the scene. The suffragists had hoped to have a real circus "turnaway" before the hunger-striking English woman put in appearance. Not so.

NEW YORK A BUSY TOWN.

New York was busy elsewhere and the atmosphere of the meeting itself was cool toward the militant movement. True, in spots they showed enthusiasm when Mrs. Pankhurst snapped her militant whip and dug her harpoon into the ruling politicians and statesmen of England. But, as Mrs. Pankhurst drove home point after point in her argument, the "shames" were not as loud nearly as they were at the woman's Political Union dinner on Monday night. The hisses and boos were mild, indeed. And these came mostly from the drilled suffragists, who knew much about Herbert Asquith and Mr. McKenna, the Home Secretary of the British empire.

Few persons contributed to the collection when Mrs. Pankhurst announced that while it was being taken up she would answer questions from persons in the audience.

THEY HECKLED HER.

Thereupon the audience carelessly forgot the collection and devoted its attention to heckling Mrs. Pankhurst or listening to the questions and answers.

The front part of the platform was decorated with the militant colors—green, white and purple—and on banners there was: "They who permit oppression share the crime," and "Awake, arise, or be forever fallen."

On one large banner was, "Resistance to tyranny is obedience to God."

Mrs. Pankhurst began by telling something of her experience on Ellis Island and contrasted it with the time she had spent in Holloway Jail. She praised the courtesy of the Federal officials and said that the women in the immigration bureau are doing fine work. She said that she was glad the immigration authorities had ordered her to Ellis Island.

ANOTHER VERSION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, in Madison Square Garden, addressing her first American mass meeting toni ht, explained why militancy methods for the cause of woman suffrage are followed in England, but not in America, and defended the employment of such methods. She criticised the British government as the most conservative on earth and held it responsible through failure to enact legislation desired, by women for advocates of suffrage resorting to violence to obtain the ballot.

Only through dynamic means, she

WILSON IN THE DARK SAYS BRITISH DIPLOMAT

Sir Lionel Thinks He Should Study the Mexican Situation.

English Ambassador to Explain His Presentation of Credentials to Gen. Huerta and Is of Opinion Dissolution of Congress Is Purely an Internal Affair—Page Gets Cold Comfort from Sir Edward Grey.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 21.—"The dissolution of Congress by President Huerta was purely an internal affair of Mexico, which could not possibly have any bearing upon the presentation of my credentials," said Sir Lionel Carden, the British Minister, when asked today concerning comments in the press growing out of the coincidence of the events.

"The instructions of my government were definite," he continued. "Had it been desired that I should withhold the presentation of my credentials, I would have been so advised. Personally, it is not presumed that I knew whether the dissolution of Congress was an act authorized by the laws of the country. I am not sure but that it is. The matter was wholly within the discretion of my government and should not be the subject of comment."

The Minister declined to talk about recommendations that might be made concerning intervention. He said he was inclined to believe that the United States did not appreciate fully the seriousness of conditions in Mexico, which in his opinion were due to such a lack of accord between the government and the people and such a diversity of aspirations among the revolutionists that no one element could be expected to dominate the situation.

He saw no reason why the present state of affairs might not continue indefinitely.

ENGLAND STANDS PAT.
GIVES POINTERS TO PAGE.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 21.—In his discussion of Mexican affairs with the American Ambassador, Walter H. Page, yesterday, Sir Edward Grey declined to bind the British government to any particular policy after the elections in Mexico. In this respect, therefore, the policy of the British government differs from that of the United States.

Ambassador Page explained to the British Foreign Secretary at some length the policy of the United States, and Sir Edward Grey in reply, pointed out that nothing, thus far, had occurred to change the British views that recognition of the provisional government in Mexico was the correct policy.

WILSON NOT PLEASED.
HEARS OF ENGLAND'S POLICY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Dispatches were received at the State Department today from Ambassador Page, describing in detail his conference with Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Minister, concerning the attitude of Great Britain in Mexico.

The position of the British Foreign Office was explained substantially, as indicated in the press dispatches from London. The American government, it is known, is not entirely pleased with the British government's policy, administration officials being particularly disappointed by the declaration of Sir Edward Grey that nothing, thus far, had occurred in Mexico to change the British view that recognition of Huerta was the correct policy.

The attitude of the administration here is that the forcible arrest of the majority of the members of the Mexican Congress and the arbitrary assumption by Gen. Huerta of the legislative as well as the executive powers of the government in themselves constitute acts which materially alter the State of affairs in Mexico.

The presentation of Sir Lionel Carden's credentials, despite these occurrences, is being interpreted by American officials, notwithstanding the British explanation, as a move out of sympathy with the viewpoint of the United States.

There were no developments in the situation as far as any new expression of policy was concerned. The Cabinet discussed the subject briefly.

Without waiting for the German government to ask about its forty-three subjects, said to be forcibly detained in Torreon by Gen. Villa, the United States, through Charge O'Shaughnessy in Mexico City, has made representations to the Huerta government, supplementing those made by Emperor William's representative, who demanded protection for the prisoners. Consular Agent Cathers at Torreon was likewise instructed to treat with Villa in behalf of German, British, French and Spanish subjects detained after a caravan of some 300 Americans departed overland for Monterey. It is reported that Gen. Villa has been holding these foreigners in the city to prevent Federal attack. Officials here said today that not more than half a dozen Americans remain in the beleaguered city.

PORTO RICANS' STATUS.

Comptroller of the Treasurer Downey decided today that native-born Porto Ricans, destitute in Mexico, were entitled to the same privileges of transportation from Mexico to their homes at government expense as citizens of the continental United States, under the recent act of Congress providing relief for American citizens in Mexico.

REBELS ON THE MARCH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Oct. 21.—Three hundred and fifty Sonora rebel soldiers under the command of Maj. Enriquez, are on the march to Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, to reinforce the Constitutionalist army now preparing to move against Juarez. The Sonora force is said to be equipped with three cannon and two machine guns.

According to advices received here today, it may be decided to await the arrival of Gen. Francisco Villa's army for a concerted assault on the border city.

CARRANZA'S APPOINTMENTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BROWNSVILLE (Tex.) Oct. 21.—The appointment of Col. Caballero of the Constitutionalist forces as military Governor of the State of Tamaulipas, and of Gen. Blanco as Governor of Zacatecas, has been decided upon by Gen. Venustiano Carranza, head of the revolutionary movement, according to a dispatch received here today. Gen. Blanco is at the head of the rebel forces in Tamaulipas and Neuvo Leon. Col. Caballero is preparing to attack the Federals at Victoria.

TORREON INCOMUNICADO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 21.—The Spanish Minister, Senor Cologan y Cologan, was informed today by Senor Moheno, the Foreign Minister, that the government had no means of communication with Torreon and could do nothing with reference to the foreign residents said to be held as hostages by Villa.

REBELS FAVOR NEW REPUBLIC.

LEADERS FROM SIX STATES PLAN SECESSION.

Constitutionalists Issue Proclamation Calling Upon Sympathizers in the North to Join in the Movement and Advocating Gen. V. Carranza as Its First President.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to information from a reliable source, the Constitutionalists in Sonora have gone on record as favoring a separate and independent republic in Mexico, to be composed of the States of Sonora, Sinaloa, Chihuahua, Durango, Coahuila and the territory of Lower California. The leaders of the Constitutionalists met in conference at Hermosillo and considered the proposition for two days, the result of the conference being a formal proclamation in favor of such a republic. They declared themselves willing and anxious to secede from the present government of Mexico.

After the proclamation had been formulated, setting forth the reasons for inaugurating a republic composed of the States named, it was signed in duplicate by Gov. Maytorena for the State of Sonora, Ygnacio Rivera, Sinaloa; Carlos C. Randall, Chihuahua; Juan Sanchez Aconda, Lower California, and Juan Cabral, Durango, and a copy sent to Gen. Huerta. The conference went further by issuing a manifesto calling on loyal Constitutionalists in the several States to rally to the defense of the cause and help make the proposed republic a reality and indorsing Gen. V. Carranza as the first candidate for president of the new country.

After the meeting there was a demonstration and loud vivas for Carranza and the "New Republic of Mexico."

CARRANZA DENIES REPORT.
SAYS HE'S AGAINST SECESSION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Oct. 21.—Secession of Northern States from the republic of Mexico is not the object of the campaign of Gen. Venustiano Carranza, head of the border revolutionary movement, and the campaign now being conducted against the Huerta administration will be continued, regardless of the result of the forthcoming election. This, in substance, was the purport of a signed statement issued by Gen. Carranza today.

The report that the factional leaders of the revolutionary movement had agreed upon secession was emphatically denied.

DASH OF EASTERN WINTER CAUSES TWENTY DEATHS.

Heavy Destruction of Property Which Cannot Be Approximately Estimated Is Caused by Snow and Frost. Twelve Perish in Gale Off Pensacola, Fla.—Man Freezes to Death in Wisconsin.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Winter's first fierce slap at the country caused about twenty deaths, heavy property destruction, which cannot be approximately estimated until the full effects of snow and frost are known, and general discomfort from the Canadian line to the uttermost tip of Florida and from New England to the Texas border. California and other favored States west of the Rockies seem the only part of the United States unscourged by the tempest.

Twelve persons are supposed to have perished in the gale off Pensacola, Fla. The launch Highball, in which they were riding, cannot be located. Six persons perished in Wisconsin at various points. The freezing to death of an aged man was reported today. One man was killed and a dozen seriously injured in Chicago.

Chicago was today the center of a blinding snowstorm that swept the entire lake region. Many vessels are reported in trouble. Eight boats off Duluth have not been accounted for and may not be located until tomorrow, when it is predicted the storms will moderate. The steamer Elphicke, carrying 160,000 bushels of wheat, broke in two off Long Point on Lake Erie, but her crew of eighteen were rescued.

MORE SNOW EXPECTED.

Reports tonight show that snow of more or less density fell in all the Northwestern States, in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, Michigan, Iowa, and traces in other States.

In the extreme Southwest and Southeast and along the Atlantic Coast the storm took on the form of violent gales, causing much damage to shipping and unusual destruction inland, as the storms were not confined to the coasts.

Killing frosts are reported from Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama, and it is feared this damage will extend to Mississippi, Louisiana and Florida tonight. All through the Mississippi River Valley, including Northern Texas and extending into Canada, snow fell in varying quantities and the temperature in many places ran considerably below freezing.

According to the statistics of the Chicago branch of the Weather Bureau, this is the first snowstorm amounting to anything at such an early period since 1902. In 1905 and 1909 there were light snows, doing no damage, however, as early as October 11. Today's storm is eleven days ahead of the average. The storm originated in the north and its first hard effects were felt in Wisconsin and Minnesota. In several cities in these States sleighs are in service and skating is in progress in the parks.

CHICAGO UNPREPARED.

Chicago was caught absolutely unprepared. Yesterday morning was as fine an Indian summer day as could be expected. Then came a wintry blast, a swirl of snow, the temperature raced down to freezing and fierce gales swept the city all of the night and today. The immediate result was the flooding of all charitable institutions by pleas for food, fuel and clothing. Early today the temperature sank to 27 deg. above zero, not extreme cold for Chicago, but bitterly cold for the thousands who were caught in scanty clothing and the half-fed, half-clothed part of the population, and the other thousands shivering in tenements with no fuel or food, many of them sick and unable to move.

WINTER IS GENERAL.
HEAVY FROSTS IN EAST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The season's first touch of wintry weather was general today east of the Mississippi. Shifting gales, which whipped the Middle Atlantic Coast and the lakes region, had hooted their way to sea, leaving crisp, cool areas behind and promises of light snow in some sections. General frosts today touched the South Atlantic regions, as far down as Florida, and there was freezing weather through the Mississippi and Ohio valleys.

MAN KILLED IN CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Chicago awoke this morning to witness the first heavy snowstorm of the season, which at times was almost a blizzard. Light snow began falling last evening and continued all through the night, becoming heavier at daylight. Early this morning the mercury dropped below the freezing point. Blinded by storm, Charles Blake, 40 years old, a switchman, was run down by a freight train and instantly killed. Traffic on the surface and elevated roads was delayed by the blizzard, and half a dozen persons were reported injured in accidents caused by the snow and ice.

ROB AND KILL AMERICANS.

Terrible Tales of Outrage Come from Durango.

Rebels Tie Young Wife to Bed Then Murder Her.

Mexican Maid Saves Man About to Be Shot.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO (Cal.) Oct. 21.—Terrible tales of outrages in the State and city of Durango, Mexico, were related today at the Red Cross headquarters by refugees awaiting transportation to their destinations. They state that little of the revoluting truth has been told in the United States.

"One of the worst outrages discussed on board the Buford," said Mrs. Mary Towelston, of Durango, en route to Carrezozo, N. M., "was that inflicted on a young American and his wife at Durango. The rebels of General Carranza seized the couple in their home. They roped the husband fast and tied his wife to her bed where they finally killed her.

MODERN POCAHONTAS.

"Tweny-seven Americans were lined up against a building in Durango to be shot by the Carranzistas, but just as the first was to be shot, a Mexican maid rushed in front of him and pleaded with her countrymen not to shoot. Other Mexican girls also ran up and through their efforts with the Mexican rebels saved the Americans for the time at least.

"While there has been some restraint of murder and robbery for Americans there has been none for the rich Mexicans. All through Durango, the fine residences of the rich have been turned into stables by the rebels. It is common to see the fine houses with the horses' heads sticking out of the parlor windows while the wives of the rebel soldiers are parading around dressed in the fine silk gowns of the rich, diamond rings almost covering their hands, costly necklaces about their necks and all manner of jewelry displayed.

"Whatever the rebels seize and cannot use immediately they burn to prevent its recapture. Men and women, robbed of all their clothes and property, cannot get more if they do find means, for all the stores have been sacked and shut up."

REFUGEES STRIPPED.

One man reached Manzanillo from Durango entirely naked, according to the group of refugees. Another, W. I. Dawson, who started with over $1100, reached the port with only a shirt and a pair of pants, the rebels having robbed him on the way of even his shoes and socks and hat.

UN OTRO CAVALLO CON OTRO COLOR TAMBIEN.

Able Democratic Defense of the Washington Dictator, also of Champ Clark and Underwood, Together With a Severe Excoriation of the Mexican Article.

[By Special Grapevine to The Times from The Alhambra—Uncensored.]

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The purported translation of Gen. Huerta's reply to President Wilson under the caption, "Un Cavallo del Otro Color," seems to require an asterisk and copious marginal explanation to make it plain whether it is a literal translation of an important state paper or a bit of political claptrap.

With public interest keyed up to concert pitch over a situation more important than has confronted our country within a half century it seems incredible that you would have permitted an effusion so biased and so palpably untrue as the pseudo Huerta reply to figure in your news columns. If Huerta had made such a reply I believe that you with all of your prejudice against President Wilson personally would have been patriotic enough to denounce the impudence of so insulting a paper from the arch traitor and usurper. Like hundreds of other Democrats I read your paper regularly, believing that, notwithstanding your strabismic views of politics and your often unfair, and labored arraignment of Democratic policies, I will at least find your news columns conducted and safely guarded. I found this reputed translation where in your political [illegible] stead of under the [illegible] giving the general [illegible] stirring news from Mexico. WOULD REDUCE RESERVE BANKS.

New Yorkers Take Exception to Currency Bill.

Wilson Says He Will Accept Changes Suggested.

Limit on Dividends May Be Increased to Six.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Two witnesses discussed the administration currency bill before the Senate Committee today. Victor Morawet of New York, who championed the measure, completed his testimony, and Alexander Gilbert, president of the Pelton Market Bank of New York, took the stand. Both urged the reduction of the number of Federal reserve banks fixed by the bill at twelve. Mr. Gilbert presented a table showing the resources available for the organization of six regional banks, to be located in New England, the Eastern States, the South, the Mississippi Valley, Central West and the Pacific Coast. He urged that the bill be amended to allow the banks representation on the Federal Reserve Board. To avoid stringency, which he said would follow shifting of bank capital and deposits to the proposed Federal reserve banks, he proposed that this shifting be done gradually, in small installments.

AMENDMENTS NUMEROUS.

While the hearings before the Senate committee may not end before Saturday, amendments have the attention of the members.

President Wilson's intimation that he will not object to changes in the personnel of the Federal Reserve Board and a reduction in the number of regional reserve banks has made it practically certain that the desires of many Senators to make those changes will be carried out with the consent of administration approval. Many other important modifications will be taken up when the committee next begins on the measure next week, among the proposed changes is one that will go to the very basis of the bill, the provision authorizing the discount of commercial paper and the issue of currency by the Federal reserve banks.

The compulsory feature of the bill, under which all national banks would be required to join the system and subscribe 20 per cent. of their capital stock in the Federal reserve bank of their district and turn over 5 per cent. of their deposits to the reserve bank, also may be changed.

RESERVE BANK LIMIT.

Another suggested amendment would limit reserve banks in their discretion to checks drawn by banks, leaving the present collection system for personal checks unchanged.

The provision limiting the dividends to be paid by reserve banks to 6 per cent. may be increased to 6 and the provision that after the accumulation of a 50 per cent. surplus, all profits of the reserve banks except the dividends shall be distributed, 50 per cent. to the government and 40 per cent. to the stockholdings banks may be changed to give all the surplus profits to the government.

The problem of whether the Federal reserve banks are to be allowed to enter the open market or buy or rediscount commercial paper in competition with other banks to maintain the discount rate, also will be considered.

find your news columns ably conducted and safely guarded. If I had found this reputed transaction anywhere in your political columns instead of under the display heading giving the general summary of the stirring news from Mexico, I would have taken it as the exudation of a body surcharged with bile, and would have thought no more of it than to hope that the diseased corpus would feel better afterward; but to read it as news, duly accredited and vouched for by its position, when neither honor nor truth, was exasperating. The most charitable version of the matter possible is that the managing editor was still under the soporific influence of recent deep potations of zemzem, that the telegraph editor had gone on the house-top to get the latest signal from the Martians, that the make-up and foreman were trying conclusions over a game of chess with beer and skittles, and that the devil was allowed to put the paper to press in any old darn way.

And, speaking of President Wilson, you must admit, if you will own to the truth, that he has attempted to do no more than the people of the United States have expected him to do. True, he has impressed his strong personality upon the legislation of Congress, but it is an honor to the Representatives and Senators who have put upon the Federal statute books the most rational and equitable tariff law ever passed, to say that they were driven to it by the lashings of a dictator of Huerta's class. Champ Clark, Oscar W. Underwood and the scores of other strong men responsible for the legislation of the present session of Congress are not of that subservient type who would take orders from anyone for fear or favor. Royal Order of Scotland Holds Its Annual Banquet at Washington With About Two Hundred Attending—California Grand Master Filmer Arrives Late but Smiling.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The principal events of the Masonic gathering here today were the election of officers for the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite and the annual banquet of the Royal Order of Scotland, which was attended by about 200 members.

The officers below that of Lieutenant Grand Commander were moved up one place each, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Samuel E. Adams of Minnesota, the former Lieutenant Grand Commander, who died recently. The officers chosen this morning are: George F. Moore of Alabama, Lieutenant Grand Commander; former Senator Henry M. Teller of Colorado, Grand Prior; Charles E. Rosenbaum of Little Rock, Ark., Grand Chancellor; Charles F. Buck of Louisiana, Grand Minister of State.

This morning's session opened at 10 o'clock with practically the entire membership of the council in attendance. Intense interest is manifested in the coming announcement by the Supreme Council of its choice of Knight Commander, one of the most sought-for offices of the order. A list of successful candidates who received the thirty-third degree, will be announced by the council later in the week. The Knight Commander probably will be announced tomorrow.

Somewhat belated, but happy to arrive at last, Sovereign Grand Inspector-General William H. Filmer of San Francisco, the Grand Master of Masons of California, arrived here today for the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Masons. The Royal Order of Scotland conferred its degree on a large class. Tomorrow a number of Californians are to be honored, but their names are still being held in confidence. Between work and social pleasures the visiting members are having a busy time.

STATE GRANGE MEETS.

The Opening Sessions at San Jose Are Addressed by Prof. Hunt and Secretary Brooks.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, Oct. 21.—The opening of the session of the State Grange took place at 11 o'clock today, presided over by Worthy State Master E. T. Pettit of Cupertino, this county. A large number of delegates were present and this promises to be one of the biggest annual meetings of the State Grange held within recent years. This afternoon the report of the Worthy State Master was read on the year's work and this evening an open meeting was held at which Joseph T. Brooks, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, delivered an address of welcome, and Prof. Thomas F. Hunt of the college of agriculture of the University of California spoke on agriculture. A general reception followed.

Forest Fires in Vicinity of Zayante are Believed to Be Well Under Control.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 21.—Firefighters had a chance to rest today after a night of heavy fog, which caused a big improvement in the condition of the Zayante conflagration. Crews all along the fire trails from Mt. Hermon to Glenwood still are alert. The fire is believed to be under control.

SLOWLY SUBSIDES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, Oct. 21.—The greatest fire that ever entered the Santa Cruz Mountains is slowly burning itself out, hedged in by numerous fire trails. State Forester Homans reports this morning that the southward and westward progress of the flames has been stayed, except in a few small places where the danger is slight. In the vicinity of Scott's Valley the residences of John T. Smith and Paul Brandt were entirely destroyed, and Paul Kendall's home near Eccles and all its outbuildings were burned.

SULZER LEAVES STATE CAPITAL.

Deposed Governor Says Fight Has Just Begun.

Friends Will Go to New York to Start Campaign.

Wife Will Take the Stump for Her Husband.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY, (N. Y.) Oct. 21.—William Sulzer tonight departed from Albany in silence. Not a friend outside of his official family accompanied him to the railroad station. Not a cheer greeted him as, with his hat drawn over his eyes and his chin buried in his overcoat collar, he walked slowly down the platform and boarded his car—by coincidence named the "Empire State."

"I have no regrets," were his words. "If I had everything to do over again, I would do just as I have done. My fight has just begun."

Half a dozen of his advisers will follow him to New York tomorrow to aid him in starting his fight for the Assembly.

Plans for the campaign were drawn up tonight at the last meal the impeached Governor ate in the executive mansion. Among his guests was James C. Garrison, who, owing to his criticism of some of the anti-Sulzer Assemblymen, brought himself into contempt of the Assembly and has spent the last month in the Albany County Penitentiary. He was released today by Judge Cochrane at Hudson into the custody of his counsel until next Friday. Garrison plans to participate in the Sulzer campaign if he is not remanded to prison.

"I'm going back to New York," Mrs. Sulzer said smilingly, "and I cannot say that I am sorry."

WIFE COULD TELL THINGS.

Asked about a rumor that she would speak from the same platform with her husband in the campaign, she said she had no such plans, but was willing to do it.

"If I am asked, you bet I will," she declared. "I could tell some things that would be interesting."

News that Sulzer was on the train spread quickly and a curious throng of passengers streamed back through the coaches to see him. He appeared not to notice them.

What will be the outcome of William Sulzer's race for the Legislature? This will be the question foremost in the minds of the politicians around the Capitol. It was generally agreed that he would make a great deal of trouble for the organization in New York. His fire will be directed especially against Aaron J. Levy, who is a candidate for municipal judge, and Alfred B. Smith, the Speaker of the Assembly, who seeks to succeed himself. Even Sulzer's worst political foes virtually concede him victory in his own Assembly district. The question which caused great speculation, however, was how many votes Sulzer would be able to swing for his Speakership candidacy in case of his election.

The consensus of opinion was that the next Assembly would be divided among the parties, and if this prediction is true, and if Sulzer is able to muster the undivided support of his faction and a few insurgents from other quarters, he would prove a big factor in the race. A majority of the Assembly is required to elect a Speaker and only a landslide for one party can prevent a long deadlock if Sulzer wins.

Speculation was rife as to just what Tammany would do in the fight. It is known that all of the unused evidence in the impeachment trial is in the hands of the Tammany leaders and rumor has it that this material soon would appear in phamphlet form for general distribution.

MRS. M'KENNA IMPROVING. RECOVERS FROM APPENDICITIS.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Joseph McKenna, formerly of California, wife of Justice McKenna of the Supreme Court of the United States, has been reported by her physicians to be rapidly recovering from an attack of appendicitis from which she has been suffering at the Providence Hospital. Mrs. McKenna will be able to leave the hospital later this week.

SHAKE CLENCHED FISTS AT DOOR OF TAMMANY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—William Sulzer got a noisy reception here tonight on his arrival from Albany. The route the automobiles took to reach the East Side led past Tammany Hall in Fourteenth street. The chauffeur of the Sulzer car brought the machine to a stop. Other automobiles gathered close around and traffic stood still while a dramatic demonstration ensued, one so noisy that policemen for blocks around came running to the scene to learn the cause.

Crowds gathered. Frantic men, Sulzer enthusiasts, leaped from their automobiles, ran to Tammany's doors and shook their clenched fists at the famous political headquarters. Mr. and Mrs. Sulzer glanced once at the building, then turned their heads away, facing front until the demonstration ended and the cavalcade of cars moved on. The former Governor's face was set grimly as he listened to the cheers given him.

Through the East Side people thronged fire escapes and roofs and hung over window sills, shouting greetings to their Assembly nominee. In front of Progressive headquarters, where the demonstration reached its height, Mr. and Mrs. Sulzer stood up while the car rolled down the street.

Finally, to stop the noise, Mr. Sulzer stepped upon the seat and waved his black soft hat.

"Friends, I have come back home—" he began, brokenly, and another demonstration took place before he could continue. He recalled to them that he had represented the district five years in the Assembly and eighteen years in Congress.

"I want to go back to Albany to represent you and not Mr. Murphy," he went on, "to represent the people and not my bosses who removed me because I stood by the people and I know that the people are going to stand by me.

"My heart is too full tonight to talk further, but I shall be back again tomorrow night to tell you things that will make you blush with shame for the citizenship of the State which is in the clutches of a corrupt, cruel, relentless and arrogant boss who says he will destroy you if you do not do his bidding."

"Gracias" To Wilson

arms against Spain and the presence of the American flag first on Manila Bay and then in the interior of the archipelago did not modify, but rather encouraged and strengthened, the aspiration despite all the reverses suffered in war and difficulties encountered in peace.

"Being called to the ballot box, the people again and again ratified this aspiration and since the inauguration of the Philippine Assembly, the national representative body has been acting in accordance with the popular will only; thus in the midst of most adverse circumstances the ideal of the people never wavered and we respectfully and frankly brought before the powers of the sovereign country on every propitious occasion our needs. On the other hand our faith in the justice of the American people was as great and persistent as our ideal. We have waited in patience confident that sooner or latter all errors and injustices would be redressed.

"The message of the President of the United States to the Filipino people is eloquent proof that we have not waited in vain. We accept said message with love and gratitude and consider it a categorical declaration of the purpose of the nation to recognize the independence of the islands. The immediate step of granting us a majority on the commission places in our hands the instruments of power and responsibility for the establishment by ourselves of a stable Filipino government.

"We fully appreciate and are deeply grateful for the confidence reposed in us by the government of the United States. We look upon the appointment of Francis Burton Harrison as Governor-General as the unmistakable harbinger of the new era in which we expect the attitude of the people to be one of co-operation and finally we believe happily the experiments of imperialism have come to an end and that colonial exploitation has passed into history.

"The epoch of mistrust has been closed and the Filipinos, upon having thrown open to them the doors of opportunity are required to assume the burden of responsibility which it would be inexcusable cowardice on their part to avoid or decline. Owing to this, a few days have sufficed to bring about a good understanding between Americans and Filipinos, which it had been impossible to establish in the last thirteen years.

"We are convinced that every onward step, while relieving the American government of its responsibilities in the islands, will as in the past, fully demonstrate the present capacity of the Filipino people to establish a government of its own and guarantee in a permanent manner the safety under such government of the life, property and liberty of the residents of the islands, national as well as foreign.

"We do not wish to say by this that there will be difficulties and embarrassments, nor do we even expect that the campaign open or concealed, of the enemies of the Filipino cause, will cease soon, but we feel sure that through a conservative use of the powers entrusted to us, the Filipino people, will with God's favor and the help of America, emerge triumphantly from the test, however difficult it may be."

SLAVERY QUESTION.

President Wilson's appointment of four native Filipinos to the Philippine commission will not be confirmed by the Senate until assurances have been given that the new officials will use their utmost efforts to stamp out slavery in the islands. Senator Borah has made it known that he will use every effort to prevent confirmation unless he is assured of their attitude.

SUCCEEDS LEECH.

Edward E. Gessler, craftsman instructor in the public printing office of the Philippines, has been appointed to serve temporarily as director of printing to succeed John S. Leech, who resigned at the request of Gov.-Gen. Harrison. James Hoggsette, assistant director, also has been removed.

Leech and Hoggsette ignored Gov.-Gen. Harrison in sending to President Wilson and to the President of the Typographical Union in the United States, a protest against an alleged contemplated salary cut. Officials here said no such cut was contemplated.

This Leaves the Skin Smooth and Hairless

(Boudoir Secrets)

The electric needle for removing hairy or fuzzy growths is fast falling into disfavor among beauty specialists, because quicker and better results are obtained with the aid of a paste made by stirring together a little powdered delatone and water. This is applied on the hairs not wanted and in 2 minutes rubbed off, and with it comes every trace of hair. The skin should then be washed to remove the remaining paste and it will be left smooth and spotless. Buy delatone in original packages only.—[Advertisement.

IT seems like pretty smooth sailing, when you get a clear line and have a telephone talk with a party in another city a thousand miles away.

You see nothing of the wonderful switchboards where skillful operators handle your call and the lines are "hooked up" to give your talk the right of way over two thousand miles of copper wire, guarded every inch of the way from all kinds of interference.

You scarcely realize that during every moment of your thousand-mile telephone talk, telephone apparatus and plant valued at from $150,000 to $200,000 are at your exclusive service.

In the Bell Telephone System 26,000,000 connections are made daily, giving clear tracks for the telephone talk of the nation and requiring over one billion dollars' worth of telephone equipment.

BIBLICAL PLEA FREES WATSON.

PRESIDENTIAL "ALSO RAN" HAS INDICTMENT DISMISSED.

Charged With Sending Objectionable Matter Through Mails He Declares "Good Book" Offensive if Only Certain Passages Are Selected.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUGUSTA (Ga.) Oct. 21.—Holding that the indictment charging Thomas E. Watson, editor-author and once Presidential candidate of the Populist party, with sending obscene matter through the mails was illegal, Federal Judge Rufus E. Foster today ordered the case thrown out of court.

When the judge announced his ruling the spectators broke into cheering.

It was solely upon the contention raised by Watson himself that the court ordered the case dismissed. Extended argument on the motion had been made by S. G. McLendon of defendant's counsel, when the defendant asked permission to present "other phases of the matter."

Watson addressed the court briefly, laying stress upon his claim that the indictment should not select certain passages of the article written by him, but should include the entire matter. He said that unless this were true it would be possible to indict persons mailing copies of the Bible or the Criminal Code of Georgia.

Argument against the motion by Dist.-Atty. Alexander Akerman was limited to a defense of the government's position that the indictment need merely indicate the alleged obscene passages and not the entire article.

In directing that the indictment be quashed, Judge Foster said:

"It appears in this indictment that the publications alleged to have been sent through the mails in violation of the law are extracts from a complete article. It is my opinion that the government is required to plead the entire article and is not entitled to pick out a few paragraphs here and there."

Judge Foster said that, in sustaining the motion of the defense, he was not ruling on the question as to whether or not the articles were obscene, and that the government might at any time proceed to reindict.

Episcopal Convention Advised to Separate Races.

Distinct Establishment Is Advocated in South.

Heated Debate on Question Not Yet Finished.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A heated debate over the negro question in the South enlivened the deliberations of the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal Church at today's session of the general conference. The majority report with recommendations against the proposal to establish separate churches, dioceses, clergy and bishops for southern negroes, was presented. A minority report advocating the separation of the races and the appointment of negro bishops to sit in the house of bishops with powers equal to the whites, also was presented. The house made considerable of both resolutions the order of business for the afternoon session tomorrow.

DIVORCE EVIL.

The divorces question came up again in the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church today, the house of deputies by resolution deciding to co-operate with "the International Committee on Marriage and Divorce," in arranging for an international congress to deal with the subject. The congress is to be held in May, 1915, at the Panama Exposition in San Francisco, for the purpose, in the language of the resolution, "of awakening the conscience of the American people towards the great evil of divorce and remarriage." The resolution was adopted.

Before the open meeting today, the deputies, in executive session, concurred in the selection of the five missionary bishops chosen by the house of bishops yesterday.

A resolution introduced several days ago by the Rev. Dr. Freeman, deputy from Minnesota, intended to further religious training in the public schools, was adopted by the house of deputies. Both this resolution and that on marriage and divorce must be concurred in by the house of bishops, before becoming effective.

The Committee on Prayer Book reported favorably on the proposal that the phrase "all Jews, Turks, heretics and infidels" be made to read "all those who know Thee not through the gospel of Thy son." The house voted favorably on this change.

A loss of more than 16,000 pupils within the last three years, from the Sunday-schools of the church in the United States, was reported to the convention by the Committee on the State of the Church.

MONDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

FIVE NEW BISHOPS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Five missionary bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church were elected today by the house of bishops at the general convention. They are: Bishop of North Dakota, Hugh Burleson of New York City; bishop of Spokane, W. B. Capers of Columbia, Tenn.; bishop of Cuba, Marlow H. Gates of New York City; bishop of New Mexico, D. C. Howden of Georgetown, B. C.

The Very Rev. Charles Blaney Colmore, dean of the Cathedral at Havana, Cuba, was selected bishop of Porto Rico. This missionary district includes Hayti and Santo Domingo.

The action of the house of bishops must be ratified by the house of deputies before the new bishops are appointed, but it is practically certain that the choice made by the former body will be allowed to stand.

Dr. Burleson, chosen for bishop of North Dakota, is secretary of the church board of missions, with headquarters in this city. Dr. Capers is principal of the Columbia Institute for Girls at Columbia, Tenn. Dr. Mile P. Gates is vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession of New York. Dr. Howden is rector of St. John's Church at Georgetown.

The Protestant Episcopal church in general convention was called on today to demand a more equitable distribution of wealth and a just return for the worker.

RADICAL RESOLUTION.

A resolution to this effect introduced in the house of deputies by Rathborne Gardner, a delegate from Providence, R. I., was one of the most radical the convention has had to deal with along this line. The deputies voted down a request to consider the resolution immediately and it was referred to the Committee on Social Service.

Mr. Gardner's social service measure aroused comment by its unsparing denunciation of present social conditions.

"The most disproportionate inequalities and glaring injustices" it said, "as well as misunderstandings, prejudice and hatred as between employer and employee, are widespread in our social and industrial life."

The house of deputies adopted a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to make a general investigation of business methods of the church and recommend reforms at the next convention.

PROPOSED PENSION SYSTEM.

The house of deputies considered the support of its clergymen. A pension plan was submitted by Monell Sayre of New York. A resolution was adopted continuing the commission with power to become a corporation and put into operation a pension system covering the entire territory of the Episcopal church. The maximum pension will be $2000 a year and the minimum $500.

It was stated authoritatively today that the general convention, which was to have closed next Saturday, will continue into the following week, owing to the amount of important legislation yet to be considered.

Reports for Congregational Convention Include Important Suggestions on Prohibition Campaign.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Oct. 21.—The commission of nineteen that has prepared a new constitution for the National Council of Congregational Churches, which will convene here tomorrow in triennial session, held its final meeting preparatory to presenting its report here this afternoon. The draft contains among other changes a new doctrinal statement, since the convention in Boston three years ago.

One of the important reports to be presented is that of the committee on temperance appointed three years ago to draw up a statement of the church's attitude on the liquor question. Members of the committee, while refusing to give out the report, declared it contained a number of drastic suggestions that placed the church at the head of a national movement to eliminate the liquor traffic.

APPOINT BATCH OF POSTMASTERS

But Hungry Office-Seekers Are Still Dissatisfied.

Looks Like Cruel Joke on California Democrats.

All Passed Examinations in the Civil Service.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Can it be that the Post Office Department, in promising to appoint fifteen or twenty postmasters this week, was jesting with the hungry office-seekers in California, or did it merely try to secure things with Congressman Raker, who is peeved because he has neither been consulted regarding patronage matters in his own district nor been given one of the good Federal jobs which he was supposed to be slated for? Perhaps it has done neither the one nor the other, but it is a fact that today handed down a list of twenty appointments of postmasters, most of whom are in Raker's district. And that there is no patronage in the land is evidenced by the fact that seven of them is appointed under the May 7, 1913," which means that have passed the civil service examination for postmasters, and nearly all of the twenty are reappointed.

If, indeed, this is what First Assistant Postmaster-General Roper had in mind when he said that a lot of postmasters would be appointed in California, then the faithful in California have good reason to wring their hands. However, it may be that it is not a cruel joke on the followers of Thomas Jefferson and Woodrow Wilson and that as soon as the referee, A. Caminetti, has time to put his O. K. on the waiting list it will be duly promulgated. Until then no one is known the candidates may as well lay in a stock of new corncob pipes, patience and write another letter to Caminetti.

FOX "OUT" OF POLITICS.

Sacramento Postmaster Resigns from the Democratic County Central Committee.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At a meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee, to be held the latter part of the week, the resignation of Thomas H. Fox, postmaster of Sacramento, will be accepted. The resignation of Fox is the latest boss has been in the habit of committee for almost three years. Its acceptance will subscribe to the prediction made by the Times-Union several weeks ago that Fox is out of politics in California.

The postmaster admitted this fact tonight when he stated emphatically that he is out of politics and that he does not desire to have his name mentioned further in a political way. Fox said:

"I'm out of politics. It is true that my resignation has been in the hands of the Democratic County Central Committee for more than two months. I do not know when it will be accepted. I hope it will be accepted. I don't know when it will be accepted. George Thomas, possibly Vice-Chairman of the committee, can tell. It is in his power to call a meeting of the committee. When the matter of my resignation will be taken up at the meeting or not I am unable to say, but the committee will confer a favor on me by relieving me of my duties as chairman as quickly as possible."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DEDHAM (Mass.) Oct. 21.—Although Fred Williams was selected today by President Wilson as minister to Greece as a recognition of his loyalty to the Democratic party, he declared tonight that he would rather have been followed to the polls in November by Democratic voters than to be appointed minister to Greece.

Williams made no secret of the fact that he long has been a student of Athenian democracy.

Widow Had "Lover" in Chicago, Witness Testifies.

Defense Attempts to Prove Victim a Poisoner.

Trip to Panama Planned Prior to the Tragedy.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 21.—A reference to a "wealthy lover in Chicago," who alienated Mrs. Jennie May Eaton to her husband, was introduced today by the prosecution as showing a possible motive in the trial of Mrs. Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph Eaton.

The evidence was given in the testimony of Mrs. Marshall Bursey of Washington, D. C., who said that some months before the death of the admiral Mrs. Eaton told her of the lover's man, and his proposal. His name was not disclosed.

Mrs. Eaton told the witness that Admiral Eaton had attacked her several times at night and at one time awoke to find him injecting medicine into her arm.

Mrs. Eaton also said, according to Mrs. Bursey, that she was going to have the admiral examined by an expert and if he was found to be insane, have him put away.

CLERK TESTIFIES.

Miss Sarah H. Ducher, a clerk in the investigating bureau of children guardians in Washington, said that she was calling the attention of the Juvenile Court to a case of a child who was not receiving proper attention, at an orphanage, Mrs. Eaton asked her to destroy all the records of the case, saying that her name was known and that she was the grandmother of the child. Later Mrs. Eaton used several other names, and finally admitted that she was the wife of a naval officer. The case finally was reported and Mrs. Eaton took the child.

Miss Ducher tried to trail her husband's footsteps by scattering talcum powder on the attic stairs which was described by Frank S. Boota, a Rockland optician.

"Mrs. Eaton told me that her husband had tried to poison her," testified Boota. "She said she thought he had hidden poison in the attic and that she had searched for it but could not find any. Then she told me she scattered talcum powder on the steps leading to the attic in the hope of seeing his footprints. Her trap failed."

Dist. Atty. Barker said that the case probably would rest its case tomorrow, after five more witnesses have been examined.

PLANNED PANAMA TRIP.

Conditions in the household of Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, prior to his death last March were described by witnesses. A month before his death Admiral Eaton was planning to take Mrs. Eaton with him on a trip to Panama, according to Samuel W. Baker, a Rockland optician.

Mrs. Eaton asked Baker to assist her in having the admiral committed to an insane asylum, he said, and explained that her husband was insane; that poisons and drugs and medicines in the household would cause the death of members of the household.

MARRIAGE SURPRISES DENVER.

Daughter of the Just Divorced Mrs. Hume Lewis to Wed Scion of Rich Ohio Steel Family.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Oct. 21. — [Exclusive Dispatch.] Smart society and Denver's business circles received with surprise the reported marriage in Los Angeles last week of Mrs. Dan Farrington Clark, who divorced her husband, Otis B. Clark, a few days ago, to Hume Lewis, a clubman and a member of the brokerage firm of Boettcher, Porter & Co. of this city.

Mrs. Lewis's partners nor his friends, Lawrence, have been informed of the marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were both prominent in society. They were married in Louisville, Ky., where her parents reside.

This is her first marriage to Farrington Clark. After a brief courtship and after a divorce was granted to Clark, they were married. On October 1 Clark was granted a divorce on the ground of cruelty. Clark did not contest the action. Mrs. Clark and Lewis left Denver when the decree was granted, without taking any one into their confidence as to their matrimonial intentions.

Lewis, prior to engaging in the brokerage business, was a newspaper man. He was a member of the State Legislature from Pueblo county and was for several years as secretary of the State Democratic Committee. He is president of the Denver Bond Dealers' Association.

Italy's Government Will Send Two Special Experts to Attend Opening of the Panama Canal.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 21.—It is understood that the Russian admiralty will send one or two naval officers to attend the opening of the Panama Canal, probably at the government at the request of Napoleone, formerly naval attaché at Washington, or his predecessor, Commander Boutakoff, or both of these officers.

The question of sending warships to participate in the celebration appears not to have been entertained.

APPOINT BATCH OF POSTMASTERS

But Hungry Office-Seekers Are Still Dissatisfied.

Looks Like Cruel Joke on California Democrats.

All Passed Examinations in the Civil Service.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Can it be that the Postoffice Department, in promising to name fifteen or twenty postmasters this week, was jesting with the hungry office-seekers in California, or did it merely try to secure things with Congressman Raker, who is peeved because he has neither been consulted regarding patronage matters in his district nor been given one of the good Federal jobs which he was supposed to be slated for? Perhaps it is done neither the one nor the other, but it is a fact that today it handed down a list of twenty appointments of postmasters, most of whom are in Baker's district. And that there is no patronage in the batch is evidenced by the fact that every one of them is appointed under Order No. 7, 1913," which means that they have passed the civil service examination for postmasters, and nearly all of the twenty are reappointed.

If, indeed, this is what First Assistant Postmaster-General Roper had in mind when he said that a lot of postmasters would be appointed the next California, then the faithful in California have good reason to wail and gnash their hands. However, it may be that it is not a cruel joke at all. Members of Thomas Jefferson and Woodrow Wilson and that as soon as the Taft brothers, A. Cannimetti, has time to get to O. K. on the waiting list, it will be duly promulgated. Until the week is known the candidates may as well put in a stock of new courage and patience and write another letter to Cannimetti.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The New York Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution approving in the main the currency act now before Congress, but suggesting several amendments. One was the reduction of the number of Federal reserve banks to not succeed four, with power to operate branches in their own districts.

Another suggested that membership in the Federal reserve banks be "made of such importance to the national banks that it need not be made compulsory."

A third recommended that existing bank notes be retired as promptly as possible by the purchase by the government at par of outstanding 2 per cent. bonds or by some equitable arrangement by which the Federal reserve banks would take over these bonds from the national banks.

The fourth amendment proposed that not more than five members of the Federal Reserve Board snould be appointed by the president; the fifth that the Federal reserve notes be issued by the Federal reserve banks without guarantees by the government.

New Orleans Police Arrest Visalia Man With Two Trunks of Jewelry in His Possession.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eugene C. Wangard, wanted in California for the alleged theft of many thousands of dollars' worth of jewelry, was arrested here yesterday. Wangard admitted his identity and that he had traveled under the aliases Sherman and Schewhman. When searched at police headquarters, $418 in cash, nine diamond rings and a diamond stickpin were found on his person. He admits that he has two trunks at the Union Depot with thousands of dollars' worth of jewelry in them. He also had tickets for rings pawned in San Francisco and Oklahoma City for $500.

"I had a store out in Dinuba, Cal.," Wangard said. "I bought the jewelry on credit and left. I didn't know that I laid myself open to criminal proceedings. I don't know just how much I got away with."

Local police received a request from Sheriff Collins of Visalia, Cal., asking them to arraign Wangard.

UNSUSPECTED AT VISALIA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VISALIA, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Word reached the Sheriff's office last evening of the arrest at New Orleans of Eugene C. Wangard, a prominent jeweler of Dinuba, who has been missing for the past week. Until the receipt of a telegram stating that thousands of dollars' worth of jewelry was found in the man's trunks, it was not known that he was to be suspected of any crime other than issuing checks without funds in bank. A warrant to that effect was sworn out in the District Attorney's office today.

The finding of the jewelry has led the officers to believe that this was property taken on consignment from San Francisco and eastern houses. No estimate can be placed on its value nor has it been ascertained by whom the jewelry was consigned.

Before his departure, Wangard issued several checks from $5 to $45, all of which were drawn on the United States National Bank of Dinuba, with which he at one time had an account. One the day following his sudden departure, notices were found posted on the window to the effect that he expected to return in two days. The man was not suspected of wrongdoing until today.

TWENTY-ONE CONSTANT JOBS.

Director of Vocational Guidance Conference Gives List of the Continuous Occupations.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) Oct. 21.—With nearly 1000 delegates in attendance the Vocational Guidance conference began its third annual meeting here tonight.

The larger social, economic and educational bearings of vocational guidance was the theme of Owen R. Lovejoy, secretary of the National Child Labor Committee; Dr. Leonard P. Ayres, director of education, Russell Sage foundation, and Prof. George Mead of the University of Chicago were the speakers at the opening session.

Out of 9000 different ways in which Americans gain a livelihood, occupations that can truly be termed "constant occupations" only number twenty-one, said Dr. Ayres, whose statements were part of the public announcement of the findings of an investigation of vocational guidance, that the Russell Sage foundation has been carrying on for the last six months.

Studies carried on in seventy-eight American school systems, he said, showed that upon reaching the end of the compulsory education period, one-half of the children in the public schools are in the sixth grade or below.

Making a plea for the child and declaring that he should be regarded as a ward of the State, Mr. Lovejoy said:

"Let us insist that the industries offering valuable training to children shall become an adjunct of the schools.

"Let us insist that the child's future usefulness, not the present balance sheet, shall be the measure of the success of this guidance into vocations and let us resist every scheme to make the labor of children a makeshift to maintain themselves or their families."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A month ago Andrew Mandanis found a purse containing $2000 in cash at the local railroad station. Since then he has conducted a nation-wide search for the owner. Yesterday he received a letter from W. I. McCleary of San Bernardino, Cal., stating that he was the owner of the money and asking that it be sent him. McCleary inclosed four cents in stamps. Mandanis contributed six cents and sent the money by registered mail.

Mandanis is now trying to convince himself that honesty is the best policy.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—A report issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission today on the accident on the Big Four Railway at Stockwell, Ind., on January 7, last, in which one passenger was killed and sixty-six passengers and four employees injured, shows that the disaster was due to a broken wheel on the baggage car.

The report commented on the "alarming frequency of accidents due to defective wheels," and suggested that an adequate system of wheel inspection be adopted and that no worn wheels be continued in service.

INCREASES DUTY TO PAY SOLDIERS

Mexican Tariff Law Will Be Great Aid to Huerta.

Gen. Felix Diaz Will Arrive Today at Vera Cruz.

Expects to Attend Banquet, Then Go to Capital.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The law increasing duties 50 per cent. on all imported goods will take effect October 28, and is expected to produce sufficient funds to support an army of 90,000 soldiers and all other obligations while the European loan of $200,000,000, is being arranged.

Col. Inowye, related to distinguished Japanese families, arrived yesterday, to occupy the post ofmilitary attache to the Japanese Legation.

Thomas Barrette and William Tiendel, managers of the Cinco mines at Jalisco, were wantonly murdered a few day ago by miners. The murderers were captured and executed by rurales. All Americans hurriedly left the camp for protection in Guadalajara. Details just arrived from the mines, which are the property of Marcus Daly, Estole Company, New York. Troops were rushed to the scene of trouble.

Twenty citizens were arrested yesterday in Monterey, charged with being in a plot to capture the city and murder Gov.-Gen. Iberri. Prominent among those arrested were Daniel Madero, Andres Dagullar, Antonio de la Paz Guerra, and twenty more, who are now en route to this city under military escort, for trial. It is reported Paz Guerra will receive severe punishment, as he has always been a disturbing element to established government.

Telegrams tonight announce Felix Diaz will arrive at Vera Cruz tomorrow, where he will be given a grand banquet of over a thousand covers. After the banquet, he, in the company of friends, will come in special train to Mexico. The government announces that precautions have been taken to guarantee free elections, without any disorders, next Sunday.

DIAZ TO LAND TODAY.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 21.—Gen. Felix Diaz, candidate for the Mexican Presidency, who now is on his way to Vera Cruz, aboard the steamer Corcovado, will be permitted to land tomorrow morning. But there must be no demonstrations. This is the order received from the capital.

A small army of detectives is here and troops are held in quarters. Should the enthusiasm of the Diaz partisans outweigh their judgment, and, in the opinion of the authorities, the peace of the city be thereby disturbed, the soldiers and police have orders to shoot.

Col. Vidaurrazaga, secretary to Gen. Blanquet, the Minister of War, is aboard the gunboat Zaragoza. The gunboat has steam up and, unless the orders are changed, will run alongside the Corcovado before she docks. Col. Vidaurrazaga will request Gen. Diaz to counsel his partisans to maintain good order and in return for such a promise, will assure Gen. Diaz that he will receive guarantees for his protection.

The Corcovado is not expected to dock before morning. She is a German boat and following close behind is the German gunboat Hertha.

BATTLE REPORTED NEAR MONTEREY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Fighting is reported west of Monterey, Mex., preliminary it is understood, to an attack on the city, an important center now held by Federals. Orders were issued from the Mexican military headquarters at Nuevo Laredo tonight to Gen. Navarrette, stationed at Lampazos, to hasten to Monterey, 100 miles south.

Whether an election is held in the State of Coahuila, Mex., next Sunday depends on the success of Gen. Joaquin Maas, the recently-appointed Governor of Coahuila, and 1000 Mexican government troops under Gen. Telles in reaching Saltillo, the State capital. The expedition is expected to leave Nuevo Laredo early tomorrow. Unless Maas reaches Saltillo in time to issue his proclamation Saturday, there can be no election Sunday.

Saltillo is 225 miles south of the border. It is anticipated that several rebel bands will offer formidable opposition to the Federals' progress.

DISCOUNT TO IMPORTERS.

GEN. HUERTA MAKES OFFER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WAHINGTON, Oct. 21.—In connection with the 50 per cent. increase of the customs duties on imports into Mexico, Gen. Huerta, seeking to obtain ready money, has offered to allow importers a 10 per cent. discount on certificates good in payment of such duties if they are issued between October 28 and November 6.

DIAZ MAY WITHDRAW.

ADHERENTS SO BELIEVE.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 21.—The candidacy of Gen. Huerta for President and Gen. Blanquet for Vice-President at the Mexican elections was announced in unsigned handbills which were distributed here today.

Jose Luis Requenal, candidate for the Vice-Presidency with Gen. Felix Diaz, who will arrive here tomorrow, believes that the Diaz ticket will be withdrawn. Requenal will confer tomorrow with Gen. Diaz on this subject.

Adherents of Gen. Diaz profess to have information that the State officials throughout that part of the republic controlled by the present government have agreed to favor the Huerta-Blanquet ticket and consider it probable that Diaz readily will agree with them that under such circumstances competition would be useless.

Gen. Diaz in a wireless message received tonight announced his intention of remaining here tomorrow and proceeding to Mexico City on Thursday.

GOES TO PEOPLE FOR SUPPORT.

Washington Is Alarmed by Menocal Manifesto.

Fears Struggle Will Extend to Regular Session.

Cuban Liberals to Continue Fight Against Loan.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

HAVANA, Oct. 21.—Intense interest attaches to the probable effect of President Menocal's manifesto regarding the obstructionist policy of the Liberals in preventing a quorum at the extraordinary session of Congress, with the object of withholding authorization for a new loan of $15,000,000.

A majority of newspapers accord to President Menocal the highest praise for his "patriotic action" and predict that the Cuban people will rally to his support. In political circles fears are expressed that the manifesto will not have the effect of compelling the attendance of a quorum and that there is also a possibility that the struggle may extend to the regular session, which will begin November 3.

The Executive Committee of the Liberal party has agreed unanimously to approve the conduct of the Senators and Representatives who have failed to attend the sessions of Congress, on the ground that the Presidential call was illegal and has also appointed a committee to prepare a manifesto in reply to that issued by the President. The Liberals express their determination to continue their obstructive tactics and defeat the loan.

In consequence of the refusal of Congress to convene, Menocal issued an appeal to the Cuban people declaring that he may be compelled to have recourse to extraordinary measures in the event of continued obstinacy on the part of the Congress.

WASHINGTON DISTURBED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—State Department officials were concerned tonight over the situation which has arisen in Havana as a result of the refusal of the Cuban Congress to convene in extraordinary session to consider the proposed foreign loan. There was much speculation as to what the Executive can do if his Congress continues to refuse to come together.

The presence of two-thirds of both houses is required under the Cuban Constitution in order to convene Congress and there is no provision for the arrest of enough absentees to constitute a quorum, as may be done under the American Constitution. Officials here are at a loss to know what means Gen. Menocal can employ in carrying out the drastic action which his pronucement earlier today indicates he deems necessary.

No statement of the attitude of the American State Department was made known, although the United States several months ago, under the authority vested in it by the Platt amendment, received from President Menocal a request for permission to negotiate the loan and accede to the proposition.

ROOSEVELT IN BRAZIL.

President of the Republic Unable to Be on Hand Sends a Man to Meet the Colonel.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

RIO JANEIRO, Oct. 21.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt was received with military honors as he stepped ashore from the steamer Van Dyck here today.

Edwin Morgan, United States Ambassador to Brazil, with the staff of the embassy, went on board before the vessel docked, with a Reception Committee, including Barros Morezia, representing the Ministry of Foreign Affairs; Lieut.-Col Achilles de Perneiras, Brazilian attache at Washington; Don Jose Carlos Rodrigues, Admiral Antonio Coutancho Gomez Pereira and Antonio Olyntho de Magalhaes of the historical institute.

The party disembarked at 8:30 on the naval arsenal quay, where a company of soldiers saluted while bands played the Brazilian and American national anthems. Several committees presented bouquets of flowers to Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Margaret Roosevelt.

Marshal Hermes Fonseca, President of the republic, was unable to be present, but sent a special representative.

Col. Roosevelt paid his respects to the President of the republic in a lengthy visit. The meeting was most cordial. He then called on Dr. Lauro Muller, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and together they inspected the port and the avenues for which Brazil is noted.

The official programme for the entertainment of the nation's guest probably will keep Col. Roosevelt busy during his stay here. Tomorrow he will be guest of the President at a breakfast. Later he will visit the military college and speak before the Young Men's Christian Association. In the evening he will attend a performance at the Municipal Theater.

Thursday Roosevelt will visit Oswald Cruz Institute of Pathology and Bacteriology, and will be the guest of honor at a reception given by the American Ambassador and the North American colony.

Friday the party will drive to Tijuca, on the outskirts of the city. This drive has been arranged by a committee of the Senate and the chamber and a breakfast will be given under the same auspices. Dr. Lauro Muller's garden party will be held the same afternoon at the botanical garden, and in the evening Col. Roosevelt will deliver an address before the Historical Society.

Saturday will be given over to sightseeing around the bay and a visit to the naval school. Sunday Roosevelt will motor to Petropolis, the German colony, twenty miles from Rio, and the same day will leave for Sao Paulo.

EMIGRATION WEAKENS ARMY.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

VIENNA (Austria) Oct. 21.—The Austrian government as the result of recent developments in the immigration traffic from Austria to the United States and Canada, introduced into the lower house of the Austrian Parliament a bill prohibiting "any emigration likely to have an adverse effect on military recruiting in Austria." The bill introduced today also prohibits "emigration calculated to promote the white slave trade."

The fleet will celebrate the completion of the Panama Canal by making a voyage to the Pacific through the new waterway.

HUMPHRIES ADVISES JURORS.

Judge Tells Them to Keep Straight as the Attorneys May Put Detectives on Their Trail.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Oct. 21.—Trial of the suit of William Topping of Ashland, Ohio, for $40,000 damages against the Great Northern Railroad because of the death of his father, Edward Topping, who was one of the ninety-three persons killed by a snow slide, 100 miles from Seattle, March 1, 1910, was begun today in Superior Judge John E. Humphries's court. This is a test case to determine the liability of the railroad for the deaths.

Judge Humphries delivered a long address to the jury today in which he said: "Don't go crooked because you will be watched, maybe. I don't says the attorneys on either side will employ detectives to watch you, but they may do it, and if any of you are seen taking to anybody about this case you will be caught up with."

At this point attorneys for both sides arose and disclaimed any desire to employ detectives to watch the jury.

"Well, well," continued the court, "these lawyers are perfect gentlemen all right, but still you musn't talk."

SAN FRANCISCO DECORATED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—San Francisco, with its elaborate street decorations, is prepared tonight for the four-day programme that will begin tomorrow when the Potola festival is opened. Thousands of visitors are arriving tonight, and arrangements are being made to accommodate a crowd that it is believed will approach the 100,000 mark.

The city's principal streets and business houses are gaily decorated with American flags, lights and the Portola colors, red and yellow. The electrical illuminations, which have required weeks to install, are ready for the current, which will be turned on tomorrow night.

Interest tomorrow will center on the arrival of Balboa, who will enter the Golden Gate with his retinue. He will be escorted through the city by a big military parade, ending at Union Square, where he will be made consort of Queen Conchita. A message borne by fifty-three boys in a big land and water relay race from Sacramento will be delivered tomorrow.

WILL ELIMINATE DEATH CURVE.

Dangerous Curve at Cucamonga a Passing Danger.

Water Company Donates Land for New Park.

Sergeant Macklin Shot While Arranging a Target.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 21.—"Death curve" at Cucamonga on the Foothill boulevard, is to be completely eliminated when the State highway is completed along the foothill route. This point is probably the most dangerous spot on the entire boulevard, but rights of way have been secured by the county, straightening out the road and completely doing away with the curve.

The State Highway Commission has called for bids on that portion of the foothill route from Fontana to Upland, a little more than ten miles, to be opened November 17 at Sacramento. The first section of the road west from San Bernardino city is now under construction.

Contracts for six bridges on the Foothill boulevard between this city and Upland have been awarded by the Supervisors, five of them to Oscar Parlier and the sixth to H. C. Klusman.

NEW PARK DONATED.

About ten acres of land on and near East Third street near A street, have been donated to the city for park purposes by the Riverside Water Company, which has been disposing of a lot of its realty interests in this vicinity, finding they are needed no longer for water purposes. The land is almost opposite Meadowbrook Park, a portion of which was given the city some years ago by the water company.

The city is making plans for the extension of Court street through the newly acquired park property, making a boulevard along the banks of Warm Creek, which traverses the land from end to end.

Y.W.C.A. ORGANIZED.

Looking forward to the acceptance of the offer of Col. R. M. Baker, of his residence property at Arrowhead avenue and Fifth street for a site for a Y.W.C.A., ladies representing most of the city churches have organized an association with Mrs. J. W. Barton as president, and a board of directors, composed of Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Victor Smith, Mrs. R. F. Garner, Mrs. James Fleming, Miss Mary Barton, Mrs. J. W. Curtis and Mrs. F. Joris. Misses Janes, Agee and Smith of the Los Angeles association were present at the meeting and gave methods of work among young women. Miss Agee will remain here and aid in the organization work.

MILITIAMAN SHOT.

While members of Company K, N.G.C., were engaged in target practice, Sergt. Robert Macklin, who was attending to the target, was painfully wounded when Private Johnson misunderstood a signal and fired just as Macklin arose before the target. The bullet passed through Macklin's arm and played hide and seek around several of his ribs, but fortunately did not pierce any vital organ. He will be laid up several days, but is not expected the wounds will be serious, as they are only flesh wounds.

ROUTE ENDORSED.

At a very largely attended meeting of the residents of East Highland the route of the highway as laid out by the County Highway Commission through that district was finally unanimously indorsed. The plan of a bond issue of $1,500,000 or more as occasion may demand, was also indorsed. A few residents had desired a change in the routing of the highway, but they were badly outnumbered.

Another in the series of burglaries in the city recently was the residence of W. R. Dowler, general agent for the Santa Fe, whose house was gone through while the family was absent. About $200 worth of diamond rings was secured by the thieves who were evidently looking for money and valuable jewelry.

Something of a surprise was created when it leaked out in the Superior Court that Dr. H. W. Mills, one of the leading surgeons of the city, had secured a divorce decree from his wife this week. Mrs. Mills was a striking Castilian beauty and the divorce caused a sensation. The wife did not contest the case. A trip made by Mrs. Mills and a week spent in a Los Angeles hotel are said to have been the cause of the divorce.

The Mexican problem in this county is one which the officers would be pleased to solve. The shooting at Chino Sunday night is the fourth time within a year than an officer has been compelled to "shoot to kill" in order to save his own life, they being Officer Button at Colton, Harris at Barstow, the city marshal at Chino and now Constable Tebo of Chino. In every case the officer's aim has been accurate, Tebo's victim of Sunday night being fatally wounded.

The officers of Co. K of this city and Co. M of Riverside will hold a competitive shoot in the near future on the range of the local company. Both have several crack shots and the rivalry is strong. The losers will banquet the winners.

Blackmailers Demand Money From Chicago Woman for Supply of Serum to Cure Her.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Chemists employed by the postal authorities discovered today colonies of germs in a letter sent to extort money from Mrs. Frederick Steele, a wealthy suburban resident. The letter warned Mrs. Steele that it contained 2,000,000 malignant bacilli, with which she was infected by opening it and demanded a sum of money in return for a supply of the only serum that could cure her.

Indications of the presence of germ cultures were found by the government chemists, who, however, were unable to state the nature of the disease they might convey.

Take Three Highwaymen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Three highwaymen dodged bullets from a dozen policemen today while trying to escape capture, but were finally run down in the wholesale commission district. They were held as suspicious characters, although the man they are believed to have robbed and beaten was too drunk to identify them.

said, could English women hope to secure laws dealing with white slavery, industrial evils and other conditions affecting women.

Preparations had been made for an overflow meeting at Madison Square Garden, but the big hall, with a seating capacity of about 12,000 persons, was scarcely one-quarter filled. This was attributed by the suffragettes to the uncertainty existing until almost the eleventh hour as to whether the immigration authorities would allow Mrs. Pankhurst to land in this country.

Some leading suffragists of this country and a few "hunger strikers" sat with Mrs. Pankhurst on a stage draped with a tri-colored flag bearing the inscription: "Resistance to tyranny is obedience to God."

Wearing small steel prison bar badges signifying that their militancy had resulted in jail terms, were Miss Elsie McKenzie and Miss Mary Keegan, English girls coming here to accept business opportunities, and Miss Lucy Burns and Miss Elizabeth Freeman, American girls who went to England to fight for "the cause."

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Miss Lavinia Beck, Miss Sybil Wilbur, Miss Alberta A. Hill, Miss F. La Follette, Miss Ida Craft and other American suffragette leaders sat with them.

Mrs. Pankhurst was introduced by Charles Edward Russell, Socialist candidate for Mayor. The audience, the majority of them women, made a demonstration lasting two minutes when the English militant leader tried to speak.

Women stood on chairs and frantically waved handkerchiefs and yellow flags. Mrs. Pankhurst closed her eyes and waited for the enthusiasm to die away. She told of her experiences at Ellis Island, praising the immigration authorities.

WHAT SHE SAID.

"I have been accustomed to pleading my own cases in England," she said. "I wanted to go to Washington and plead my own case there. I want to thank those who pleaded for me there and thank the American public. I do not thank the Washington authorities, and I do not think President Wilson wants to be thanked. He would say, 'I did my duty.' I congratulate the American people who have officials in high places who perform their duties as they see them.

"Women tried persuasion and argument in England, peaceful means that have been effective here. These failing, violence became necessary. Nothing ever was secured from an English Parliament except through violence.

"The machinery of the British government is an elaborate arrangement of how not to do anything. Whatever social legislation has been secured has been due to 'women's civil war' and much of it was granted to soften the spirit of the suffragettes."

The old age pension law, she said, was granted to save Winston Churchill his seat in the Cabinet. The names of Churchill, Asquith and Lloyd George evoked hissing.

By nature law-abiding, hating violence and disorder, Mrs. Pankhurst said she had from the beginning felt absolutely guiltless, for she believed there was no other way to secure women's rights.

"The women who have drawn the prizes in life's lucky bag are the ones who are waging this war," she said. "The women with good fathers, good husbands, good brothers and those who are engaged in useful industries are the ones who are fighting for the women of all classes."

Mrs. Pankhurst discussed equal suffrage and white slavery. White slavery she characterized as "more awful even than negro slavery in its worst form ever was in the United States. In white slavery are slaves of every color and they are all of one sex."

She criticised England's flogging act providing punishment for white slave agents.

"Why don't they go to the seat of the evil?" she said. "Why don't they punish the customers. With no demand there will be no traffic. Give the women the opportunity to frame the legislation and there will be no white slavery. The government of the country is the biggest white slave firm we have."

Mrs. Pankhurst answered American critics who have said she came on a money-making mission. Benjamin Franklin went to France for aid for the American revolution, she said, and "Irish law breakers came here to gather money to carry on their campaign, and Americans responded." She continued: "Why should I not to come to ask help? What helps women in England will help women all over the world."

MAYBE IT'S A BRITISH JOKE.

England's Postmaster-General Says He's Glad We Let Mrs. Pankhurst Come In.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The Right Hon. Herbert L. Samuel, Postmaster-General of Great Britain, told the Pilgrims' Society, during the course of a luncheon address today that he was glad the United States had extended its hospitality to Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst.

"It was said that the liberal government now in control in England hoped you would not do so," he added. "That was not true, of course; if she wants to remain we will have no objections to her doing so."

BORAH SHIES AT PANKHURST.

Says He Sympathizes with Suffrage Causes, But Can't Stand for Vicious Principles.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Senator Borah of Idaho has written the Women's Political Union of Newark, N. J., that he will not take part in any suffrage gathering where Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst appears without taking the opportunity to denounce militant methods.

"While I am most anxious to assist in the cause," wrote Senator Borah, "I will not by silence or by the most indirect way seem to indorse the vicious principles which have been invoked in the fight for woman suffrage in other countries."

The Senator had been invited to speak in New York Saturday night.

JOLLY MRS. PANKHURST, BUT DODGE HER LECTURE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Hundreds of congratulatory telegrams poured in today on Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant British suffragette admitted to this country at the instance of President Wilson after her brief detention at Ellis Island. She spent the day resting at the home of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, preparatory to delivering an address for the cause of woman suffrage at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Special Efforts Will Be Made to Hold This Business.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

DETROIT, Oct. 21.—With the declaration that the "tide of American business in the foreign field is a flood," and means must be employed to maintain it, Secretary Redfield, addressing the Board of Commerce here yesterday, made a direct appeal to business men to ask Congress to appropriate more funds for the prosecution of the work of his department. Mr. Redfield declared his department had an ambitious program. He said it was the intention of the government to press it vigorously if funds were provided."

"For example," said he, "at present moment the inquiry into the pottery industry, which is a very important, and intended to be a helpful, investigation, is almost at a standstill, for lack of funds.

"I assume you are aware of the great advance of American manufactures during the past year. Time was, within the memory of most of you, when we were chiefly the products of our farms or our mines. We were known as a food-exporting nation and in a sense did largely feed Europe. That day is gone. Our agricultural foodstuffs are but 1/3 of the total, and the major portion of our export trade is filled by products of our manufactures.

"To sell our manufactures to the extent of over fifteen hundred millions in value in one year is a small thing, but when the need to expand at the rate of one and a half a million dollars daily, and more, is this total the largest item in it is that of fully finished manufactures—which is not only, as I have said, the biggest item, but that which is growing fastest—then the statement is much more marked."

In concluding the secretary told his hearers that if the funds were forthcoming, he proposed to reorganize the Bureau of Corporations so that a systematic inquiry into all big combinations could be made. This he said, would not be undertaken in any hostile spirit, but solely for the purpose of securing information which he believed the government should have.

Morse, had filed suit in New York to compel the return to the turbiners Yale and Harvard of the New York-Boston service, which they were sold to refit at the time of Morse's bankruptcy and subsequent commitment to the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

"Guess the story is about as significant," he continued, "as the one lately published, that we have been badly broken with the port authorities here and will hereafter to be used as a time make Redondo Beach the southern terminus."

As Jennie Morse has now settled and refiling suits in the New York courts to and from out, since he was overtaken by financial ruin, was overtaken by financial ruin, new suit is of minor interest to the present. Nevertheless, this case will another chapter to the long series of various cumulative attempts to retrieve the widely-scattered fortunes of the vast fortune which the late king possessed subsequent to his financial downfall. One fragment of which the Yale and Harvard Company, now but a corporate shell, the bright and shining symbol of under what precise arrangement the vessels were sent to the Pacific Coast is a secret closely guarded, but it is said to say, many, many months ago, when the turbiners away from the Pacific Navigation Company have been overtake the present suit.

FOR SALE—

ALFALFA LAND

$40 to $55 Per Acre.

One-Tenth Cash and Ten Years to Pay the Balance.

Only 40 Miles from Los Angeles, at Esperanza.

There is more certainty and real worth to this perfect alfalfa land, from any point of view, by any comparison, either actual or relative, than to purchase, subdivide and create, than in any other land offered in Southern California.

This land is right here to Los Angeles County—no further away than Ontario, and 100 to 200 miles nearer than Ontario, Riverside, etc.; grows very low for its value.

There is no hardpan, no adobe or alkali. It is a deep-soil granite loam, of practically advanced to the raising of alfalfa. This land adjoins alfalfa lands where yields of 2½ tons of hay per cutting are reported, and which is selling for $11.50 in the field.

The wells in this district are supplied by 12 to 20 inches of water, which stands about 12 to 25 feet from the surface.

This land is not away off somewhere, but is right here close to Los Angeles, and you can go and come back in one day.

See this land before you think of paying a dollar into land anywhere else.

EXCURSION SUNDAY.

Special car leaves Southern Pacific depot Sunday at 7:35 a.m. and returns the same day. Ideal arrangements easy.

Our office open every evening.

WHEN A FAMILY'S NAKED.

It Takes a Long List of Apparel to Cover 'Em All After Burglar Leaves.

The police never knew until yesterday how many articles of apparel constitute a family wardrobe. By the economy of a typewriter, it takes four pages to tell every article, and then there are at least twenty postscripts to be added.

The startling quantity became impressive yesterday when the family of Thomas Hunfleet reported that they lost all their belongings to a burglar at No. 907 East Fifth street, Monday night. They awoke in the morning with nothing more substantial than curiosity to clothe them.

There was Hunfleet, and Mrs. Hunfleet, and Mary, aged 16; Ruby, aged 12; Herbert, aged 4, and a baby. For first aid, they called the police. Then came the query what clothes did the family need. Hunfleet began to mention the different garments. Mrs. Hunfleet filled in many gaps that would have been quite embarrassing if Hunfleet's hurried requisition had been filled.

The policeman at the telephone began to sway. First Hunfleet, then his wife, would tell what was wanted. The policeman grew too worn at the long call, the operator upstairs was breaking in, impatiently, to know if the line was chartered, and still the demands came from the stricken family.

Aid was given and later a full list of the needed things was made. Then it came into record how many articles of apparel a family needs. The number? Oh well, it cost an awful lot of time and work to learn it, why not figure it out?

To Make Your Hair Beautiful USE
NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Reasonable care and effort is all that is required to enable almost any woman to have good hair. When the hair falls out and is stringy, uneven, dry, brittle and generally unsightly, the condition is nearly always due to dandruff and the germ that causes it.

Before the hair will grow naturally and luxuriantly, the scale like accumulation must be removed and the further deposit checked. Newbro's Herpicide is recommended to do this very thing. It is an aid to nature. By keeping the scalp clean, an added softness and luster are given to the hair, which indicate health.

By the intelligent use of Newbro's Herpicide, the hair may be prevented from falling out, and instead be converted into one of woman's greatest charms.

Beautiful hair and lots of it may be the reward of every woman willing to devote a little personal effort to the use of the First and Original Dandruff Germ Remedy, Herpicide stops itching.

Little Landers Lecture Today

W. E. Smythe

William E. Smythe, founder of the Little Landers movement, will deliver an important daily lecture at 10:30 every morning and at 8 o'clock Friday evening, this week, at 929 So. Figueroa st., on the founding and development of the two Little Landers colonies, the first near San Diego and the second at Los Terrenitos, 16 miles northwest of Los Angeles.

It is one thing for real estate companies to sell land to people, and altogether another thing to get the people on the land and help them to become independent on it. Selling land is only a detail with the House of the Little Landers. Its great purpose is to build self-sustaining communities. For example, the 125 families now at Los Terrenitos are this month receiving the immeasurable benefit of instruction from recognized experts in vegetable and poultry raising, in the care of Belgian hares and in the culture of mushrooms.

Then the Little Landers of Los Angeles have their own co-operative store, their clubhouse for social and business meetings, and will soon have their co-operative selling system.

To hear about this movement forward to the land, attend Mr. Smythe's morning lecture this week, and then, to see for yourself, take the daily auto trip, leaving 929 South Figueroa at 12:30, and SEE FOR YOURSELF.

Filled With Poison.

Mrs. Rose Blockman, who died suddenly at her home Monday night, came to her death through acute alcoholism, according to the autopsy performed by Autopsy Surgeon Maisch yesterday. Scientifically, her body was in a most remarkable condition, containing a tremendous amount of poison, that she had successfully withstood for several weeks.

Lived Here Quarter Century.

George F. Williams, aged 67, who has been a resident of California twenty-five years, died at his home in Burbank yesterday. He was associated with his brother in the grocery business at Ninth and Main streets, and was a member of Commercial Lodge, No. 387, I.O.O.F. The funeral services will be conducted from the chapel of Booth & Bolyson Company tomorrow at 2 p.m.

To the Woods.

Thirty applicants for the position of forest ranger took the written civil service examination at the Federal Building yesterday. The field test will be made at Sierra Madre today, when the applicants will have an opportunity to show if they understand the mysteries of loading a pack, can negotiate a dozen different kind of knots, and are up in woodcraft sufficient to pass a severe test.

Banquet to Police Justice White.

The friends of Thomas P. White, who recently received appointment as police justice to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Justice Rose upon being elected Mayor, will tender him a banquet at Hamburger's Cafe, on Thursday evening. I. B. Dockweiler will be toastmaster and speeches will be made by John P. Burke, Rev. J. S. Glass, Justice W. L. Williams, Bishop Conaty, Supervisor Pridham and Judge Craig.

Feast of Conclusion.

Atzereth, the feast of conclusion, ends, as the name indicates, the cycle of the festivals prescribed in the Mosaic dispensation for annual observance. This concluding feast begins at sunset tonight, to last until tomorrow at the same time. Services celebrating the festival will be held at Temple B'nai B'rith this evening at 8, and tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Dr. Hecht will be in charge, and preach tonight on "Our Present Need." Tomorrow morning his subject will be "Farewells." The music for these services will be expressive of their character.

Constructive Talks.

At the Realty Board luncheon at Christopher's tomorrow, the speakers will be Charles F. Lummis, former librarian of Los Angeles; Robert L. Ware, former newspaper man of St. Paul and now associated with Edward D. Silent & Co., and F. O. Bristol of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company. The talks will all be constructive. Lummis will speak on "Los Angeles—Yesterday and Today;" Ware on "What a Man Knows and What He Would Like to Know About Los Angeles," and Bristol on "The Other Fellow." Thomas D. Campbell, president of Thomas D. Campbell & Co., will be chairman.

Capt. Greene Mustered Out.

Capt. Charles Kennedy Greene, a former member of the National Guard of Washington State, and a veteran of the Spanish War, died at his residence, No. 1981 Park Grove avenue, yesterday, aged 42. Capt. Greene had lived in this city seven years, having come here from Everett, Wash., where, up to the time of his retirement and removal to Los Angeles, he had been the auditor of the Everett and Monte Cristo Railway. He was a member of the I.O.O.F., and leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Leon French, of No. 4837 Rosewood avenue. The funeral services will be conducted at the parlors of the Connell Company this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be private.

STRANGEST UNION IN THE WORLD UNCOVERED HERE.

League of Beggars, Crippled, Sightless, Epileptic and Deformed.

Great Association of Mendicants, Whose Chief Is a Blind Newspaper Vendor on Broadway, Bids Virtual Defiance to Efforts to Drive Them from the Streets. Will Fight to Highest Court, They Say.

INVESTIGATION by the Municipal Charities Commission yesterday unearthed the most remarkable union in the world, one whose headquarters in Los Angeles reaches to all parts of the United States and is in touch by correspondence with Europe. The union is composed of beggars—crippled, sightless or deformed.

It has at least one walking delegate, probably many, its members pay dues and it is founded on a freemasonry that solidifies it into an organization all its own unique and powerful in its line.

A blind man who sells newspapers on Broadway is the head of the organization, he directs its affairs, protects its members, lobbies against unfriendly legislation and collects a rake-off from the members who are beneficiaries of his work.

Realizing the extent to which the army of beggars has defied the city administration and the adroit manner in which its members have disguised their mendicancy behind licenses to sell gum, pencils or shoestrings on the street, the Municipal Charities commission yesterday began steps to eliminate the evil and sweep from the public view of Los Angeles the crippled and sightless unfortunates.

Acting Assistant City Attorney Lee went into the meeting, the commission had plans for the formation of an ordinance that will keep these mendicants from the streets. Although there is a strict anti-begging ordinance in force. A month ago the commissioners went into effect, legislating as it does scores of mendicants have dotted the business streets and have approached and annoyed thousands of persons daily.

INTO "BUSINESS."

With the operation of the anti-begging ordinance, the lame and the halt and the blind whose business future was blighted, invested their savings in a box of chewing gum, a bundle of shoestrings, a sheaf of pencils or something of the like, purchased a license from the city for 75 cents a month and returned to work.

Under the guise of legitimate business they were restored to their profession of mendicancy, using their wares to attract sympathy and stimulate sales.

At least fifty crippled or blind beggars are working in the city streets now under this disguise. Other cripples working their way across the continent ahead of the onrushing winter, are desirous of reaching the land of sunshine where they may continue to beg until spring, under one pretense or another, when they may hibernate to more remunerative fields.

The attention of the commission was called to the widespread organization when the walking delegate for the union, a blind newspaper vendor on Broadway, called to ascertain if any action was to be taken against cripples who procured city licenses to sell trivial things on the streets.

"I am president of the organization," he said, "and have been retained by the members to attend to their business."

Dr. Milbank Johnson, head of the commission, said yesterday that the man represented himself to be the authorized spokesman for the strange craft and said that he was paid dues by the members for his "professional work."

The matter was referred to Maj. A. J. Copp, Jr., secretary of the commission, who immediately set to work to ferret out the facts as stated by the walking delegates of the beggars' union. D. W. Edwards, Jr., who is in charge of the employment bureau of the Associated Charities, began an investigation and uncovered the strange organization.

CLEARINGHOUSE HERE.

It works by sign and symbol, but it has a clearinghouse here and in other cities that keeps the unfortunates apprised of conditions—where the field is open and where it is closed.

The presence of so many crippled unfortunates or blind persons in the streets is a rebuke to any civilized community, argue members of the commission, but they have been so far powerless to pierce the thin disguise of the street merchants. The city license department is authorized

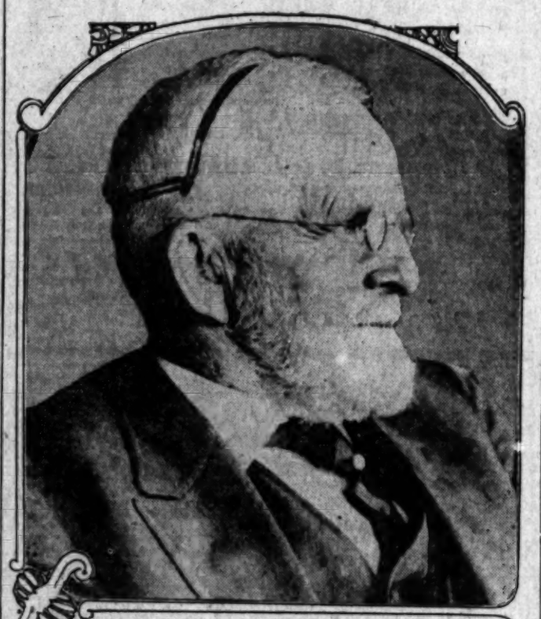
He Gives a Big Lift to a Great Work.



Charles M. Stimson and his latest gift.

This modest philanthropist yesterday placed in escrow deeds for North Main street property valued at one hundred thousand dollars for the endowment of the Bible Institute. The building is occupied by a gas engine company, which will not be disturbed.

Finds Joy in Giving.

HUNDRED THOUSAND TO THE BIBLE INSTITUTE.

Philanthropist Stimson Superlatively Happy as He Sets Aside Productive Property as Permanent Endowment for Local Institution for Training Scripture Students and Religious Workers.

ONE of the happiest men in Los Angeles yesterday was Charles M. Stimson. His superlative effervescence of spirits was due to the fact that he was giving away a small fortune—something he has frequently done before, but the oftener the dose is repeated the better he seems to feel.

Mr. Stimson, in the presence of Lyman Stewart, president of the Los Angeles Bible Institute, and William Mullen, evangelist of that institution, placed in escrow in a local bank deeds to property valued at $100,000, at present paying a monthly rental of $550, to be for a permanent endowment of the Bible Institute. The lease on the property has yet one year to run, and, not wishing to convey the property subject to the lease, he determined to hold it in his own name until the time has expired and will then make it over to the Bible Institute. He expects also that the magnificent buildings of the institute will be completed by that time and his generous gift will go far toward its permanent maintenance.

The property is now leased from Mr. Stimson by the Western Gas Engine Corporation, and consists of eleven lots, with a frontage of 242 feet on North Main street, together with the buildings, and two lots used as storage ground, with a frontage of 140 feet on Chavez street. The property is in the heart of the manufacturing district, directly on the line of the Southern Pacific Railway, and is rapidly increasing in value. The transfer will in no wise affect the status of the engine works, which will continue to occupy the premises.

GREAT INSTITUTION.

When the Bible Institute is completed on Hope street it will represent an investment of a little more than $1,000,000, and will be one of the most notable institutions of the kind in the United States. The construction is entirely of steel and concrete, and work has been going steadily forward since last spring. Recently a bond issue has been floated, the sales of which last week aggregated $125,000, and to show the confidence of Mr. Stimson before he had fully determined to give the institution an endowment fund of $100,000, he purchased the first two of these bonds at $1000 each. The buildings are expected to be completed in time for the opening of the institute next fall.

Mr. Stimson is well known for his benevolences, great and small, mostly in the line of religious work of some kind. He is supporting missionaries in all parts of the world, and a couple of years ago made a tour of the world and visited all the stations in which he is paying the salaries of one or more men and women. He contributed largely to the local Y.M.C.A.

For the Future.

CITY CLAIMS WHOLE OF MONO LAKE WATERSHED.

WITHOUT debate, the Board of Public Service Commissioners decided yesterday to protest to the State Water Commission against the granting of riparian rights to private parties along Rush Creek or any other streams emptying into Mono Lake. Special Counsel Mathews of the board is to mail the formal protest to the commission today, so it will be in the hands of that body at the postponed session tomorrow, at which it will consider certain water filings of E. G. Ryan, and others, along Rush Creek.

"My protest," said Mathews, "will take the form of a plea that the natural relations of the Mono Lake watershed to the Owens Valley make it in effect an integral portion of the 'waterhole' to which this city must forever look for water. Specifically, the board will ask that Rush Creek and other streams emptying into Mono Lake be reserved for public use, not private."

"I wouldn't want to specify the time," said Chief Engineer Mulholland, after the board had gone on record in the Rush Creek case, "but some day, this city will be willing to tunnel six to eleven miles through the conglomerate mountain chain which separates the Rush Creek district from the Owens Valley, in order to get the water and power."

This matter settled, the board decided, with a figurative hurrah, to get behind the aqueduct celebration. It was further decided to declare a two-day holiday for water department employees and to place twenty-six automobiles in the parade on November 6 and to encourage every one of the 300 employees to participate.

"I've just made a bargain buy of a six-cylinder Pierce-Arrow for $2500," spoke up Mulholland, "and I want the commissioners to ride with me."

"Taken," said President Del Valle.

Bids were also authorized for the purchase of 50,000 feet of barbwire to complete fencing work along the aqueduct, while a proffer from the Title Guarantee and Trust Company to sell that portion of the plant of the Glendale Consolidated Water Company supplying sixty-four consumers in Highland Park, was received and referred to Mulholland.

LOVETT SAYS "YES"—ONCE.

Then He Promises Fight for Central Pacific.

Railroad Wizard Looking for More Freight.

"Not Interested," Reply on Other Subjects.

"I'm not interested."

Such was the reply of ex-Judge Robert S. Lovett, greatest of railroad magnates, to the volley of questions rained on him last night on his arrival from Salt Lake City for a stay of three days investigating the traffic possibilities of the Southland.

Tired, obviously irritable, with but little semblance to the robust man who assumed the mantle of E. H. Harriman on the death of that greatest of all railroad wizards, Lovett sidestepped, countered, and half-insultingly turned a deaf ear to questions in all but one instance.

Then he replied, "Yes" to the question of whether or not the Union Pacific system, of which he is chairman of the board of directors, will make a fight for the motherless but much desired Central Pacific. Save this one direct answer, Lovett contented himself with the reiteration of "I'm not interested."

He even made this reply when asked if he stood back of the assertion made in this city in March, 1912, that the Harriman lines would contribute $1,500,000 to restore the Colorado River to its bed or to harness its surplus flow by the construction of storage basins above the Grand Canyon.

AN EXPECTED ANSWER.

Most emphatically he said, "I'm not interested" when asked if the purchase of the Salt Lake by the Union Pacific was a possibility. This answer was expected, however, as it is current knowledge that the Union Pacific holds 50 per cent. of the Salt Lake stock as surety for its future reimbursement for the construction of the line from Provo to Caliente.

Great possibilities, affecting the entire railroad future of the West, hinge, however, on Lovett's reply to the question of the Union Pacific's attitude towards the Central Pacific. Linking the Union Pacific with tidewater at San Francisco, and, conversely, giving the Southern Pacific access to the Middle West via Ogden, the Central Pacific was the main bone of contention between the Union and Southern Pacific in the dissolution.

The Central Pacific still continues to be a bone of contention, for the reason that its possession by the Union Pacific would force the Southern Pacific to seek its traffic destiny along the southern route, via this city. On the other hand, possession by the Southern Pacific would and is forcing the Union Pacific to various traffic expediences, such as renewed and but thinly disguised interest in the Salt Lake.

At present, the Central Pacific is high in the air, a nominal possession of the Southern Pacific, but claimed by the Union Pacific. Lately, it has been talk that the Union Pacific had renounced its claims, but the "Yes" of Judge Lovett gives a different turn to the subject.

THOSE MANY MILLIONS.

Strange as it may seem, Lovett evidenced less of polite interest in the disposal of the $91,000,000 which are supposed to have accrued to the Union Pacific through the forced sale of the Southern Pacific than in any other one subject presented to his attention. He said, "Um," when asked what the Union Pacific was going to do with this money, and "Huh" when asked when it was going to be divided in dividends among the stockholders of the company.

"Judge Lovett is a tired man," volunteered B. L. Winchell, director of traffic of the Union Pacific, in an aside from the main conflict. "He wants to investigate the traffic possibilities of Southern California, but he also wants to rest."

"He wants to see," sympathetically interjected one of numerous secretaries, "what the Salt Lake is doing out here to gather in traffic units and provide adequate outlet for the traffic that is to move in and out through California ports following the completion of the Panama Canal."

Lovett arrived here, accompanied by Winchell and First Vice-President Bancroft of the Salt Lake, who is also vice-president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line, a Union Pacific-owned road, and a small regiment of secretaries. He was met by General Manager Nutt of the Salt Lake and General Agent Wilson of the Union Pacific, and taken to the Alexandria.

Lovett is expected to leave about Friday for San Francisco, though he stated last night that his destination after leaving here was uncertain.

WHO WILL EARN IT NOW?

Four Dollars a Week Taken from Poor Family by Arrest of the Daughter as Shoplifter.

Mollie McWilliams is slender, and she is young, only 13.

She works in a big store where many beautiful clothes are sold. Slenderness is a great asset in the present modes of dress. Mollie's waist is sixteen inches. Once when she tried on a dress to show a customer, the customer complimented her on the way that dress looked.

From that time, Mollie wanted to look just that way. She was a little booster in the clan of good dressers. She thought that was a sorority, but it isn't, it's a clan. For only those born to it can belong.

Mollie was born to it. At home she had a mother who never drew an easy breath. She had asthma and other ills. And her father couldn't listen to her desires. He had heart trouble.

With her $4 a week that she brought home for her work, Mollie couldn't save one penny for clothing. She tried and tried for three months. Then she made up her mind she wanted a new coat. If she couldn't have a smart suit she would have a coat.

So she got it. And it did look swell. All her friends said so, and when she told her asthmatic old mother someone had given her the garment, the mother was quite proud of the slip of a girl who looked actually fashionable.

The Nick Harris detectives found that Mollie was wearing a new coat, and investigated. They found that Mollie had stolen. The girl was arrested. Now no one is going to earn even $4 for the family.

When he heard the story, the proprietor of the store was also affected that he gave Mollie the coat. Mollie is in the Juvenile Home, but she is slender, and she is young, and she looks fashionable.

LECTURE ON HIGH SIERRAS.

Pictures of Mt. Rainier, Tuolumne Canyon, the Hetch-Hetchy Valley and the South and Middle Forks of King's River will be used by Herbert W. Gleason of Boston, traveler and lecturer on mountain scenery, this evening at Cumnock Hall, to illustrate his talk on "Camping and Tramping in the High Sierras with the Sierra Club." The pictures thrown on the screen will be projected from hand-colored slides.

Chinese Control Commercial Interests; Unrest.

"Chinese monopolize great commercial interests in the republic as a result of corrupt politics and the isthmian nation faces a situation similar to that which led to the Japanese exclusion act in California.

Direct, poignant, analytical, Jose Gabriel Duque, an intellectual power in Latin-America, the "silent dictator" of Panamanian national affairs, friend of the great Goethals, and newspaper publisher, epitomized isthmian conditions last night and gave the world the first insight into the heart throbs of Panama.

What Panamanians are doing, saying, thinking, forecasting and fearing, from the viewpoint of an American citizen by naturalization and education and a thirty-six-year resident of the Canal Zone, is expressed in the vital thoughts be put into words last night.

Duque, who is proprietor of the Panama Star and Herald, is in Los Angeles as the guest of his brother, T. L. Duque, Consul of Panama here, and the interview was given in the spacious Duque residence at No. 761 New Hampshire avenue.

Duque left Panama the day before the Gamboa dike was blown; he will leave Los Angeles for San Francisco, en route home, within a few days.

RIGHT AND LEFT BY GOVERNMENT

Letter Admitted that Speaks Plainly of Fraud.

Promoter's President Gives Damaging Evidence.

Dr. John Grant Lyman, promoter of the Panama Development Company, on trial for alleged fraud in the United States District Court, lost his tall day fight to bar the De la Guardia letter from evidence yesterday. The document is the one written by Senor Fantisgo de la Guardia, father of the boy president of the Panama Development Company, to E. A. Lynn, at the time connected with the corporation.

A number of other letters taken from the office of the company on Mercantile Place were introduced in evidence, without serious objection, but when the De la Guardia epistle was reached, strenuous objection was made, and the argument on its admissibility occupied the most of the day.

Paul W. Schenck, attorney for Lyman, raked the volumes of legal lore from the times of Edward the Confessor down to the opinion of United States District Judge Pollock, of Kansas. The point at issue was whether letters or other evidence secured from a prisoner without his consent can be used against him in a criminal proceeding. It was argued that to admit the letters would be a violation of the fourth and fifth amendments to the Constitution—Attorney Schenck painted a word picture of the efforts of the colonists to rid themselves of the onus of the famous English writs of attachment, that in the opinion of the speaker were the cause of the War of the Revolution. Copious authorities were quoted to support the contention.

Asst. Dist.-Atty Regan quoted Wigmore on the laws of evidence, together with the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the "Al" Adams lottery case to make good his contention that evidence in the shape of letters secured from the person or among the effects of a defendant, if otherwise competent, must be received by the Court.

Judge Wellborn admitted as evidence the letter and all evidence secured from Lyman either at the office of the Panama Development Company or from his person. He laid down the broad rule that it made no difference how this sort of evidence was secured; it was no part of the business of the court to inquire, but when secured could be used for all it is worth by the government.

The reason for the vigorous objection to the letter of Senor de la Guardia was seen as soon as the document was read. It was a body blow to the defense. In the communication Senor de la Guardia asked that his name be taken from the list of the advisory committee. He had heard, he said, that Lyman had disposed of thousands of acres in the republic of Panama pretending to be the agent of the Panamanian government, when he had no authority to so act, and the fact that he (the writer) was supposed to be officially connected with the Panama Development Company, was injuring him in the estimation of his friends in Panama and he wanted nothing more to do with the corporation or Lyman.

The reading of the letter never caused Dr. Lyman to raise a hair. "I don't care if they offer every letter I ever wrote," he declared, "it is only a principle with me."

DAMAGING EVIDENCE.

The examination in chief of Senor Hernan de la Guardia was then resumed. He testified that as president of the Panama Development Company he had never entered into any contract with the Panamanian government for the acquisition of any public land by his corporation; that he had never seen any such contract; as president of the Panama Development Company he had never arranged with the government to get land for anybody; he did not know of any lands anywhere owned or optioned by the Panama Development Company; he had never received from Lyman any legal papers to be filed with the Panamanian government with reference to the purchase of land; the only paper he had ever seen was a copy of the certificate of incorporation of the company; he had shown it to the Secretary of Finance, but sent it back to Lyman because it had not been registered by the Panamanian Consul at San Francisco. He had informed Dr. Lyman that it would require about $2800 to place the company in a position to do business in Panama, if an option could be secured, but he never got the money.

At this point the witness was excused until later in the case, when he will be cross-examined.

M. De Haaffe, a map-maker of this city, testified to making a number of plates representing the canal zone and a portion of the republic of Panama, all of which were paid for after the bill had been approved by Dr. Lyman. The maps showed a proposed railway leading from the city of Panama to the city of David, and also set out the timber lands, and those devoted to raising sugar cane, bananas, citrus fruit, etc. The changes in the map, showing the railway line, were at the suggestion of Lyman, the witness declared.

PROTEST ASSESSMENT.

A big crowd of property owners along Sunset boulevard gathered in the South Methodist Church, Monday night, to vehemently protest against the new assessment of $69,000 for grading and paving the boulevard from Main to Marion streets. They say that it will mean paying about $1600 on each lot in addition to the $440 per fifty-foot front already paid for widening. A large delegation will appear before the City Council this morning and demand that the totalt assessment be reduced to $30,000 or the project abandoned. Otherwise many of them declare they are in grave danger of losing their property altogether.

LOSERS BY FLOODS.

Three-quarters of a million dollars is the Southern Pacific's estimate of its loss in the recent floods which devastated Central and South Texas, washing out bridges, trestle work, and long stretches of track. A secondary loss, the extent of which cannot be estimated at present, is in cotton tonnage, many square miles of planting having been totally destroyed. Other sufferers were the Missouri, Kansas and Texas and the St. Louis and San Francisco railroads.

Strange Union Here.

by ordinance to issue licenses to them and has no alternative.

Believing that there is a way to reach a solution of the problem and take the unfortunates out of sight, the City Attorney's office is combing the law for the basis of an ordinance. The charities associations have gone so far as to offer these unfortunates various kinds of legitimate employment, but few of them want it. There is also a desire to give them a domicile at public expense in some institution where they may have care and attention.

The Municipal Charities Commission is by no means insensible to the fact that it is a difficult matter to remove from these unfortunates the only support they have, and yet the commission is also cognizant of the fact that not over half of the mendicants are worthy of public support.

As soon as the anti-begging ordinance went into effect, the walking delegate of the strange craft advised all his followers to apply for positions with the Associated Charities. Nearly fifty applications were filed. Each application stated what kind of work the applicant desired and in some instances jobs were found, but when an effort was made to put the applicants in touch with the jobs they asserted that they preferred peddling on the streets.

PRINCE AND PAUPER.

Alfred Leroy, aged 32, minus both legs and the left hand, sells gum on Spring street. He has a very prosperous trade. He applied for a job as bank president. When he was told that a movement was afoot to pass an ordinance putting a stop to his business he said he had money enough to carry a legal fight to the United States Supreme Court.

Leroy has given the police a great deal of trouble. It is said that occasionally he hires an automobile and goes joy-riding as a diversion from sitting on the sidewalk and peddling gum.

The office of the Associated Charities, where these strange creatures come to tell their troubles, is a clearinghouse for grief, were the burdens of a tragic experience are left with those officials who sympathize but cannot help. The pitiful tales of many applicants have reflected a delicate condition which the city finds almost impossible to cure.

The attitude taken by the Municipal Charities Commission is that these unfortunates are a public "menace;" that cripples, epileptics and others who are permitted to roam the streets under city license have a deleterious effect upon humanity in general. It is believed that the streets must be ridded of these creatures, who are defiant and audacious under legal recognition, and that public institutions kept for such purposes may be opened to receive those who will not accept remunerative employment found for them.

A WAY AROUND.

After discussing various methods of reaching this situation it appeared to sift itself down to a proposition of securing authority for the license clerk to use his discretion in issuing permits, so that persons who may be considered a menace to themselves or people on the streets, by reason of their being blind or cripples, may be denied permits on the grounds of public safety. It also was suggested that the health department rigidly enforce legislation that prohibits the undue exposure of physical deformities in public places.

Deputy City Attorney Westover was requested by the commission to secure from Cleveland, Boston, New York and Chicago ordinances on the subject, and Dr. Johnson, president of the commission, announced that he will ask the municipal charities commissions of these and other cities to submit their plans for handling the problem.

The commission officially indorsed the Young Women's Christian Association, the Los Angeles Humane Society and the Vance Working Boys' Home.

BUSY SUPREME COURT.

Judicial Body, Sitting En Banc, Wades Swiftly Through Its Calendar of Appealed Cases.

The Supreme Court sitting en banc yesterday disposed of the calendar before the noon adjournment. The session en banc will be continued today, after which the court will divide into departments and continue the hearings regularly set by the calendar.

Among the cases upon which arguments were heard yesterday was that of the people against McDonald, on appeal from the District Court, involving a conviction from Orange county on the charge of rape; Del Mar Water, Light and Power Company against the Railroad Commission, reviewing an order of the defendant body relating to water and light rates at Del Mar; a review of the order of the Railroad Commission in the case of the city of Wilmington; argument on the suit of the Title Insurance and Trust Company, against the California Development Company, argued and submitted last July, the submission set aside in December, ordered back on the calendar in April, and continued until the present term; damage cases of Foutz against the city of Los Angeles, on appeal from the District Court, which affirmed a judgment of the Superior Court awarding damages to Foutz amounting to $2000 for an accident occurring on the aqueduct, and the damage suits of Brown, Housel and Thompson against the Pacific Electric Company, where verdicts for the defendant are attacked.

GETS THREE MONTHS.

Army Major Who Impersonated Federal Officer Goes to Jail—Will Appeal to War Department.

In the United States District Court yesterday Charles A. Smith, or Maj. Charles A. Smith, as he insisted that he be known, was given a three-months' stretch in the County Jail by Judge Wellborn, on the charge of impersonating a Federal officer.

Smith is more than 70 years of age, and for a time was an inmate of the National Soldiers' Home, but was dropped from the rolls last July for bad conduct. Coming to the city he visited a number of cafes and restaurants where he secured meals by representing himself as a postoffice inspector, and also as being connected with the disbursing office at the Soldiers' Home. During the visit of the Senatorial Investigating Committee at the Home last winter a fine overcoat belonging to Senator Alden Smith of Michigan disappeared and was found in possession of the wrong Smith.

At the conclusion of his sentence efforts will be made to have the old man cared for by the War Department. He has an excellent army record.

TWO ARE INDICTED.

Federal grand jury brought indictments yesterday against Charles H. Debell, charged with white slavery, and Lee Jung, a Chinese, who was picked up at Calexico with twenty cans of smoking opium in his possession.

Brain Corrective Heightens Tone of Pupils.

Increased Facilities Needed, Says Superintendent.

A movement was begun in this city yesterday which is intended to give increased impetus to the work of the Psychopathic Association in looking after the welfare, both physical and mental, of the child whose mind-development is sub-normal. Enlarged facilities for training the defective in the schools, and an outdoor clinic at the County Psychopathic Ward, are among the suggestions growing out of the third annual meeting of the association, which was held at the home of the secretary, W. S. James, No. 521 Shatto place. The movement started in this city three years ago and has become so far-reaching that it has enlisted the sympathy and support of the thinking world. It is proving valuable.

The psychopathic ward will be ready for occupancy by the first of the year, and it is intended that the open-air clinic shall become headquarters for information along psychopathic lines, and be affiliated with the Psychopathic Association.

Superintendent Francis said last night that the city will have to open up more largely in this department of education; he hopes that a new room may be added, toward the close of the year, for additional care of the sub-normal pupil.

"The present facilities should be trebled or quadrupled," he said, "but the financial stringency in the schools retards the work. A little is being done along these lines by putting some of the mentally deficient in the ungraded rooms, but that does not go far enough, and additional rooms are an urgent necessity."

Diagnostic education is the latest word in pedagogy. The modern dictum is that no child shall be branded a failure, but that each shall be given a chance to develop the best that is in him to the utmost. In other words, educators now aim to make schools fit the child, and not the child fit the school. This is the idea in the local schools.

The psychopathic treatment of deficient school children is conducted at the Sixteenth-street school in this city, where twenty-five pupils ranging in age from 5 to 16 years are given mental and manual training by two teachers. Most of the children make progress under the untiring efforts of the teachers, Misses Elizabeth Witman and Atminta McMahon, who have had special training for their chosen work at Vineland, N. J., and in the University of Pennsylvania.

The children in the Sixteenth-street school are provided with apparatus similar to that used by Mme. Montessori, in her famous school in Italy, and some of the training is very primitive, but it has been found that the constant repetition of certain mechanical acts, combined with other simple mental training, serves to develop self-control of the muscles, and a noticeable improvement in the child's mental processes is apparent. The older pupils are provided with Sloyd benches, and also with looms. Clay-modeling is another occupation provided.

There is another room, in another school of the city, where twenty pupils whose ages range from 10 to 15 years, are given ordinary school work, modified to their understanding.

TRAP FOR HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS.

AN OLD, OLD TALE WITH A BIT MORE PATHOS.

Primrose Path to Silks and Flattery Blocked by Police, but Too Late to Restore Childhood to Three Who Were Girls a Month Ago.

Three young girls thought they had discovered a new and wonderful path to happiness. It was the primrose path. They didn't discover it until it was too late for help. Now, the police are trying to help them, by rooting out a spot they believe to have been a dangerous, leperous place.

Mrs. Laura Crabtree, an elderly woman, is declared to have described the path to the three young girls, and made it desirable to them, in their ignorance. She is under arrest now, charged with having conducted a disorderly house, and with having violated the liquor laws.

At No. 321 West Temple street Mrs. Crabtree established herself, and, detectives say, proceeded to recruit the material that is considered most desirable in that ancient and piteous traffic.

Mrs. Crabtree's first acquaintance was Stella Karman, a beautiful human animal, all curves and vigor, but with nothing worldly in an undeveloped mind. She was poor and ignorant, and working long hours as a house-girl.

Mrs. Crabtree spun her tales of clothes and jewels—and Stella Karman made herself an outcast while she thought she was making herself a belle. She is 19 years old.

Kindness, even, was remarkable to Stella; music, enchanting; the attention of men most flattering. She thought the world, and men unselfishly good her her.

And she hunted up her little 14-year-old friend Themis Farnham, to share the delights.

So a new guest came to Mrs. Crabtree's household, and the young girl became a part of the outer circle. Now she is in the County Hospital, already wrecked by the one mad month she spent, glorious in silks, and the doctors are extremely frank and extremely pessimistic.

Another recruit, Jessie Peterson, 18 years old, is demoralized beyond recognition of her youth.

Mrs. Crabtree is to be arrested on a new charge—pandering. The girls believe she located her house close to the High School, that she might watch for desirable looking school girls, and use their attractiveness in her household.

The girls told how the woman would often look with the coldest scrutiny on one beautiful young high school girl with light golden hair that fluffed about her waist. They say Mrs. Crabtree declared this girl the one touch she needed to bring out the contrasts with the other girls.

So men dicker over the proportions of their dogs.

The police are quite stirred up about it. They are going to prosecute the woman, and send her to the penitentiary if they can. And they will leave 14-year-old Themis Farnham in the hospital, for there is still much carving to do before the surgeons can finish their work.

That little girl of 14 was wrong in her viewpoint for just thirty days. Just thirty days—and her life is wrecked.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: If as so many are, these dusty days most effectual in remedying this that a single application will smo

Did you ever live in a city of which you were as proud as you are of Los Angeles?

Sometimes I am obliged to smile at the eagerness with which we assume the credit for everything excellent here.

Friends of mine, staying at the Alexandria, the other day were loud in their encomiums of the sweet shop which opens from the corridors of that hostelry, saying with evident surprise: "Why, there is nothing in New York superior to this!" And of course I felt as though they had commended me personally. I rather gave them to understand that we had any number of shops on that order, but when alone with myself and my conscience, I had to own that there was but one other just like that and it is, in fact, the parent of it.

I consoled myself for my arrogance by recalling the fact that tourists blame us as much if the weather does not happen to suit them as they praise us for our merchandising establishments. Ere long, now, we shall be shouldering the responsibility of the winter rains; as though any country could get on forever without so necessary an evil.

Buffaloed!

But you will not be "buffaloed" in the sense of that slang expression, if you are the purchaser of one of the carving sets shown in the windows of a Broadway china establishment. The handles of those knives and forks are of real buffalo horn, which makes it certain that they will not be injured by water and guarantees other wearing qualities. The window in which they are shown is embellished with an extraordinarily fine buffalo skin, the possession of one of the well-known local fur houses. Thanksgiving gifts are now in order and one of these carving sets would make a fine gift.

Beach Fried.

Some friends of mine have recently moved into the suburbs and "Dad" was planning to plant a new and wonderful variety of potatoes which have no eyes and no tops and produce a big crop. When he had finished telling what kind of potatoes he proposed to raise, the girl remarked: "Dad, I wish you would raise mine French fried."

I was reminded of this when I saw, in a big Broadway house-furnishing house, a device for cutting French fried potatoes. You French the entire potato at one fell swoop with this new cutter, saving time and trouble at very little expense.

Table Favors.

A Broadway china house has recently put in a full line of paper novelties as table favors. There are many new and interesting articles in the collection, among which I noticed a great rose leaf heart with rose satin ribbons leading to individual favors concealed within its depths. Any color scheme may be carried out and the favors made to order here.

Have you seen the egg shears by means of which you may neatly and ostentiously clip a boiled egg in two? In a local shop they are found.

Business Basketry.

A new design in the way of a vase for holding long-stemmed flowers is a recent production of that establishment whose craft in the line of reed has gone far abroad. This vase has several distinguishing features. Not only is it tall enough to hold comfortably the longest-stemmed blossom, but the base is so large and heavy that it cannot topple over to spill water upon adjacent articles, as is the case with so many receptacles for long-stemmed blooms. Last, but far from least, this vase is extremely artistic.

Halloween Revelry.

Some of the girls are talking of giving, for the Halloween festival, a box affair, spending the evening on one of those special, home-made-to-order suppers at the place kept by the girls who not only make fine dishes, but serve them to perfection, and arrange favors and place cards and decorations appropriate to any occasion. Putting into effect this plan, there will be no care or responsibility for the hostesses and the entire evening may be given to enjoyment for themselves as well as for their guests.

The just-out number of the Ladies' Home Journal has a very interesting and instructive article on Christmas gifts which girls may make for girls. A trifle of silk, satin or velvet, some lace and home-made flowers, form the basis of most of these charming and useful gifts.

Velvet Chains.

A novel touch upon some of the new furs is the huge chain whose links are forged from black velvet, and, in a high-class Broadway store, a set of "red" fox—really a shade of yellow, with chains of black velvet connecting the trimming of like material.

It is seldom that one sees a hair-pin holder which has any element of beauty; but I was shown in one of the Broadway jewelry houses a set of silver holders which were really graceful and pretty. The Good Housekeeper makes rice fritters as people usually make them and over them she pours a cheese sauce. This is then poured over the smoking hot fritters.

Fashion's Preference.

Brown and white is a much-favored combination.

Belts of all kinds are used on the auto and sporting coats.

One of fashion's latest caprices is the jet robe for day wear.

There is a strong revival of Empire styles in evening gowns.

A street dress of dark blue has a nasturtium red velvet girdle.

In millinery the plain crowns have a tendency to get higher.

Attractive are the odd coats of velour de laine trimmed with fur.

The tassel has become a most necessary ornament to the new bags.

Many handsome gowns have jet ornaments and tassels of beads and silk.

Many of the handsomest black velvet hats have Chantilly lace brims.

Some of the newest tailored suits have loose jackets with belts at the hip line.

Fitch fur is in high favor.

A few square necks are seen.

Navy-blue serge still holds its own.

Crystal beaded tulle is unusually popular.

The white blouse is still worn for morning.

Many souple moire costumes will be worn.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

If Herbert Gleason did not inspire in the hearts of Ebell women a fervent desire to "see America first" in his lecture before that club last Monday, then word pictures and photographs have lost their power.

He took us on the most delightful ramble through the Rocky Mountains aptly defining "ramble" as differentiating from "touring" in that it meant going as far as you pleased and staying as long as you pleased in any manner you pleased. Mr. Gleason, who is a Bostonian, and his wife, who colors all his photographs in the most charming and natural fashion, took such a ramble in the summer of 1912, covering 8000 miles in three months and visiting twenty-two different States and provinces, the latter including that region of the Canadian Rockies extending to the source of the Columbia River which is some 100 miles from the line of the Canadian Pacific railway.

Together we journeyed through Glacier Park, that splendid mountain-crowned and glacier-gemmed spot high up among the peaks in the region of perpetual snows. Here groups of the most charming Swiss chalets have been built for the accommodation of travelers at various points in the park, beside the mirrored surface of the mountain lakes, and in the fastnesses of the snow-crowned peaks. As the exquisitely colored photographs were flashed on the canvas and the graphic description of the scenes were given by Mr. Gleason it was so vivid that one could almost sniff the frosty atmosphere and grasp the lovely mountain flowers, a large variety of which were displayed in their brilliant, natural colors.

Leaving the Canadian Rockies we came down to Colorado—to the wonderful Estes Park and to Long's Peak, where we met Enos Mills, who was delightfully introduced to us from the canvas in his favorite pose of feeding the chipmunks, as tame as pet rabbits, to the hand of this nature lover who lives in the mountains and there writes his delightful books. We saw the grouse, too—that curious little animal that inhabits the region of perpetual snows at an altitude of 12,000 feet or more. Very shy and timid these grouse, but Mr. Gleason very successfully surprised several in characteristic attitudes so we had most satisfactory glimpses of these strange, wild creatures of the heights.

Some sunset views of rare loveliness concluded the tour and we Californians were glad to hear this Boston traveler who has spent years in wandering ove: the world remark that nowhere has he ever seen such sunsets as right here in the Golden State. He threw on the screen a sunrise view taken from the heights of Mount Tamalpais, which was a perfect revelation of glorious cloud effects.

Why Not "See America First?"

It's a little odd, when you come to think about it, that we Americans have formed this habit of going to Europe and other foreign countries seeking sights when, right here in our own America, we have quite as wonderful scenes. Up in the Canadian Rockies around Lake Louise and Banff is our Switzerland; along the wonderful Willamette and the Columbia is our Rhine and German scenic route; Santa Barbara and the Montecito constitute our American Riviera, and Southern California is our Italy. Going on down the coast to Panama we find all the wonders of the tropics and high up in the Rockies are the glories of the Alps. What in any country can equal our Yosemite, or our Yellowstone, or our Grand Canyon, or our Niagara Falls, or our Mammoth Cave, or our—but what's the use? They're all here—right here on our own continent; within a few hundred dollars' worth of us—and yet we persist in spending thousands going to the ends of the earth in search of "sights."

Why not adopt that slogan "See America First" and plan our journeyings accordingly?

Presbyterian Women Meet.

Mrs. John Balcom Shaw, wife of the new pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, was the guest of honor at the all-day meeting of the women's missionary society of the church yesterday and was elected first vice-president of the organization. Dr. Shaw was also a guest and addressed the society in the afternoon. A resume of the missionary activities of the church given by representative members, was an interesting feature of the morning session. Mrs. David Thomas told what the Sunday School is doing for missions—supporting a missionary in both the home and foreign field.

Mrs. S. S. Salisbury, who was the first president of the women's aid society of Immanuel Church, told in an interesting way of its beginning twenty-five years ago when the late Dr. William J. Chichester organized the church and arranged the women's work which has had a wonderful power in the life of the church both socially and financially.

Mrs. D. W. Hanna, one of the charter members of Immanuel, spoke concerning the first missionary sent out by the society. It was in Hanna College, at the corner of Hope and Eighth streets, where the Abbotsford Inn now stands, and which has recently been acquired by the First Methodist Church, that Immanuel Church was organized, and it was here that the congregation worshiped for some months before the present Immanuel Church was built.

Eleven tables, handsomely decorated, and including the famous "birthday table" which Immanuel women originated, were spread at noon to accommodate the members and guests, Dr. and Mrs. Shaw occupying seats of honor at the birthday table.

First Chirp of Cricket.

The Dickens Fellowship Club, a branch of the parent organization in London, will hold its meetings this year on the fourth floor of the Y.W.C.A. building, where two rooms have been secured. Mrs. John Martin is president, and Mrs. B. M. Wyman has charge of the study section of the club, which meets on the fourth Thursday of each month. Next Thursday afternoon "The Cricket on the Hearth" will be the subject.

Long Beach D.A.R.

Miss Jessie Benton, a member of the State and National Committee of D.A.R., gave an entertaining talk illustrated with some fifty views on "Colonial Architucture" before the Long Beach chapter at its meeting last week. Miss Benton is a sister of Arthur Benton, the architect, and the family trait seems to have included her, judging from her splendid talk, which was intensely interesting.

The membership of the Gaviota Chapter will acts as hostess at the reciprocity-day luncheon at Hotel Virginia on October 30. In the absence of the regent, Mrs. P. D. MacNee, who is still in the East, the vice-regent, Mrs. M. A. Kinzel, will head the receiving line, assisted by Mmes. Helen Harriman, Helen Comstock and G. A. Miller.

College Women's Federation.

The October meeting of the Federation or College Women's Clubs will be in the form of a luncheon at Hotel Leighton, at Sixth and Lake streets, next Saturday at 1:30. Prof. F .E. Doty, formerly of Wisconsin University, now civil examiner for Los Angeles county, will speak on "How Civil Service Makes for Efficiency." It will be remembered, by the way, that Prof. Doty passed the best examination out of thirty-two entrants from various cities, his percentage being above 98, out of a possible 100. Previous to coming to Los Angeles early in September, he had been secretary of the Wisconsin Civil Service board since its creation in 1905.

Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, assistant superintendent of the city schools, will lead a discussion on "How College Women May Help Our Public Schools," and these addresses will be followed by short talks from the members.

The officers of the federation for the present year are: President, Miss Mary Bingham; first vice-president, Miss Gertrude G. Brainerd; second vice-president, Miss Louise Ehrmann; secretary, Mrs. Burt Kinney; chairman of civics, Miss R. Love; clubhouse, Miss Marie Lindsley; educational, Mrs. H. K. Walker. Some of the work of the Civic Committee is to be club work among the Russians, Slavonians and Mexicans.

New Chapter D. of C.

At the meeting of those interested in forming a chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy in Alhambra, held at the home of Mrs. Harry Graves of North First street, Alhambra, Saturday afternoon, plans were perfected.

Mrs. J. H. Stuart, State president, and Mrs. W. F. W. Richards, State organizer, will institute the chapter. Among other women who are Daughters of the Confederacy who will be in attendance will be Mrs. R. P. Queen, State recording secretary; Mrs Roy Steele of the Robert E. Lee Chapter of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Ora King.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ora King, No. 21 South Monterey street, Alhambra, Friday at 2 p.m.

Cheap and Easily Made, But Ends a Cough Quickly

How to Make the Very Best Cough Remedy at Home. Fully Guaranteed.

This pint of cough syrup is easily made at home and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It relieves obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—quickly, and is splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, spasmodic croup and hoarseness.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features.

Pinex, as perhaps you know, is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this mixture, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup remedy. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful combination has never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Mr. Gordan Says—

—its the little things that count everywhere, especially in clothes.
—for instance, take the soft roll lapels in vogue today.
—maybe you've wondered why the "other fellow's" soft rolled just right and your's didn't.
—probably the "other fellow" knows that lapels today are no longer a matter of horsehair, but of workmanship — skilled workmanship.
—if he does, there's an even chance he wears Gordan-made clothes.
—what does he pay? Maybe only $35, $40 or $45. Possibly a little more.
—but, whether you want a soft roll lapel or cling to the more conservative styles, Gordan is worth looking up.
—you'll find him just as you step out of the elevator at the Third Floor.

HANDCLASP FOR ALL.

He is one of the plainest and simplest of men, and greets every caller, no matter how humble he be, with the grasp of a brotherly hand, though the chief business of himself and secretary in his office in the California building is to respond to appeals for donations. His property interests are very large, so much so that he has issued a pamphlet which contains merely a list of his holdings. However, the care of his property seems to take much less time than is devoted to giving away the money faster than it comes in.

Though his hearing is impaired to a serious degree, he is one of the most faithful attendants upon public gatherings and keeps in close touch with local affairs and world-wide problems.

If his mail is burdened with letters appealing for aid for a thousand-and-one objects, the bulk of letters filled with expressions of gratitude or details concerning things in which he is interested is equally as great. He accepts it all with simple, unaffected pleasure, and seems always to be wondering where he can place the next gift to do the greatest amount of good. No capitalist who hoards his millions is so happy as he.

INHERITED.

An eastern contemporary has discovered that Hsi Tsung, Emperor of China 100 B.C., put his Prime Minister to death for trying to consult with him on questions of state during the progress of a football game. The fact that football was played that long ago by the orientals is nothing to kick about. Many an athlete still plays it like a Chinaman.

THE SLEEPING PALM.

A specimen of the sleeping palm has been discovered in a Los Angeles garden. Under its fronds many winged insects and bugs and butterflies were found wrapt in profound slumber. A rash citizen, on chewing a piece of the leaf, was seized with a strange lethargy. Botanists tell us this palm is a native of the South Sea Islands, but we know better. It was transported here from Philadelphia and this accounts for the ease with which the Athletics won the world's championship; also for the inertia of Hen Berry's bunch of ball players. Let us have this palm removed before next season commences.

A BELLICOSE SENATOR.

Senator Reed of the State of "show me" had an interview with John B. McIntyre, the Washington representative of the Philadelphia Typothetae. The Senator, with that felicity of phrase common to Missourians, said that Mr. McIntyre's mother never had a marriage certificate and followed up this invidious remark by smiting Mr. McIntyre even as King Saul smote the Amalekites. Twice was the Philadelphian struck in the face by the Senator, who, with an uppercut, smashed the spectacles of his victim. Some comment of McIntyre on the action of Senator Reed in withholding testimony in the Mulhall case is said to have been the origin of the affray, if that can be called an affray where the punching is all done by one man and the other man turns the other cheek of him to the smiter.

MRS. PANKHURST'S FRIENDS.

The decision of President Wilson that a conviction of being accessory before the fact to the crime of arson involves no moral turpitude, so long as the party whose premises were fired was not in favor of giving votes to women, may result in the fire insurance companies adding to the list of questions propounded to applicants for insurance: Are you or is any inmate of your household or any clerk in your store hostile to woman suffrage? If so this company will decline to insure your premises except at double rates.

Secretary Bryan is understood to be in favor of giving the ballot to women and will therefore be immune from the misfortune which overtook Premier Asquith, who, while ascending the steps leading to his office, was compelled to leave his breeches as a souvenir with enraged militant suffragettes, who resented his antagonism to their cause, and in expressing their displeasure proceeded to extremities.

TROUBLES OF A VOWEL.

H. Vowel, a banker of Chicago, connected with the Central Trust Company of Illinois, knows how to commiserate the perplexities of the man who drew an elephant in a raffle. As receiver of such remnants of Rice's circus as may be found in Illinois, Mr. Vowel finds it consonant with his duties to care for not only an elephant but several Bengal tigers, an assortment of lions, enough monkeys to supply the department of State with a lot of Chautauqua lecturers, a kangaroo who can out-hop Holy Hiram when he is doing his best and —strange wards of a banker—a lot of wild cats.

Mr. Vowel declares that the greatest difficulty he finds in performing his duties arises from his inability to pick out his own animals, for the assets of the late circus are scattered. The boss tiger—Murphy—is in Tammany Hall, the principal hyena, Sulzer—is prowling around the Sixth Ward slums in New York City looking for a Progressive Assembly nomination. The Bull Moose has started for a voyage up the Amazon, and Tooplous—the loudest braying jackass in the collection—is running a couple of one-cent Progressive newspapers in Los Angeles.

The a, e, i, o, u's of Mr. Vowel have an exceedingly difficult task to perform.

WAKING UP.

Sometimes a man arouses himself from a bad dream to find that his waking state is worse than a nightmare. When Col. Harvey edited Harper's Weekly it was more old-fashioned than any other periodical excepting the Century. With Norman Hapgood as editor, the staid old weekly wouldn't know itself if it looked at itself in the mirror. It is almost a futurist magazine and muckraker. It now buys copy from William Rose Benet, Oliver Herford, Wallace Irwin and Lincoln Steffens. Besides writing three pages of editorial every week, Hapgood indites a two or three-page muckraking story. The latter are rather in the nature of the feature editorial, containing more sentiment than information. The paper's illustrations are more radical than its writing and if possible they are more unlovely. We had hoped that Hapgood would strike a happy medium. Perhaps, like some other editors, he has decided that the almighty dollar is the happiest of all mediums.

THE POWER BOND PROPOSITIONS.

The City Council within the present week, probably today or tomorrow, will have before it again the resolution declaring the necessity for voting bonds for the purpose of completing power plant No. 1 of the aqueduct power project and for constructing or acquiring a distributing electric plant within the city. The question at issue is whether or not the two items shall be submitted to the people separately for their decision, or combined in one.

Six votes are required to adopt a resolution of this character. Last week only five votes could be mustered. Councilman Conwell protested that combining these two items in one proposition would disfranchise a large number of voters, as it would prevent them expressing their sentiments on each. He insisted that to deprive the people of the right to express themselves on each proposition is un-American and unfair. He pointed out that the very fact that certain of the Councilmen deem it necessary to combine the issues in the hope of carrying the bonds, showed that there is a division of sentiment among the people that should be allowed true expression.

Today an emissary of the men who want to force through the combined proposition has gone to Coachella Valley to seek to induce Councilman Reed, who is absent on sick leave, to return to the Council chamber and cast his vote for the combination. It is declared that Reed must be brought back even if he has to be carried on a stretcher.

It is strange that in the face of the demand of the Chamber of Commerce, the Municipal League and a separate petition to the Mayor signed by more than 100 leading business firms of Los Angeles, all asking that the two items be submitted to the people as separate propositions, there should be five and possibly six members of the City Council who cannot see the handwriting on the wall.

That the people of Los Angeles would favor the direct issue of authorizing $1,250,000 bonds for the purpose of completing the power plant, so that it may be in a position to create electrical energy, is a reasonable conclusion. The plant stands uncompleted with many thousands of dollars tied up in the investment. Good business sense would indicate that this plant must be finished as soon as possible, so that the people may begin to get a direct return on their investment, through the production and use of the aqueduct power.

But there is a grave question in the minds of thousands as to the advisability of placing an additional burden of $5,250,000 upon the taxpayers of this city for the purpose of constructing a distributing system at this time, when there is a good one already available.

The stubborn facts must be faced that although the city has increased its taxable wealth enormously during the past year, the tax rate has not diminished, but has increased; that there are means at hand for the use of the city's power without involving the outlay at this time of a dollar for a distributing plant, and that would at once provide a revenue from the power plant, and that any well-balanced business concern would certainly consider such an arrangement for the present, rather than piling up a mountain of indebtedness.

If the voters of Los Angeles are not to be allowed to express their real wishes on these two propositions, there is every reason to believe that they will strongly resent it. Naturally the most effective way to express this resentment will be to vote against the combined bond issues; and if such a proposition is presented it may be safely predicted that it will go down to defeat, as it must have a two-thirds majority to carry.

Such was the situation when a combined proposition for plant-completion and a distributing system was presented last year. In the face of a strong demand at this time for separate issues, the results in a new election would be even more disastrous to the combination.

The city will save no expense by putting the two items separately upon the ballot, but it is as certain as election forecasts can be, that in such case the people would willingly authorize the bonds for the completion of the power plant. The acquirement of a distributing system is a distinct issue from this completion of the plant and should be submitted thus for the consideration of the voters.

Evidently the purpose of urging a combination of the issues is to force the completion of the plant to carry the other item of $5,250,000 through. It is highly improbable that this scheme would gain the combination many votes. The thinking taxpayer who is opposed to the creation of a $5,250,000 additional indebtedness at this time for a distributing system, but who is in favor of completing the plant and putting it into a revenue-producing condition, will well know that if the combined issues are defeated the City Council will have to devise means for getting money to complete the plant by calling another election on this one item as soon as it can be legally done, and there is little doubt that the voter will hesitate at the expense of another election if he is opposed to the creation at this time of an enormous debt for a distribution system.

It is unwise to try to drive the voters of Los Angeles to support a combined proposition, willy-nilly. They won't be driven. And it is to be hoped that members of the City Council will not meekly submit their necks to the Earl yoke and yield themselves to a programme which will deprive the citizens of Los Angeles of an opportunity of making a true record at the polls of their wishes. Every Councilman who bends his head to Earl will be a marked man.

A SURE-ENOUGH PROGRESSIVE.

The Progressives in the judicial election in Illinois last week lost 5000 votes; but on the other hand it will be claimed that they partly recouped that trifling loss by gaining William Sulzer for a guide, philosopher and friend.

The ex-Governor has shaken the dust of Democracy from his feet, and announces that henceforth he will be a Progressive. Good! He will prove true to type. If the constituents of the Sixth Assembly District in New York are anything like those of its namesake, the Sixth Ward, there are strong grounds to believe that Sulzer will succeed in being elected to the lower house of the Legislature. Horace Greeley was once a candidate for Congress in that district. He was opposed by John Morrissey, the gambler and retired pugilist. The ex-pounder was elected. When some friends of Greeley expressed their indignation at the result, the Tribune philosopher replied: "What else could have been expected? Ours is a representative government, and why should a community of thieves and blackguards be required to elect a gentleman to represent them?"

"Facilis decensus averni" is a proverb that Gov. Sulzer is illustrating by his step down stairs into the Progressive organization. The bulk of the Progressive party in Los Angeles is composed of honest, patriotic citizens, who ardently desired to better political conditions, and who were misled into believing that such a result might be achieved under the leadership of E. Tobias Earl. It is different in New York City. The Progressive party there is controlled by discarded politicians, bogus reformers, rapacious job-hunters and wailing three-time losers. It is altogether fitting that ex-Gov. Sulzer, who has been one of the most notorious holier-than-thou pretenders the nation ever produced, should cast his future fortunes with this mob of political miscreants. Like seeks like, and what could be more appropriate than that this heroic humbug and prince of poseurs should ally himself with the other humbugs of the Empire State? Where is a man impeached of felony to go unless he goes to the welcoming arms of political porch-climbers? Does anybody expect him to join the Y.M.C.A?

A factitious sympathy has been created for Sulzer because his conviction for perjury and corrupt conduct in office was engineered by Boss Murphy. It was a case of Satan rebuking sin, but Satan's rebuke would have been disregarded if the sin had not been committed.

Thirty-two hundred rascal-beguiled voters in Sulzer's district obtained his nomination for Assemblyman and probably the same vote will elect him; but it is difficult to believe that the members of the Assembly from the northern and western counties of the State, or the non-tainted wards of Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx will ever consent to disgrace and dishonor the Empire State by electing him Speaker.

Sulzer a Progressive boss! Of course, yes! He is the real stuff of which the Progressive bosses are made. Johnson, Heney, Guy Eddie, Earl, Sulzer. Look at 'em!

IT BLOOMS ALONE.

Out of the inky blackness of night
twinkle the pure little stars; in the gutter blooms the fragrant rose; in an otherwise wicked world beams the chaste radiance of the Society for Civic Betterment that guards us while we sleep.

The environment of this society is as strange as that of the rose of the gutter;
it blooms in the office of the Express-Tribune and is fertilized by E. Tobias Earl.
Like the last rose of summer, it blooms alone.

Like other great philanthropic movements, the Society for Civic Betterment does most of its great works in secret. The only time the public has heard of it was when the name of the society was signed to a circular imploring the public to stop buying an evening newspaper because it was ruining the business of the Earl newspapers.

From this single and singular appearance, many persons have uncharitably inferred that there is no Society for Civic Betterment—that the Society for Civic Betterment is E. T. Earl and E. T. Earl is the Society for Civic Betterment.

But we know that this cannot be. Feeling back into the past, we can see illuminated footprints where the Society for Civic Betterment has trod before. Who can doubt that it was this same great, pure power that helped to build up the characters of the orange growers by swindling them on railroad rebates.

In our blindness we did not before realize that it was the Society for Civic Betterment helping out California by trying to induce the State to build the State boulevard sixty miles off the route, rambling all around Antelope Valley in a wandering trip from one of Earl's ranches to another. It was also the Society of Civic Betterment that took the fake photographs intended to deceive the highway commissioners as to the conditions along the Tejon route.

The identity of the modest philanthropist who tried to poke half a million dollars into Mr. Earl's pockets in the Home Telephone rate case is now clear. Once it was thought that it was Earl trying to fill his own pockets. But now every one must realize that it was the "Society for Civic Betterment" at work.

Huh! But "there ain't no such thing!"

The Handicap Race.

"FREE" BEEF WILL NOT BE CHEAPER BEEF.

Right on the heels of enactment of the low-tariff, free-list law comes official announcement by the United States Department of Agriculture that the department's experts cannot see possibility of relief from the high cost of living through shipments of "free" beef from Canada, Mexico, Argentina or any other country.

This information is important, not because it is new, for it isn't; but because it confirms the assertion that was made by those who knew conditions during all the time when the impossible relief was promised for partisan purposes.

The department's bulletin contains statistics which show that there is nowhere in the world a surplus of beef which imported into the United States would cause a reduction of the price. It is stated that England alone could probably take all the foreign beef available for export, to say nothing of the new markets which have grown in other European countries; that "we shall therefore have to bid against England and other purchasers of foreign beef, and this competition will tend to keep up prices. It must be remembered, too, that this foreign beef is not up to the standard quality of our corn-fed beef."

Prices must continue to increase "unless improved methods are adopted by the meat producers of the United States," says the bulletin. Reliance for relief must be placed upon the farms of this country, which, the department says, have almost unlimited possibilities for live-stock production. If the farmers can be shown how to produce live stock at a reasonable profit, and how to get a ready market for it when produced, they can and will furnish all the beef that is needed.

Such a statement from a department of the government, under an administration of the party that promised relief from the high cost of living through tariff reduction, has the merit of frankness even while it reveals the bad faith of the promise.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

We pay our statesmen princely sums and hand them all the luscious plums, and boost and love them; and when at last they come to die, we pile their granite shafts sky high, and weep above them. And when they're dead two years or one, and some one asks what they had done that really counted, we have to wrench our thought-works loose if we'd recall to what the deuce their deeds amounted. We brag a lot about our schools, where knowledge lies around in pools, in heaps and slathers; and to the pedagogues we pay as much a year as in a day the statesman gathers.
We hand the teachers charming words; we tell them they are peaches, birds, and honeycoolers; we give them kindly, cordial looks, when they are tired of slates and books and kids and rulers. We split our nickels when we pay them for the work that makes them gray while in their thirties; the way we treat the folks who train this boastful nation's heart and brain our record dirties. And when the teacher dies, some day, from having lived too long on hay and river water, we do not loosen up a cent to buy a fitting monument, as we had ought ter.

WALT MASON.

[Copyright, 1913, by George Matthew Adams.]

Not Headed That Way.

[Monthly Magazine:] A good many years ago a steamer was sailing down the river, with a shrewd old Yankee captain in command. Suddenly the engines stopped, and there was nothing doing for several minutes. The passengers began to talk it over among themselves, and one of them, a portly, persistent sort of person, advanced pompously to the captain.

"What seems to be the trouble, cap'n?" he inquired. "Why have we stopped?"

"Too much fog," answered the skipper curtly. "We can't see up the river."

"But I can see the stars overhead quite plainly," argued the persistent party.

"Mebbe ye can," admitted the captain grimly, "but unless the billers bust we ain't goin' that way."

THE PORTOLA EXPEDITION.

Contemporary Sources of Information.
BY ROCKWELL D. HUNT.

Few events in our early California history are more amply authenticated and supported by contemporary accounts than is the famous Portola expedition of 1769, resulting—as it did, accidentally—in the discovery of the San Francisco Bay by the Spaniards.

Remarkable, if not without precedent, is the fact that there are extant the personal diaries of no fewer than eight of the actual participants in this expedition which marked the real entrance of the military and religious forces of Spain into Alta California. These copious accounts may be supplemented still further by a considerable body of correspondence of various officials whose interest in the results of the undertaking invest them with a certain amount of authority.

It will be recalled that the Portola expedition reached San Diego, which became the site of the first Franciscan mission as well as the first California presidio, in four divisions. Of these, two came by the Spanish vessels San Antonio and San Carlos. Of the land parties the first, under Capt. Fernando Xavier Rivera y Moncada, arrived at San Diego on the 14th day of May, 1769; and the second, under Gaspar de Portola, commander-in-chief, reached the same point July 1. Junipero Serra, who had been appointed father-president of the Franciscan missions, accompanied Portola, and both these distinguished leaders have left journals of the march. Mr. Theodore Hittell, one of our well-known historians of California, has suggested July 1, 1769, as the natal day of Alta California, marking as it did the completion of the noteworthy expedition which signalized the actual occupation of this fair land.

A fortnight later the main body of the Spanish party at San Diego set out overland, under command of Capt. Portola, for Monterey, depending almost wholly for their meager knowledge of that harbor and its surroundings upon the old records of the famous voyage of Sebastian Vizcaino of 1602-1603, one of the few really significant voyages preceding actual occupation.

The world in general knows the results of this eventful journey under Portola, and San Francisco in particular has glorified the accidental discovery of the magnificent harbor that had so curiously escaped the eye of every navigator from the time of Cabrillo by establishing as an annual celebration the "Portola Festival."

In the interest of historical accuracy it should be stated that Capt Portola was not himself the discoverer of San Francisco Bay. Severely stricken with the scurvy, he dispatched Lieut. Jose Francisco Ortega with three men to proceed, if possible, to Point Reyes, depending on Vizcaino's description. On this journey it was that Ortega, a lieutenant of Portola, discovered San Francisco Bay, also La Entrada, or the Golden Gate. A number of Ortega's descendants are now resident in Los Angeles.

Among the agencies that have served to make available to the student as well as the general public the leading contemporaneous accounts of the Portola expedition, "The Land of Sunshine" (later "Out West,") under the editorship of Mr. Charles F. Lummis, is deserving of prominence. In the July, 1901, number appears an English translation of the official account of the Portola expedition, which had been published in the full Spanish text by the California Historical Society in 1874.

The complete account written by Miguel Costanso, bearing the date October 24, 1770, appeared in English translation in "The Land of Sunshine," June and July, 1901. The diario of Junipero Serra, covering the land expedition ending at San Diego, July 1, 1769, was made public through a translation into English in several numbers of "Out West" for 1902.

The highest service to students of early California history has been rendered still more recently by the Academy of Pacific Coast History. This organization, conceived in the brain of Prof. H. Morse Stephens shortly after the great Bancroft collection was acquired by the University of California in 1905, was formally approved by the university regents in 1907, thus making the Bancroft Library itself "the indispensable nucleus of a great research library, like that of the British Museum," having for its object "the promotion of the study of the political, social, commercial and industrial history, and the ethnology, geography and literature of the Pacific Coast of America, and the publication of monographs, historical documents, and other historical material relating thereto."

The publications of the academy began in 1909. Thus several volumes of historical sources have already made their appearance, under the editorship of Frederick J. Teggart, curator of the Bancroft collection, and other officers of the academy. No other single topic has received the amount of attention that has been accorded to the Portola expedition. Volume I contains, in the Spanish text and English translation, "The Official Account of the Portola Expedition of 1769-1770," edited by Mr. Teggart; "Diary of Gaspar de Portola during the California Expedition of 1769-1770," edited by Donald Smith and Mr. Teggart; and "The Narrative of the Portola Expedition of 1769-1770 by Miguel Costanso," edited by Adolph van Hemert-Engert and Mr. Teggart. Still other sources are made available in the second volume of the academy's publications, as follows: "The Portola Expedition of 1769-1770, Diary of Vicente Vila," edited by Robert S. Rose; "Expedition to San Francisco Bay in 1770, Diary of Pedro Fages," edited by Prof. Herbert E. Bolton; "The Portola Expedition of 1769-1770, Diary of Miguel Costanso," edited by Mr. Teggart.

Thus becomes apparent at once the important service being rendered to the cause of our western seaboard history by this new agency of research and publication—too little known hitherto—the Academy of Pacific Coast History.

The Junior Member Speaks.

[Judge:] The several members of the family had been telling what they would do if they owned the world. Mother would abolish poverty. Father would provide absolute justice for all. Sister Sarah would give every woman the vote.

Finally the views of 10-year-old Johnny were sought.

"What 'ud I do if I owned the world?" said he, looking up from a geography he had been studying. "Well, I'll tell you what I'd do. First I'd get old Atlas to sign up two baseball teams among his brothers and cousins; then I'd lay out a diamond on the Desert of Sahara, put the Rocky Mountains around it for a fence, give the players the moon for a ball and the North Pole for a bat, and, say maybe I wouldn't sit on top of Pike's Peak and see some ball game!"

What Harry Thaw needs is a Pankhurst or an Eddie Plank who can "put it over."

Los Angeles has all sorts of sporting organizations, and some folks include bowling clubs in the list.

President Wilson has joined the Washington Y.M.C.A. He will be running with the fire company next.

The ten-million-dollar "hands around the State" band is now on tour. Wonder if the bass-drummer can keep step!

This is the last week of the season of the Pacific Coast League. The stove-league will now get busy for 1914.

Ex-Gov. Sulzer has been nominated by the New York Assembly. Will his old friend, Jacob H. Schiff, pass the hat?

Perhaps the government is in favor of the Angora goat project on the ground that the mutton supply is growing short.

Some day a boy of the Los Angeles High School will revive old memories by reciting the "Charge of the Light Brigade."

The local Roumanians have organized. What have the local Servians, Montenegrins and Bulgarians to say about it?

President Wilson is not the first politician able to step so lightly that he could walk over a bank of piano keys and not make a noise.

The up-State woman who awakened after being asleep for six years has gone to sleep again. Oh, well, the world's series is over.

It would doubtless have been a better advertisement for Mrs. Pankhurst if she had not been allowed to land. Militancy thrive on opposition.

A Hindoo professor says that plants get tired. Perhaps that is what ails the century plant, as one hundred years are required for it to bloom.

There are still a lot of folks who believe that red flannel is a sovereign remedy for rheumatism, and perish the iconoclast who would destroy the superstition.

Judging by the recent appointments by President Wilson, these are great days for the college presidents, provided they win the right sort of a ticket.

"The same old Bill" Sulzer now says that Murphy wanted to hand him money. Bill must have been a sort of Svengali person, everybody proffering him coin.

The Oregon woman Mayor who has discharged the City Attorney and the police-man and runs the whole place herself has nothing to learn from Mrs. Pankhurst.

The President having settled the San Francisco postoffice fight, the fight over the passage of the currency bill probably sinks into insignificance.

It is now reported that the cause of female suffrage is making progress in China. But we do not note that the numerous wives of Yuan Shi Kai have joined the ranks of the sisters.

Meanwhile President Wilson is not telling what his ideas are as to an "adequate navy," or when independence will be accorded the Filipinos. Don't hurry. There's plenty of time.

There is a good deal of information in the misleading sort afloat about the late ex-Lieut.-Gov. Tim L. Woodruff. He was not born a poor boy, and when he attended Yale College was the glass of fashion.

Eugene Walter, the playwright, is "in our midst." Remember 'Gene when he was advance agent of Al G. Fields' minstrel troupe, and carried his wardrobe in a half page of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Emperor William has consented to accept one-half of a fortune of $20,000,000 bequeathed to him by an eccentric German admirer, and thus avoid a lawsuit. Kaiser William can scent trouble as well as the next one.

It now seems settled that Christopher Columbus had red hair and whiskers, the fact having been determined by the discovery of some very old prints of the discoverer. If this had been known before, the enthusiasm for the Genoese sailor would have been more subdued.

A REAL VACATION.

Some day I'd like to take a real vacation—
To get away from stress and strife awhile,
To find some corner free from observation,
And wear old clothes that now are out of style.
To eat my breakfast maybe in pajamas
With no one there to notice how I be,
To find some place of refuge that's a calm as An island in the South Pacific Sea.

I'd like to find some undiscovered haven
Where other people never could intrude;
I'd like to go a week or so unshaven,
By barbers and their razors unpursued.
I'd like to puff a pipe, a good and strong one,
With no one there to kick about the smoke;
I'd like to drink a lemonade, a long one;
I'd like to sit around and talk and joke.

I'd like to walk barefooted in the grasses,
I'd like to dig my tootsies in the dirt,
I'd like to get afar from looking-glasses
And put away the armor-plated shirt.
I'd like to ditch the necktie and the collar,
I'd like to get along without a cuff,
I'd like to get along without a cuff,
With no one in the neighborhood to holler
And say I looked and acted like a tough.

I'd like to be a little elemental,
And have the kind of time that Adam had;
I'd like to lead a peaceful life and gentle—
I want a real vacation, sure enough, to make it.
The real vacation will I need to roam?
To what location will I need to go?
Aha, I know the place I'd better take it—
The only place to take it is at home.

THE POLITICAL WATCHTOWER

The problem with the Progressive bosses just now is how to shelve F. J. Heney. The Roosevelt followers are having about all the worries and woes that they care for, and they are not going out to look for more if they can help themselves. The elimination of Heney, it is agreed, must be effected; but it is hoped by the bosses that his effacement can be brought about without causing any more factional troubles in the party. They have enough of them as matters stand. But it is agreed that Heney as a candidate for the United States Senate is impossible, and undebatable. The Progressive leaders are bluntly saying so; and it is becoming generally known that Gov. Johnson is among those who hold to this view. The breach between Heney and Hiram is reported to be more serious than the Progressives care to admit. Nevertheless, close personal and political friends of the Governor are my authority for saying that his lordship is sick and disgusted with Heney and his imaginary importance. The Governor has told Heney that he has not definitely decided to forego the Senatorial toga himself, and that until he has reached a final conclusion it would be well for Francis Joseph to hold his horses. The Governor's action in hiking across the continent to hear himself talk in Massachusetts and New Jersey, neglecting his State duties, and giving the people of San Francisco to understand that he doesn't care a rap whether they are having a Portola celebration or not, he won't attend or help them. As between California and the Eastern States, the Governor says plainly he prefers those on the Atlantic Coast; the Portola can finish out for all he cares.

Up the San Joaquin Valley way they are charging Heney's candidacy to R. T. Earl. Nobody else can be found to say a good word for the man who brags about his ability to "pull a gun" except the local paper printer. Through Santa Barbara, Kern and Tulare counties the politicians of the Progressive faith refuse to regard Heney as a sure-enough contender, but they do not like the notion getting abroad that they would even think of setting their seal of approval or disapproval upon him. They seem to be animated with the sentiment that it is bad enough to have Heney regarded as one of their leaders; there can be no denying the anxiety and dissatisfaction that his announcement has created. And so, if it shall prove to be the elimination of the gun-fighter from the political scene in California, surely there will be no denying that, after all, his candidacy proved to be of some real benefit.

Chimmy Phelan of San Francisco may find decided opposition in his race for the Democratic support for Senator. Conceded that his campaign is already well under way, his closest friends are not so strong in their choice of success as they were even a month ago. They are hearing that Assemblyman Griffin of Modesto is urged by his friends to get into this race, and if he does he will be some contender. Griffin played into the hands of the laborites at the Legislature and they regard him as an ideal candidate. And as he has a large pile of the root of all evil, at least such as cement gumdrops up the valley, he appeals to the labor agitators in more respects than one. Griffin also stood well with labor last year when he was candidate for Presidential elector on the Democratic ticket, and shared with Senator Del Valle of Los Angeles the honor and distinction of being one of the two lone electoral votes that Wilson received in this State. There had been some talk of Griffin in connection with the Governorship with the Bourbon ranks, but this has turned toward Fred Hall of Orange county, and Griffin's friends are urging him for the Senatorship. They say around Tulare and Kern county they are about ready to lynch anybody who fails to choose a seat in the Hall bandwagon, and the Kern county Democrats are also Phelan has some friends who expect to see him make his peace with Hearst. It is no longer denied that Hearst is seeking to secure control of the Democratic State Committee; and with a few more appointments like Caminetti and a few others not so far from home that might be mentioned, the national administration will be open to the charge of assisting Hearst in his aspirations, all protestations to the contrary notwithstanding. Hearst isn't confining himself and his efforts solely to the political parties of the State. He is manufacturing booster clubs, Lady Gwendolyn Leagues and press clubs. Up in San Francisco his henchmen have succeeded to the extent of electing that "grand old man" of the prize-fighting arena, Bill Naughton, to the high and dignified position of president of the San Francisco Press Club. One of President Bill's most recent duties was to arrange for a classy dinner in honor and justification of that apostle of newspaper cleanliness and moral uplife, the Hon. "Long Green" Andy Lawrence of Chicago. It was some swell event, according to the confidential account that I have been entrusted with. With two or three such "doings" in honor of other high and mighty "sports," the Tarpey boomlet for Governor will be reinforced and reiterated by a corresponding bunch of writers, who may not know that they are being utilized for Michael Forward Tarpey by that paragon of Democracy, Willie Runaway Hearst.

Mike Tarpey's candidacy for the Governorship was outlined in this column of The Times many weeks ago, although it was not on the card of Tarpey's combination to make the formal announcement until his return from Washington, where he interfered with the California wine men and their efforts to save themselves and their industries from annihilation by the Democrats in Congress. Theodore Bell performed the service, but Tarpey beat him to the Coast, and as he is the Hearst candidate for Governor, he is being tooted and touted as the "man who did it." Tarpey may prove to be something more than a joke, for he is an experienced campaigner, but when it comes to hearing that he has a suspicion of even a remoteness of ever being elected, it is time to say: "Good night!"

Industrial Parade of Aqueduct Celebration to be Classified According to Character of Work Represented.

Secretary Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce, who has charge of the industrial parade feature of the aqueduct celebration, has formed fourteen divisions. Each division represents a different class of industry. Entries are coming rapidly in and Secretary Wiggins believes the parade will eclipse that given in 1908.

Word was received from Congressman Nolan yesterday accepting an invitation to be here for the celebration. Secretary Davison, who has charge of the invitations, expects to hear from a number of notables during the coming week.

Motion pictures will be taken of he exercises when the Owens River water is turned into the cascades November 5, and these, together with views of the parade the following day, will find their way to all the moving picture houses of the country. A large platform elevated above the heads of the spectators will be erected at the aqueduct mouth for the convenience of motion picture photographers and other camera men.

UNLUCKY IN LOVE.

Her First Affair Makes Her a Widow, Second a Forger, and Now She Would Kill Herself.

Mrs. Abbie I. Keller had a second love affair that was worse than her first. The first made her a widow and the second made her a forger.

With her children, a girl and a boy, she lived in the Knox Hotel, No. 317 West Fourth street. When she was separated from her husband, she moved downtown and went to work in a department store.

Then came the second love in her life. It was a doctor who fascinated her. From her first husband she had received some $2000 in settlement of the domestic affairs. The doctor, who was also suitor, needed ready funds, and Mrs. Keller, confident in her love, gave him freely of her savings.

When her little bank account was exhausted, the doctor's love became exhausted, too. She decided that she was a very poor judge of sweethearts. Money was gone, things were desperate, and she had to have food.

So she went out and got it. Forged checks did it. Fortunately, she thought, she picked up a bankbook lost by a Mrs. J. J. Webster, and used it in preparing her checks.

All her life she has lived in Los Angeles, and every old member of the police department recognized in her a young girl they used to know. So the hour was even more bitter than she expected, and she wanted to kill herself. She will be arraigned today.

You can fortify your entire system against disease—you can add vim and vigor to your whole constitution—by the consistent use of a good mineral water.

Standing alone in its class, the high regard in which WHITE ROCK WATER is held by the doctors of today is attested by its enormous sale.

We apologize in advance, but we intend to do it. It really is necessary. Only by telling you the facts can you realize the conditions prevailing in regard to our prices on Men's Suits and Overcoats this year.

We have started this fall's business with a determination to win the men of Los Angeles into this store.

We know there is only one way to do that—to give superior values. And by superior we mean superior, and nothing else.

Therefore the suits and overcoats in this store will be sold at a lower margin than ever in our history.

Suits which would have cost you $20 some years ago can be had for $15 today.

$25 suits have been marked closer.

And so on up the scale.

It was impossible for anyone to do justice to a real Paris display before the date announced for our Opening, as most of the Paris manufacturers did not show their styles before the 15th of August; Callot Soeurs did not open for display before the 21st of August, and Paul Poiret's last show was August 24th. Thereby any person can figure that if the goods were shown that late in Paris, for a house to make a worthy, genuine and thorough display it would be almost impossible to do it before the time that we have set for this grand display.

"Hangtown" re-enacted by the Native Sons;

THE LIFE OF FORTY-NINE.

Dress Rehearsals for "Hangtown Week" Begun by the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West.

Members of the Native Sons and Daughters yesterday began dress rehearsals of the spectacle of "Hangtown," to be presented for one week, beginning November 3, at the old postoffice site, Seventh street and Grand avenue. A replica of the streets and famous resorts of the mining camp as it appeared in '49 will be shown.

Mother Grady's boarding-house, the "First Chance," "Last Chance" and "Red Light" saloons will be reproduced. There will be fake hangings, shooting scrapes and brawls. A different dramatic spectacle is planned for each evening.

Many of the Native Sons and Daughters will appear in costume. Judge York, it is announced, will be seen in the dress of the old-time justice of the peace.

The entertainment will include vaudeville in the "opry" house, music by the People's Orchestra and other musical aggregations. Mrs. Fred Dorn will sing one evening. There will be dancing, and the management will encourage a carnival spirit. William Stoermer is managing director of the spectacle.

"Hangtown" is given to raise money to entertain the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons, which meets in this city next April, when about 15,000 out-of-town visitors are expected.

The Native Sons have arranged with Secretary Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce to have a division in the industrial parade on November 5. Men in the costume of the "forty-niners" will ride in the old Banning stage coach. The Native Sons' band also will be in the procession.

OFFICIAL ON TRIAL.

FRESNO, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Before a jury of twelve stern Fresnoans, and perhaps women may be called to act as jurors, George S. Waterman, City Trustee from the first ward will plead his own case on a charge of exceeding the speed limit on the afternoon of October 24. The case will come up in the Police Court. Waterman is alleged to have traveled a block at the rate of twenty-four miles an hour. The State laws allows but sixteen. He was timed by two patrolmen with stop watches. Waterman banks on his speedometer and says he was within the law. He says that it will not require the services of an attorney to break down the testimony of the officers as he is going to close his eyes and trust in his own merits as a barrister.

Not only will you discover the ease with which everything you wear can be made on a "NATURE FORM," but to bring out your own ideas in style and design, will be an irresistible incentive for you to make everything that you now pay out money to have made. Where's Capt. Kinder?

OUT OF GOLDEN GATE, THEN SEEN NO MORE

FEARS are entertained by friends of Capt. Walter Kinder, formerly of San Diego, but more recently of Balboa, that he has been lost at sea while attempting to travel from San Francisco to Balboa in a thirty-foot launch.

The last heard of Capt. Kinder was in a letter which he wrote to friends in Los Angeles from San Francisco. It was dated September 15 and told of his expected trip to Balboa in a new thirty-foot launch he had purchased. The letter stated that he was to start the next day—September 16—and that he would be accompanied by two men whose names he did not mention, but who he said knew a little about engines and very little about boats in general.

Capt. Kinder had been in San Diego nine years and owned the San Diego boathouse. About six months ago he sold out his business in San Diego and came to Los Angeles, eventually deciding to locate at Balboa. Together with a few friends he planned to build an apartment-house at the beach city and make it his permanent home. Business affairs called him to San Francisco and from there he made a trip back into the interior of the State.

He had stated before going north that he was in the market to purchase a gasoline launch for use at Balboa and had tried to secure the he wanted at Los Angeles harbor, but failing in this, said that he would in San Francisco.

His friends state that upon his return to San Francisco from the interior he purchased a launch and decided to come in it to Balboa.

Since that time nothing has been heard of him, his boat or any of his unknown companions.

It is feared he has met engine trouble and that his boat drifted to sea out of the pathway of coast vessels.

For a few weeks after the non-arrival little thought was given to Capt. Kinder until finally C. E. Carpenter of No. 929 North Harvard boulevard became interested as the result of a letter from Mrs. Emma Kinder of Fourth street, Coronado Beach, in which she stated her fears as to the outcome of the voyage and asked Carpenter to look into the matter. Carpenter spent several days investigating the whereabouts of Capt. Kinder, but failed to find the slightest clew. He had evidently sailed out of the Golden Gate and dropped from sight.

Capt. Kinder is well-to-do and the search for news concerning him has been accelerated owing to business conditions surrounding a silver mine in Sonora which he owns and which has recently proven a good producer.

The life-saving stations between San Diego and San Francisco have been notified to be on the lookout for any evidence as to the fate of Capt. Kinder.

Panama Fears Oblivion

land of the greatest American conquest.

"Who is to have the great, historic credit for the canal?" he was asked, as he touched a light to a Cuban cigarette. "To whom are the honors due, Roosevelt, Taft, or—"

"To Col. Goethals," he answered, crisply, finally. "The time was ripe for Roosevelt; Taft merely followed in line with policy; Wilson will stand in history, in regards to the canal, as do his predecessors. Goethals is the brain and the might, the personification of the great work.

"Goethals hewed out the ditch with his finger on the button that controlled 50,000 men. To him the American people—the world—owes the canal. To him history will give the credit."

After no little elaboration on Goethals'—eulogistic, convincing statements with presentation of statistics with which the layman north of the isthmus, and south of it, is unacquainted—Duque discussed the republic of Panama itself, and its future.

"The people have been aroused by the American spirit to a real sense of the value of their powers and their manhood. They must do things—not revolutions or talk, but progress as the citizens of the United States have progressed.

THE FUTURE.

"And with this awakening to come a natural fear born of what is to be Panama's future when the canal is finished and the activity of work has been removed; after Panama, in the course of events, reassumes its position in the world's commerce she eventually feels she must look to; after international travel over the canal is dead, when removed from the lips of those who have daily discussed it.

"Forty thousand tourists, more as we figure—are to be the mainstay of Panama; tourists who principally. On those she must depend. Certainly, our people increase. We count on having a million residents within a few years. Agricultural possibilities are great and for agriculturists and planters and coffee planters and bankers there is a wondrous field in Panama."

On the Asiatic question he said: "Chinese overrun the country in spite the law passed a few years ago. The republic is a heavy provision and produce must be earned, in the hands of Chinese tals. Out of 3000 Chinese I to approximate, 1800 are in the country, even though they papers to retain their presence.

"These papers were sold to corrupt government officials in administrations and before the United States Charge d'Affaires was appointed from Washington to them as Consul.

"He is on a great work of tration now, in an effort to their rights and to depart that will not be able to account for selves."

Dwelling on the Wilson tration and its attitude in as it may relate to Central Duque declared Wilson is bent off the inevitable.

"Intervention cannot be he said. "The United eventually go south and control of Mexico as we aragua. That means a loss of life, millions of money and, perhaps, a us call it—protectorate.

"Ultimately—intervention be subsequented in any the United States from Stars and Stripe south to mus."

WOLVERTON IS KNOCKED OUT.

Bill James Drops Him With Mighty Right.

Went Out Behind Barn in Old-Fashioned Style.

Result of an Old-Time, Big League Feud.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harry Wolverton and Bill James, the tall Portland pitcher, fought a one-round battle before the game today, and the leader of the Wolves took the count.

He discreetly kept out of sight until such time as he could spirit himself homeward to nurse a badly cut and blackened optic.

James came out of the fracas with a badly bruised thumb. He had been slated to twirl the opening game, but when he took the side lines to warm up he found that he was hors du combat, as far as pitching was concerned.

Players have been expecting the Wolverton-James outbreak for some time. Personal antipathy is said to date back to last year, when James was with Cleveland and Wolverton leading the New York Americans, the two having had trouble in eastern climes. During this season the two men have engaged in verbal combat on several occasions, and the climax came, it is said, when James voiced some remarks of a personal nature which rubbed Wolverton's temper the wrong way.

Today was the first time the two had met since this latest cause of bad blood. James was talking to some of the players outside of the clubhouse when Wolverton put in an appearance. The Sacramento manager approached the Portland pitcher and is said to have defied him to make good on his personal remarks. Report has it that Wolverton landed the first blow, and the players gathered around as the two men set to in a speedy encounter that would have done justice to a couple of light weights.

When James landed a right to the head that gashed Wolverton's eye and sent him down for the count, the other players stepped in and put an end to the fracas. James helped Wolverton to his feet, and, his grudge having been fully satisfied, extended his hand to the defeated manager and offered his apologies. For a few minutes it looked as though the other members of the team would mix, and that a general free-for-all would ensue, but better judgment prevailed. The players adjourned to the field, leaving the two principals to patch up their wounds as best they could.

From a Carr Window

My old friend, Judge Craig, created a mild sensation yesterday by trying to guess what the Legislature meant by the truly amazing boxing law of this State.

Some years ago, the Legislature passed a law prohibiting boxing matches. But to this law was added an amendment stipulating that nothing in the law prohibiting boxing matches should be understood to prohibit boxing matches.

Ever since which time, the courts have been trying to decide whether the legislators had their fingers crossed when they passed the law or when they tacked on the amendment.

The law is not only ridiculous but was frankly intended to be ridiculous by the fraction of the Legislature which killed the law, as originally passed, by tacking on the amendment.

Any attempt to define the difference between a prize fight and a boxing match must be almost as impossible as the law itself.

What is a "fight" anyhow? You hear a checker player say, "Well, that was a hard fight, but I beat you." Any struggle is a fight. If there is a prise held up for the struggle, it must be a prize fight.

One of the examples of the use of the word "fight" given by Webster's dictionary is "a fight for social recognition." I don't see why the mother of an heiress who marries a duke isn't a prize fighter if we want to be strict about it. Certainly every lawyer who wins a lawsuit and every society woman who grabs the lion of the hour for her studio tea away from some other lion-hunting lady, must stand hopelessly convicted of prize fighting.

Judge Craig holds that the essential difference between a boxing match and a prize fight is the intention to knock out. As the old bare knuckle fighters knew nothing about nerve centers and knockouts in their brutal days were unknown, they—the tough old brutes—must have been boxers and the present-day boxers with big padded gloves must be prize fighters.

TRIS SPEAKER TO TAKE SHORT TRIP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON (Mass.) Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tris Speaker of the Red Sox has been prevailed upon by Manager Callahan of the White Sox to accompany the latter on a part of the club's exhibition tour with the Giants. Speaker, however, did not join the team until today after the Cincinnati game, and then will play with the club only about a month, being unwilling to make the world tour. He will leave the White Sox when the clubs arrive at Vancouver, whence they are to sail for the Orient, and from there will go to Brownsville, Tex., for the winter.

Smoky Joe Wood has also decided not to go.

Twenty-five cars are entered in the Los Angeles-Phoenix road race and fifty men are ready to fight for the largest purse ever offered for the desert classic. The old time-worn expression, trite as it may seem, is about right this time. The largest entry list ever and the fattest purse thus far hung up is awaiting the man who reaches Phoenix in the shortest space of time.

There is unusual interest all along the line. At Yuma John Gandolfo has offered one of the handsomest trophies ever hung up for the big event. The man who makes the best time to Yuma will win this trophy, which is well worth the effort. The cup is one of the largest ever presented for the Phoenix race and is to be won this year in this event. The men of Yuma, backed by Dr. Ketcherside, are prepared to welcome the

TACOMA TO BUILD AUTO RACE TRACK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tacoma Carnival Association today acquired 250 acres of land just outside the city near Lakeview, on which to create and maintain a permanent two-mile auto speedway. Seventy acres were purchased and assignment of lease obtained to balance, which is State land; it will purchase in four years when lease expires. Speedway will be sixty feet wide on curves and thirty feet on straightaways. Course is reached by Northern Pacific, Pacific Traction and Tacoma Railway and Power lines. Grand stand seating 12,000 will extend 1500 feet along north stretch. Boxes holding eight each will take place of upper row of seats. Grand stand will be roofed.

SAM LANGFORD TRAINING HARD.

HAS KNOCKED TEN POUNDS OFF HIS WEIGHT.

Jack Lester Is Approaching Perfect Condition and Counts on His Youth and Training to Beat the Negro—White Man Is Confident. Movies Will Be Taken.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Interest of local fight fans, and particularly of those who are getting ready to back their judgment as to the chances of Sam Langford and Jack Lester in their fight at Taft next Monday, centers largely in the question of whether Langford will be able in the short time remaining to get into the almost perfect condition that Lester has attained.

Langford's backers, accordingly, are taking a lot of satisfaction in the evident effect of Sam's three days of training in the fine desert air of the Midway field, made still more wholesome and antiseptic by the spray of oil gushers.

In three days Langford has brought himself down from 200 to 190 pounds, and expects to weigh in at 180 on Monday. He says he feels as fit as he ever did in his life, and his appearance when he is at work shows it. His waist line is at least an inch shorter; he is faster on his feet than he was last Sunday, and his spirits are bubbling with good humor all the time.

Today he boxed eight rounds with Kid Kenneth and Bob Armstrong, and incidentally kept a crowd of fans laughing at his quaint jokes. Langford's regular roadwork is eight to twelve miles daily.

Meantime, the fans who most frequent Lester's camp are growing daily more confident of the white man's chance against the negro. Lester is fast approaching a perfect physical condition and is keeping up a consistent course of training. He is counting on his youth and steam to offset Langford's superior experience, but he says he is going to put up the best fight there is in him whether he wins or not.

Lester's confidence has reached the point of asking his manager to see McCarey and Coffroth when they arrive in Taft and arrange a match with Langford for him either at San Francisco or Los Angeles.

Arrangements have been made for making motion pictures of the fight. The picture men are now on the ground making pictures of the burning oil gusher of the K. T. and O.

CONDON VICTOR IN SECOND CONTEST.

Milo Condon won the first game of the second round in Morley's amateur three-cushion billiard tournament last night, defeating L. F. Lawlor, by thirty-five points to twenty-five, in sixty-seven innings. Condon made the high run of five twice, and gathered four once.

The game was close and interesting, with Lawlor leading to the fortieth inning, when Condon caught up and tied the score at eighteen points by a run of five. In the fifty-eighth turn the score was again equal at twenty-three. Condon ran out by making twelve points in the next ten innings.

Ashton and Thompson are matched for tonight.

Some Game.

OAKS BEATEN BY M'KENRY.

Kid Wins Spurs With Great Game.

Holds Art Devlin's Team to Single Run.

Freak Home Run by Goodwin Beats Pruiett.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Frank McKenry yesterday burst from the cocoon of obscurity into the glamor of the glim by holding Oakland to five hits and one run in the first game of the series for the sackcloth-and-ashes championship.

Los Angeles won, 2 to 1, a happy result that was due in large measure to the excellent pitching of McKenry.

About all anyone knows about the newcomer is that he is overgrown, and was hatched in Hen Berry's Fresno club. The kid really deserved a shut-out, Clemens scoring an Oakland run in the second only because Jimmy Byrnes lost him at the plate on a perfect peg by Meusel, another Fresno graduate.

McKenry was forced to pitch quite some ball to win as he was pitted against Charley Pruiett, and the New Bedford boy is anything but a slouch.

PRUIETT UNLUCKY.

Pruiett was present with a three-hit exhibition, but all the luck was on the other side of the ledger. An abortive home run by Goodwin, which ordinarily would have been good for only one base, following a walk in the first inning, knocked the props out from under Pruiett.

Devlin has injected some pep and vinegar into the Oaks, and in that way has accomplished all that was expected of him this season.

Pruiett handed out three passes. Two of these were in the first inning, and one of them proved fatal. He tossed four wide ones to Maggert right off the reel. Howard sacrificed, placing the head of the Maggert family at second.

Clair Goodwin clapped a short drive over second. Leard made one lunge for the ball, got two fingers on it and deflected it slightly to the right. This minute deviation in the course of the sphere sent it past Zacher, who was charging in at top speed.

Zacher drew up with a limp, and Leard put his nose to the ground and took after the ball. By the time Bill had run it to death in center field, Goodwin had circled the course for a homer, Maggert prancing in ahead of him.

TOO LATE.

After that only one man reached third base, but the first-inning clean-up was sufficient for all the Angels' needs the way McKenry was wound up.

Maggert gained the three-quarter post in the third. He drove to Cook, and was spared when Jack Ness failed to get any or all of his feet on base. Marl, just to prove that a lame ankle is not necessarily a hopeless handicap to a good man, stole second. Howard sacrificed him to third, and he was held there while Cook and Ness were disposing of Goodwin. Krueger left him stranded there with a deep fly to Kaylor.

Meusel was the only other party to reach second. Emil singled, and advanced on Johnson's out, after Sawyer had fouled to Ness. Byrnes expired on a grounder to Hetling.

OAKS SCORE.

Zacher beat out an infield hit to Johnson in the second. Being somewhat afflicted with "charley horse," Elmer then retired in favor of Clemens. Ness singled Clemens to second, and Cook sacrificed him to third. Guest placed a fly in fairly deep left, and Clemens was off for the plate with the catch. Meusel made a beautiful throw, the ball coming in with the speed and accuracy of a bullet. Byrnes had Clemens dead to rights, but in some subtle manner failed to get the ball on him. Alexander then fanned in genuine St. Looey fashion.

After that, the Oaks didn't even threaten to score, Coy and Clemens being the only players to hold conversation with Goodwin, our cultured second baseman for the time being.

Coy walked with one down in the third, and was wild-pitched to second. Beatrice was later run down between second and third on Hetling's drive to McKenry. Clemens singled in the fourth and stole second. This so goaded Byrnes that he nipped the runner off that base with an alert peg to Johnson.

Things looked a bit thunderous in the ninth, when Hetling opened with a single, but it was a false alarm. Kaylor forced Gus and Clemens hit into a sprightly double play, Johnson to Howard.

The Crucial Test.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TEAMS FACING VITAL PERIOD.

Next Two Weeks May Tell Tale in Regard to Championship—Tigers Have Chance to Come Back Strong for Quaker Game—Pomona Starts—Whittier Must Keep Condition.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

THE NEXT two weeks are of vital importance to the local varsities playing intercollegiate football. At the present time the Quakers are standing paramount on the mountain of dope and are figured the winners of the 1913 football title. Occidental is in a very questionable state. Old Dame Misfortune has been cutting wide gaps in the Orange and Black battle line, in fact, in the last few games played, nothing but second and third team material has been available. But the varsity war horses are not in such a condition as to make it impossible for them to get back into the game.

Stanton's Troubles.

At Pomona, Coach Stanton also has been having a few hard lines in the football drama, in that some of his most valuable men are now in the hospital, due to the terrific scrimmages, but these battles were necessary to develop the material, as the squad was mostly made up of dark horses, especially in regard to the backfield. However, the varsity squad has now been picked and from this time on, the team will start secret practice and should begin to take on some semblance of order. If Stanton can get a good aggressive backfield, that can plug up on the defense, the Pomona problem will almost be solved.

The Tiger Situation.

But to get back to the Oxy Tigers. This afternoon Pipal will send his squad, minus most of the varsity men, against the Pasadena High School eleven for a practice game. He is working up a good list of subs for the big games, that start in two weeks beginning with the match battle against Whittier on Baer Field.

It looks, at the present time, as though the team that held the Quaker varsity even in the last portion of the recent practice game, would be fit and able to face the Poets. None of the injuries are serious enough to be lasting, but at that, are bad enough to keep the men out of the running for the time being. Sam McClung, the veteran fullback, should be able to return for the Whittier game in good shape, while Halfback Foster is also rounding into condition again. "Snort" Long, the freshman fullback and half, now out with a bad shoulder, bids fair to be in good shape for this game, so the backfield should not be so bad after all, and when we remember that crafty Coach Pipal is behind the team, there need be no wild dreams of utter ruin at the hands of the Quakers.

The Quaker Question.

The only thing that apparently stands in the way of Whittier success this season, is staleness, due to early condition. Here, these Poets have been ready to play match games for the past two weeks, and for this reason may have the keen edge of their condition dulled before the big games with Pomona and Occidental, otherwise, it does not seem possible that the team can be beaten. That is putting the matter on paper and in cold figures, but intercollegiate athletics do not always run according to dope, the element that subtle force, college spirit that makes inspirational athletes comes into play and the Oxy men have ever been athletes of this nature.

Busy Time Coming.

Following the Whittier game, the Tigers are to have a very busy time, as the University of Arizona, and the University of Utah follow, one week apart, then there is to be a rest until the Pomona game, November 29. And, speaking of the Pomona game, at the last of the season, it is to be hoped that the Tiger team will not suffer in the same way in this game as it did last season, when the Aggies came down and caught the Tigers going away. But it is hardly likely that anything like this will happen again, and that is one reason for fixing the schedule the way it is this year.

Trojan Scrubs Victorious.

The powers that be started something last night at U.S.C. The full second team was picked and sent against an aggregation, formed of some varsity men, some varsity subs and some overflow members of the second team. The result was one of the best Rugby games ever played on Bovard Field, in which the second team walloped the "all blacks" by the score of 40 to 5, Coach Higgins being the only man to score for the famous ones. Also, I might add that some very bright lights were discovered in the course of the game.

Bill Sprotte, in the scrum, carried the ball in any and all formations and scored twice. James ran wild at center three; Ortley and Grant proved aggressive players and good passers. Beach also came out and shone like a regular star. Bill Haney played first five and ran the team, thereby getting much glee out of the awful beating that was given the members of the other squad. Of course Bill Mason was in every play and it was Wild Bill's clever dribbling and ability to follow the ball that started over half of the second team scores. The passing rushes staged by this bunch were really remarkable. In one case twelve men handled the ball before it went over the line. On the other team, Le Valley Lund proved a winner and broke away time and again for long runs. Len Livernash, on the second team—playing center three—was another who brought out some thrills.

Scrubs to Be Rewarded.

In short, it was the best exhibition of Rugby that has been seen on the varsity field for some time. As a result of this showing, the second team men are to be sent against the Athletic Club Saturday, in the second game of the series. This is to be their chance to show and, as the team is not altogether selected as yet, there may be some changes before the big intercollegiate battles with Stanford and California next month.

"Snort" Long and "Chick" Hill,

Two of Occidental's backfield stars, who are at present handicapped by injuries, but have shown varsity class.

HILL-TOPPERS WIN SWIMMING TITLE.

Los Angeles won a rather easy victory over the other High Schools of the city in the city swimming championships at Bimini last night. Manual Arts had only a few entrants and the Polytechnic team which has been training for some time for some unaccountable reason failed to show up.

Capt. Bob Howard of L.A.H.S. was the individual star of the meet, winning the 50, 100 and diving events besides clipping off the last lap of the relay in very fast time. Every first place in the meet went to the blue and white.

Results:

The 25-yard dash—Coleman (L.A.) and Kirkland (Manual) tied for first; Boyle (L.A.) third; time, 14s.

The 50-yard dash—Howard (L.A.,) first; Stahl (L.A.,) second; Coleman (L.A.,) third; time, 26 4-5s.

The 100-yard dash—Howard (L.A.,) first; Stahl (L.A.,) second; Aseltine (L.A.,) third; time 1m. 5s.

The 150-yard dash—McArthur (L.A.,) first; Reis (Poly,) second; Terries (L.A.,) third; time 2m. 24s.

The 440-yard dash—Aseltine L.A.,) first; Buick (L.A.,) second; Richards (L.A.,) third; time, 8m. 5s.

Diving—Howard (L.A.,) first; Leary (Poly,) second; McArthur (L.A.,) third.

Relay—Won by L.A.H.S. (Coleman, Kirkland, Aseltine, Howard.)

TIGER OARSMEN NEED PRACTICE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PRINCETON (N. J.) Oct. 21.—Rough weather on Lake Carnegie has upset the Princeton varsity eight's practice for the race with Yale on Saturday but it is hoped that the latter part of the week will give sufficient time to bring the oarsmen into form. Speculation here is rife over the question of which stroke will win on Saturday, the undergraduates considering the race as much of a test for the stroke as for the crews. Yale's English style of rowing is reputed to be at its best for the first mile and a half or two miles, which would cover the Princeton course, while the Tigers' strength is more readily sustained for longer distance.

PETROSKEY MATCHED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Sailor Petroskey, the middleweight trial horse, has been matched according to announcement today to fight a limited-round bout with Leo Renz at Butte, Mont., on Thanksgiving Day. Petroskey probably will leave here November 1 to begin his training.

Ex-Angel.

WALTER LEVERENZ GOOD WITH MEN ON THE BASES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PEORIA (Ill.) Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tieing the score in the sixth with a sacrifice fly by Sam Crawford, the American League world tourists hammered out a victory over the New York Giants here today in the eighth inning by bunching a double, single, triple and two more singles for three runs, which gave them the game, 6 to 4. The Giants passed over one run in the ninth in a rally which fell short of the lead attained by the American League rivals.

Two thousand fans sat through the hour and a half of play, braving the wintry wind which swept the diamond. Wiltse and Leverenz were the opposing pitchers, with the latter heaving wildly throughout the game, but holding the National Leaguers without a hit when the bases were occupied. Wiltse was found for a series of long swats, the White Sox counting nineteen bases on their total of ten hits.

Hal Chase, Sam Crawford of the Detroit Tigers and Shortstop Weaver of the White Sox were the batting stars of the afternoon, Weaver hitting for a triple and double in four times up. Chase hit two doubles and a single in four times to the plate, and the Detroit slugger hammered out two triples and a sacrifice fly in an equal number of times with the stick. The score:

Twenty-five Fast Cars.

racers royally and everything possible is being done to make this a great race.

Max Czuczka, one of the best sports in the border city, will be there to greet each racer. There is unusual enthusiasm in the other towns along the route from the smallest hamlet to the largest city. At San Diego a crowd of fans will be on hand to greet the racers and there is keen rivalry between the Los Angeles and San Diego entrants in this fast race which is to be started Monday morning, November 3.

Six checking stations have been decided upon. Chairman Leon T. Shettler announced yesterday that all cars must stop and officially check at San Diego, Brawley, Black Butte, Yuma, Castle Dome and Middle Wells. It is possible that other checking stations will be added after a conference with the drivers.

CADILLAC FAVORED.

Charles Soules and Harry Ham, who will drive the Cadillac racers, have just returned from a trip to Phoenix. Barney Oldfield drove to Phoenix in his Simplex racer and after a stop of two hours made the return trip. As in previous years, the course over which the cars will be piloted, provides innumerable tests in the way of rough stretches of roads which will have to be made at high speed, winding mountainous trails and steep grades.

With Phoenix, San Diego and Los Angeles boosters working together, everything will be in readiness for the staging of the best and most interesting desert race ever contemplated.

CHANCE FOR ALL.

Every car has a chance to win first honors. Cars are entered ranging in price from $600 to $6000. Every one knows that speed alone will not insure a car first place. From Los Angeles the cars will be piloted over boulevards for thirty miles, after which fair country roads will be encountered. The road to San Diego is good and bad in places, but racing drivers who have been over the route predict that an average rate of speed in excess of fifty miles an hour will be registered during the progress of the race between the start and the checking point at San Diego.

From San Diego to the edge of the desert, a range of mountains will have to be traversed, and many difficult turns must be made. The dreaded Mammoth Wash a stretch of deep, shifting sand almost a mile in length, is bound to prove a stumbling block for a number of ambitious pilots. The roads through Glamis also are fierce.

FAST TIME.

There is much speculation as to the time that will be made between this city and Yuma. Most of the wild guesses put the time under ten hours. Well, it won't be much under the ten-hour mark, though the prediction that a record will be broken this year is perhaps not so wild as it seemed a month ago. The racers are out each day trying the course carefully. This means that with a thorough knowledge of the course the most experienced driver should win.

Charles Soules on the Cadillac and Barney Oldfield on the Simplex are the favorites. For my part, I can't see why. There are others in the race. For instance, Frank Verbeck, on the Flat, winner of the Los Angeles-Sacramento race, looks good to me. Olin Davis, on the Locomobile, is another like entrant. Omar Toft, on the Sims Vee, the entry of Mrs. Leotia K. Northam, is a particularly gritty driver who has a wonderfully fast car that placed well in that Sacramento race.

The cars will be parked over night at Yuma. On Tuesday morning they will be sent away on the last leg of the course. The time from Yuma to Phoenix, a distance of 206 miles, should be under eight hours. The road from Yuma to Dome, nineteen miles, is fierce, indeed. Bill Ruess, in a six-cylinder Pope-Hartford, drove it in forty-eight minutes. From Middle Wells to Ptolomas the road is fierce again. There are only a few good stretches of highway after you leave the Colorado. The race should be a hummer, how's that, because of the large entry list, which includes a number of fast racing cars.

HARNESS GOSSIP.

Arrangements were yesterday completed by Secretary E. J. Delorey of the Los Angeles Harness Horse Association for the annual convention of the California Breeders' Association to be held in Los Angeles, November 15 or the last day of the fall meet of the association.

Advices received by the local organization indicate that every district in California will be represented and about 100 delegates will be present. The delegates will arrive in Los Angeles in time for the first day's races of the fall meet and will be the guests of the local organization throughout the meeting. The business meeting of the breeders will be held November 15 at Hotel Alexandria.

Two carloads of fine trotting and pacing horses will leave Exposition Park today and tomorrow for Phoenix, Ariz., where the horses are to enter the State Fair races to be held at the Arizona city from November 3 to 8. Among these horses will be the great Don Pronto and Rags in charge of Will G. Durfee. Merry Mac owned by William Parsons, Zulu Belle owned by Charles Durfee and Zomeno owned by Dave Stewart. The horses will be shipped back to Los Angeles in ample time for the opening races of the fall meet of the Los Angeles Harness Horse Association on November 11.

Owing to inquiries having been received from many owners of running horses in the East and Northwest the officials of the Los Angeles Harness Horse Association have decided to keep the entry list for the running events scheduled for the fall meeting of the organization, open and to make them overnight entries. A number of the polo clubs of Southern California have also inquired as to the opportunity to enter polo ponies in the running events.

The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that does not make a practice of permitting agents, newsboys and dealers to return unsold copies of its issues. Neither does it rebebrand or predate its editions, or inflate its circulation by printing more copies than are actually necessary to supply its patrons.

The Times' entire circulation is practically net, and it is more genuine and superior in every respect to that of any other newspaper.

But he is convinced that there is only one way to cure a tail-end club, and that is to infuse new blood.

While he has not fully outlined his plans, it is known that sweeping changes are on the programme. Catcher Kreitz is to be released, Second Baseman Seitz sold or traded, and Pitchers Stone and Schwenk turned back to the St. Louis Americans. Some disposition also will be made of Honus Mitze. Devlin is sweet on a certain catcher in the International League, and a deal may be framed up involving Mitze.

Devlin endeavored to trade Mitze to San Francisco for Pitcher Fanning, but Del Howard couldn't see it that way.

NEEDS TEN MORE.

The Oakland manager figures that he will need about ten new men to convert the club into a winner, and for the next few months will be busier than a new cat in a strange alley making trades and purchases. Having been trained in the school of McGraw and Stallings he is certain of having a fighting, aggressive team in the field.

There will be none of the lax methods that prevailed under the Mitze regime. Devlin will be the boss, and one that the fellows will enjoy playing for.

There will be no fining of players on the Oakland club. If a man does not think enough of the team's interests, and his own, to give it the best that he has, he can go elsewhere. Devlin does not believe in taking a ball player's money.

Devlin played his first baseball on a high school team in Washington, D. C., the Capitol of this great country. Graduating therefrom he matriculated at Georgetown University along with "Doc" White of the Chicago White Sox, who later blossomed out as one of the game's greatest curved-ball pitchers.

GRIDIRON STAR.

Devlin played on the baseball and football varsities at Georgetown for four years, shedding fully as much luster on the gridiron as on the diamond. He played full-back on the football team, and served as captain one season.

"That's where I learned to boot 'em," he remarked last night.

Devlin's first professional engagement was as playing manager of the New Berne team in the North Carolina League. That was in 1902. His team finished second in the first half of the season, and first in the second half.

On July 15 of that year he joined Newark in the International League as a second baseman. He was shifted to third base the following year, and joined the Giants in 1904. He continued with New York until the first day of the 1912 season, when he was sold to the Boston Nationals.

He continued with the Rustlers until a short time ago, when he was temporarily sent to Rochester until Boston could get waivers on three players who were involved in a trade with that team.

Devlin was in twenty-five games with Rochester, and the team won twenty of these. This spurt cut down Newark's fourteen-game lead to a single game, and gave the International race a spectacular finish, where it had looked like a breeze for Newark.

Devlin says that the International League, heretofore regarded as the fastest minor in the country, has nothing on the Coast League when it comes to a matter of speed.

Cleveland Gets Rodgers.

Bill Rodgers, captain and second baseman of the Portland club, is to have his first trial in major league company next season.

A deal has just been made whereby Rodgers is to join the Cleveland club next spring. It is possible that Lober may also get a trial with the Naps.

The McCredies are to receive a catcher, an infielder and possibly an outfielder in exchange for Rodgers. Bobbie Davis will be switched from short to second.

Devlin Likes McKenry.

Devlin was visibly impressed with Frank McKenry's performance yesterday, and has a hunch that he may develop into a high-class pitcher.

"He is big, rangy and loose-jointed and is not afraid to cut loose," said Devlin. "These are things that I like to see in a youngster. Yesterday his control was almost perfect. He has a good fast ball, and a good curve. He knows how to mix these, and keeps the batter off his balance. The kid also has a faculty of putting more on the ball than you are expecting."

Devlin May Play Third.

Devlin, although he had not expected to play any this season, may accede to the expressed wishes of many of the fans, and get into the game at third base during the present series. He has been out of harness for six weeks now, but may decide to take a chance even at the risk of booting a few.

MATHEWSON CHALLENGED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Oct. 21.—When Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants reaches Portland he will be challenged to play a game of checkers with Fielder Jones, president of the Northwestern Baseball League, for the baseball players' checker championship. Mathewson claims the title of champion in checkers among baseball players and Fielder Jones disputes this.

BAYLESS AND KANE HIT HARD

Midget Outfielders Do Most of the Damage.

Tigers Beat Seals and Stay in Second Place.

Tub Pernoll Is Victim of the Hoganites.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] First blood for the Tigers over the Seals in their fight for second place honors, the only honor left for which there is any contention.

As things turned out, the first inning was productive of a run apiece and curiously enough the opposing first suckers each had an error chalked against him. Meloan grounded out to third for the Tigers, but Kane doubled to right and took third when Bayless beat out an infield hit. With Bayless caught between first and second on an attempted double, and Kane away from third, McArdle finally essayed to throw to third. His intentions were good, but his execution poor and the ball was high above the guardian of the bag. Kane scored. Brashear filed to center and it was only Tobin's quick return to the plate that doubled out Bayless.

The Seals came right back. Mundorff hit safely to the infield and took second on McArdle's out. Tobin's smash against the right field fence scored Mundorff and when McDonnell dropped a throw from Baum, the outfielder went to third, only to be thrown out at the plate when Schaller grounded to short.

Venice took the lead in the fourth. Kane shot a two-sacker past third to left field and Bayless popped a single back of second. Brashear fanned but O'Rourke hit toward McArdle, who tried for Kane at the plate. He did not land Johnny and on a bad throw Bayless reached third, finally scoring as McDonnell forced O'Rourke at third.

One of these runs came back to the Seals in the same inning. Schaller led off with a three-sack drive to the center field and came home on Down's sacrifice fly to center.

What turned out to be the winning run was negotiated off Pernoll in the sixth. It was short and snappy, also earned.

Johnny Kane tripled to right, the ball taking a bad bound against the fence, and Bayless doubled to center to send his running mate home. Quite simple, if you know how to do it.

JESS WILLARD WILL GO BACK TO HIS BOXING.

AFTER killing Bull Young, it was announced that Jess Willard would never box again; but he expects to leave for the East today to look for matches.

Judge Craig's unexpected decision may delay his going somewhat; but as the charge has been reduced from manslaughter to the simple charge of prize fighting, it is probable that he will be able to leave under bonds.

"The big fellow can lick anybody in the world," said Manager Tom Jones yesterday. "And we are going after all the heavyweights. We have to. We both need the money. This expensive prosecution has just about broke us both."

Jones says that Ad Wolgast will not leave the ring as rumored since the accident to his ribs. "Whatever Ad may say from time to time, you will never get him to leave the ring as long as he can get matches to fight."

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 21.—Krapp's wide throw to catch a man off first, and two walks followed by timely hitting gave the Sacramento wolves their margin of three runs by which they defeated the Portland champions, 4 to 1, in the opening game of the final series here today. Shinn drove in two runs with a sacrifice fly and a single; Lewis drove in one run, and the fourth tally was scored on an infield-out after Stark had singled and taken third on Krapp's bad throw to first. Singles by Speas, Kores and Fisher in the fifth inning gave the Beavers their one run. Score:

ATHLETE PUTS BURGLAR TO MAT.

VENICE, Oct. 21.—Awakened last night by a noise in his home at Playa del Rey, E. T. Maxey, swimming instructor at the Venice plunge, and all-round athlete confronted a burglar who was ransacking his rooms.

Maxey grappled with the intruder and after a fierce struggle subdued him and brought him to the Venice police station. He gave the name of Joe Williams. Search of his person resulted in the discovery of a number of rings and a watch, part of which Maxey claimed was his property. He was booked on a charge of burglary.

NEW VIEW OF PRIZE FIGHTS.

Judge Craig Overrules the Willard Demurrers.

Holds Eleven Defendants for Trial as Charged.

Opinion Is Exact Reverse of that of Judge Willis.

Judge Craig of the Superior Court, in overruling the demurrers of Tom McCarey, Jess Willard and the other defendants who took part in the fatal bout between Willard and "Bull" Young, yeshterday construed the present anti-prize-fight law to exclude all contests where a knockout is anticipated and where the contestants train in advance in order to punish each other severely.

His decision means that McCarey and the rest will have to stand trial January 7 on the charge of prize fighting. With a ruling of Judge Willis exactly opposite to that found by Judge Craig yesterday, it is not considered probable that any jury will convict the defendants.

DECISION A SURPRISE.

The decision came as a surprise. Attorneys Dehm and Giesler, who represented the defendants, confidently predicted that the trial court would follow the precedent laid down by Judge Willis. Even Chief Deputy Ford, who presented the law points for the prosecution, did not appear sanguine of success.

OVERRULES DEMURRER.

In rendering his opinion Judge Craig differentiated between a sparring exhibition and a prize fight. The court held that the Legislature evidently intended to render unlawful any ring or prize fights.

Simple sparring exhibitions, where two athletes box for the sake of the sport, are not held unlawful, according to Judge Craig's construction of section No. 412. But the judge holds the law is to protect the public against debasing and degrading influences and he follows Chief Deputy Ford's reasoning right through the opinion.

The court states that he does not believe the Legislature intended to avoid the law framed in 1899, and that all the time the law-makers contemplated ring fights, when mentioning the prohibited kind, whether held before a so-called club or not.

WHAT IS A FIGHT?

"The judge finds in the evident intention of each pugilist to inflict the greatest possible punishment upon his opponent an indication of prize fighting. He also holds that the fact that no prior complaint was filed does not affect statutory construction. No one can acquire a prescriptive right to commit crime, rules the court.

Judge Craig partially defines what constitutes prize fighting as a knockout contest for money, but adds that a jury is the one to decide whether a contest is a sparring exhibition or a prize fight under the facts developed at the trial.

Billiard Classic.

POCKET TOURNEY FOR CHAMPIONS.

EIGHT-CORNERED CONTEST SET FOR NOVEMBER.

Dashing Clash of Cue Artists Shown Last Year to Be Excelled in Coming Line-up—Gillette, Mills and Ingram New Lancers—Banks and Jack to Repeat.

Professional pocket billiardists are to have their inning next month, in the second tournament of this class managed by Alfred E. Mackenzie at the Majestic Academy.

Eight entries are said by Mackenzie to be certain, with possibly one or two additional. Byron Gillette, O. J. Mills, Jack Ingram and H. F. Engle, are the new experts in view, while Thurman Jack, L. K. Greer, George N. Banks and H. J. O'Brien are expected to enter the lists, as of yore.

Both Jack and Banks are asserted to be playing in improved form. Engle is amateur champion of Southern California, having won the title from Greer. Banks and Jack tied for first place in last year's contest, and Banks won the play-off, giving Jack second prize. O'Brien won fourth.

Of the newcomers, Gillette is an all-round player of much ability, having wielded the cue in tourneys and matches for fifty years. Mills is a fancy shot artist, and plays a strong game, announcing himself as open to matches with any local man. Ingram was for years known in St. Louis and Kansas City as the "Kansas Cyclone," playing, like Gillette, all billiard games with credit.

November 10 is the date set for commencement of play, with a schedule which requires every contestant to play one game each day until finished. The games start at noon, continuing until 10 p.m., or later, if necessary.

Entries close Saturday evening, November 8, to permit fixing the schedule on the day preceding the matches. Entry fees of $10 each are to be divided into prizes to second and third best players, in the proportions of 60 and 40 per cent., respectively. The first prize, $100 cash, is given by the house.

The excellent contest of last year is to be surpassed in quality by the coming tournament, according to Mackenzie's estimate, and is to be followed by a consolation tournament open to the non-prize winners.

ENGLISH GOLFERS COME TO COAST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—The two English golfers, Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, arrived here today and will play a series of games this week at the San Francisco Golf and Country Club with Jack Neville, Pacific Coast champion; Vincent Whitney, former Pacific Coast champion, and Chapin Tubbs, former captain of the Yale golf team. The games will be played Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Vardon and Ray are considered two of the cleverest men the game ever has produced, and their defeat this year by the young American, Francis Ouimet, startled the golfing world. Vardon was five times champion of the world, and Ray was world's champion in 1912.

The latter also holds the world's record for the longest drive.

JOHNNY KILBANE WON'T MEET JOHNNY DUNDEE.

THE real name of Benny Chavez, the Mexican bantam who is coming here to box Eddie Campi, is Epimenio Gonzales Chavez. He was born in Wagon Mound, Colo., in 1892.

Chavez is described as one of the cleverest little fellows now in the ring; but he isn't a very hard hitter. Those who have seen him work say he is a good deal on the order of Johnny Kilbane and that he will probably make a great showing against Eddie Campi, but hasn't a very great prospect of winning, as Eddie knows too much.

Johnny Kilbane has declined to come to California to box Johnny Dundee. He writes that he won't box Dundee unless the latter makes the featherweight limit again for him as he says he has plenty of matches in the East—in fact is busy all the time.

In these circumstances, McCarey will probably match Dundee against Harlem Tommy Murphy for the early part of December at Vernon.

Tim McGrath has written to Johnny Coulon asking the champion to surrender his title as bantamweight champion of the world to the winner of the Campi-Williams match. Whether Coulon consents to this or not, the winner of this match will assume the title for wearing purposes.

BEAR GRIDIRON GOSSIP.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 19.—Tom Dills gave his game knee another bad wrench in Saturday's contest when he attempted to get off a quick boot. He has been troubled for the last two or three weeks with this same knee and this last injury undoubtedly means that on November 8 he will be in the bleachers.

Two freshman forwards were given chances to try out on the varsity Saturday. One of them, Jack Smith, was unfortunate enough to dislocate his shoulder. He is now in the infirmary ruminating over the sad life of a freshman rugger. Smith showed plenty of "pep" while he was in the running and he got hold of the ball rather frequently for a beginner. The other 1917 man, Russell, played a steady game but did not show any particular brilliancy. The only freshman who has shown unmistakably varsity talent is Montgomery. He is cool and he has a exceedingly healthy boot. Coach Schaeffer is using him at both full and half and the freshman is giving Canfield, varsity halfback, a good tussle for the position.

Archie Hunt, the Santa Barbara lad who was suddenly jumped from the ranks to commander of right wing on the varsity, is already a bleacher favorite. Hunt has two more years at college, and if he keeps up his present pace he should land on the All-American team by 1916.

Fourteen men are listed for the training table which starts today. Other names will be added as the season progresses, but just at present the coaches are undecided and must have another practice game before they can pick the balance of the squad which will be used against Stanford. The Sigma Chi faternity-house has been turned over to the football men until the big game and today the following men took up quarters there: Russell, Saunders, King, Brant, Canfield, Hazeltine, Peart, Lane, Hunt, Abrams, Fleming, Sharp, McKim and Fish.

The seniors in solemn conclave assembled have decided that it is the sentiment of the senior class that California field be sodded before the next California-Stanford game here. It has taken a long time for that sentiment to crystallize, but now that it has been spoken "right out in meetin' with the price of the improvement mentioned, there is hope that some action may be taken. A suitable practice field will have to be secured before steps toward the planting of California Field can be made.

Californians are mildly wondering what will happen to the varsity when they go against the "All Blacks" for the second time next Saturday. These half-century scores that come rolling across the bay from the farm where the Cardinal grows, have an ominous sound. Before the "aplly boys meet the New Zealanders, it was whispered 'round that they would at least score against the visitors, but the dull thud of "All Black" trys has caused a great silence. California humbly prays that the god of the gridiron will show mercy next Saturday and at least will allow the blue and gold men to get the ball once in a while from the line-outs.

The New Zealanders have taught local teams a great lesson in support. A man with the ball on the "All Black" team is constantly supported by his fellow-players. He can heave over his head, pass to either side, or between his legs and a teammate is always there to catch the oval. Instead of looking about to see where a man is, the "All Blacks" pass where he ought to be, and usually he is there. It is this knowledge of support that makes the New Zealand play so steady and sure. They pass with the certain knowledge of place that a pitcher has when he whirls and throws to second base.

A display of daylight fireworks will be one of the features of the blue and gold bleachers at the big game. A special shipment of California designs have been received from the Orient.

The Big Leagues: Well, when we have used up the stars you discover, and they have gone old and stale, we will send back the wrecks for you to use.

The Coast League: But what advantage is it for us to send you all the good players we can find and take back the wrecks as fast as you wear them out?

The Big Leagues: There is no advantage, but it has always been done—that's one thing. We have you buffaloed—that's another reason. So you'll have to go through with it.

JIMMY DUFFY WINS EIGHT ROUND BOUT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jimmy Duffy, who hails from around Buffalo, N. Y., drew a well-earned decision over Eddie Murphy of Cleveland here tonight in an eight-round bout which was one of the best seen in St. Louis for some time.

Duffy had height and reach on his opponent and he made good use of it. He showed a lightning left that beat Murphy to his punches a great part of the time, Eddie's stocky build being decidedly against him for this reason. Murphy was game and willing and he tried to carry the milling to his opponent, but was only successful for one or two comparatively short periods.

Towards the end of the bout Duffy had his opponent's face badly cut up and both of his eyes in bad shape. Murphy fought hard, but wildly, for the last two rounds in an effort to put over a knockout punch, as he realized that he was losing on points. Duffy's eagerness to score a knockout also led him to do some wild fighting and miss frequently.

Jimmy also had trouble in obeying the rules in force in St. Louis, as he held around the neck now and then while hitting. He apologized several times during the battle for infractions of the rule in this particular.

NORTH AND SOUTH TO MEET IN RUGBY.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) Oct. 21.—An all-star interscholastic Rugby game on Stanford Field between Northern and Southern California on Thanksgiving Day is under consideration by Skull and Snakes, the senior society.

With the sanction of the California Rugby Union, a committee familiar with local conditions will be named to choose the fifteens and if the proposed game is a success, it is hoped to make it an annual affair.

HEN BERRY SEEMS VERY PERSISTENT.

Despite the fact that he received word from President Baum yesterday stating that three of the Coast League directors are opposed to the proposed post-season series between Los Angeles and Venice, Henry Berry believes that the series will be played.

A wire was sent to Hogan last night asking him to interview Baum personally, and press the matter.

Berry is in favor of making the post-season series between the Tigers and Angels an annual affair for the championship of Southern California.

DECISION UNPOPULAR.

WINNIPEG (Man.) Oct. 21.—[By A. P. Before the referee gave the Briton the decision on a foul, a heated discussion took place with both sides claiming the match.

GUNBOAT SMITH WINS ONCE MORE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—"Gunboat" Smith, heavyweight, knocked out "Tony" Ross of Newcastle, Pa., in the tenth round of what was intended to be a twelve-round bout, here tonight.

Ross did most of the leading in the early stages of the contest. At the opening of the tenth, Smith began to show his punching ability, and after a minute and a half, Ross was on the mat and took the count.

The Folly of The Hague
By Rear-Admiral Alfred T. Mahan.

If "War is Hell," how avoid it? The camps of statesmen throughout the civilized world are divided on the answer—our two living Ex-Presidents are exponents of opposite solutions to this momentous problem! Can a nation's honor be arbitrated successfully, lastingly? Is armament the herald of peace among nations? "In time of peace, prepare for war" is an old adage, but in this enlightened age, we should heed the nobler admonition—In time of peace, prepare for peace. How? Rear-Admiral Mahan asks and answers this question in his masterful article, "The Folly of the Hague."

The Handicap of the Well-Born Child
By H. Addington Bruce.
Drawings by Harry Stoner.

Much has been written about the miserable influences which have shaped the characters of criminals who, in the early lives, were left to chance and deprived of more culture. But why should the well-born child, whose parents seemingly leave nothing undone to promote his welfare physically and mentally, be surrounded by dangers equally as grave as his stigmatized brother? H. Addington Bruce's article is intensely interesting and educating to all parents.

NEW VIEW OF PRIZE FIGHTS.

Judge Craig Overrules the Willard Demurrers.

Holds Eleven Defendants for Trial as Charged.

Opinion Is Exact Reverse of that of Judge Willis.

Judge Craig of the Superior Court, in overruling the demurrers of Tom McCarey, Jess Willard and the other defendants who took part in the fatal bout between Willard and "Bull" Young, yeshterday construed the present anti-prize-fight law to exclude all contests where a knockout is anticipated and where the contestants train in advance in order to punish each other severely.

His decision means that McCarey and the rest will have to stand trial January 7 on the charge of prize fighting. With a ruling of Judge Willis exactly opposite to that found by Judge Craig yesterday, it is not considered probable that any jury will convict the defendants.

DECISION A SURPRISE.

The decision came as a surprise. Attorneys Dehm and Giesler, who represented the defendants, confidently predicted that the trial court would follow the precedent laid down by Judge Willis. Even Chief Deputy Ford, who presented the law points for the prosecution, did not appear sanguine of success.

OVERRULES DEMURRER.

In rendering his opinion Judge Craig differentiated between a sparring exhibition and a prize fight. The court held that the Legislature evidently intended to render unlawful any ring or prize fights.

Simple sparring exhibitions, where two athletes box for the sake of the sport, are not held unlawful, according to Judge Craig's construction of section No. 412. But the judge holds the law is to protect the public against debasing and degrading influences and he follows Chief Deputy Ford's reasoning right through the opinion.

The court states that he does not believe the Legislature intended to avoid the law framed in 1899, and that all the time the law-makers contemplated ring fights, when mentioning the prohibited kind, whether held before a so-called club or not.

WHAT IS A FIGHT?

The judge finds in the evident intention of each pugilist to inflict the greatest possible punishment upon his opponent an indication of prize fighting. He also holds that the fact that no prior complaint was filed does not affect statutory construction. No one can acquire a prescriptive right to commit crime, rules the court.

Judge Craig partially defines what constitutes prize fighting as a knockout contest for money, but adds that a jury is the one to decide whether a contest is a sparring exhibition or a prize fight under the facts developed at the trial.

Billiard Classic.

POCKET TOURNEY FOR CHAMPIONS.

EIGHT-CORNERED CONTEST SET FOR NOVEMBER.

Dashing Clash of Cue Artists Shown Last Year to Be Excelled in Coming Line-up—Gillette, Mills and Ingram New Lancers—Banks and Jack to Repeat.

Professional pocket billiardists are to have their inning next month, in the second tournament of this class managed by Alfred E. Mackenzie at the Majestic Academy.

Eight entries are said by Mackenzie to be certain, with possibly one or two additional. Byron Gillette, O. J. Mills, Jack Ingram and H. F. Engle, are the new experts in view, while Thurman Jack, L. K. Greer, George N. Banks and H. J. O'Brien are expected to enter the lists, as of yore.

Both Jack and Banks are asserted to be playing in improved form. Engle is amateur champion of Southern California, having won the title from Greer. Banks and Jack tied for first place in last year's contest, and Banks won the play-off, giving Jack second prize. O'Brien won fourth.

Of the newcomers, Gillette is an all-round player of much ability, having wielded the cue in tourneys and matches for fifty years. Mills is a fancy shot artist, and plays a strong game, announcing himself as open to matches with any local man. When Your Appetite Comes Back to You

It Is a Sure Sign Your Stomach Is Able to Work — Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Give You a Rousing Appetite.

It is the greatest joy in the world to be able to eat what one wants and no misery can compare with that which comes when an appetite fails.

When the stomach cannot digest food the system revolts at the very idea of eating, but when the digestive apparatus is restored to its normal condition every quality of mind seems to make a man cheerful.

"That's the Way I Used to Look. What's you think of me now?"

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets mix with the food you eat. The stomach by its peristaltic action churns and moves the food around the stomach wall. The powerful ingredients in these tablets instantly begin digesting the food as they are forced through and around it.

These tablets regulate the strength of gastric juices. If there is too much acid or alkali then Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets reduce or dilute these conditions and prevent the irritation and raw stomachs which always come with dyspepsia, indigestion, etc.

It is the very essence of pleasure to a stomach sufferer to know that he can digest any meal if he will only take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet after eating.

The use of one of these tablets after meals will in a very short time restore your appetite to its normal condition and you will be able to enjoy your food with an old-time relish.

Every drug store carries Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Price 50 cents.

The Folly of The Hague
By Rear-Admiral Alfred T. Mahan.

If "War is Hell," how avoid it? The camps of statesmen throughout the civilized world are divided on the answer—our two living Ex-Presidents are exponents of opposite solutions to this momentous problem! Can a nation's honor be arbitrated successfully, lastingly? Is armament the herald of peace among nations? "In time of peace, prepare for war" is an old adage, but in this enlightened age, we should heed the nobler admonition—in time of peace, prepare for peace. How? Rear-Admiral Mahan asks and answers this question in his masterful article, "The Folly of the Hague."

The Handicap of the Well-Born Child
Drawings by Harry Stoner.

Much has been written about the miserable influence which have shaped the characters of criminals who, in the early lives, were left to chance and deprived of many culture. But why should the well-born child, whose parents seemingly leave nothing undone to promote his welfare physically and mentally, be surrounded by dangers equally as grave as his stigmatized brother? H. Addington Bruce's article is intensely interesting and educating to all parents.

An Automobile Ride
By Robert Barr.

The first of the Lord Stranleigh stories, which appeared in the last issue, has already introduced our readers to this clever and enormously rich young nobleman and his adventures. In this story we find him again on "The right side of the ledger." His business ability and shrewdness are worthy of an American business man. We're sure you'll enjoy this engaging short story.

It is only fitting that more than casual mention be made of the strong and living drawing that illustrates this vivid poem. The master-hand is at once discerned in both.

Women of Mark

Not only do the sketches of these women make interesting reading, but in this issue there may be a suggestion or two for an ambitious woman in practically untrodden fields.

"HELP WANTED," CHANGED, MAKES A HIT IN FRISCO.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

TRUE to his promise, Oliver Morosco wired me from 'Frisco regarding the debut of "Help Wanted," and judging from his report it must be going great.

You see, they changed the last two acts, and according to Morosco, the result has been a decided improvement in the piece.

How old is Kitty Gordon? Honest, did you read all that drool in one of the papers telling how she rubbed grapes on her back to preserve its beauty, had two maids, a chiropodist and several other things.

Now, a woman who has to do all this to get by can't be very much class. Even Bernhardt doesn't take so much trouble.

And, by the way, are those grapes Concords? I wonder if they ever give Kitty the blues when they rub them in?

But to get back to Los Angeles. Lillian Tucker his a bridal veil. Heavens, no, nothing like that, but you see, she has to wear one in "The Quaker Girl."

So she went to buy one. Imagine the stately Lillian asking the handsome floor walker: "Please, mister, where can I get a bridal veil?"

The floor walker coughed, the cash girls giggled, Miss Tucker blushed, then fled. Later Grace Travers went out and got a yard of cheese cloth.

Frances Slosson, who has gotten along so famously at the Morosco, will once more appear there, this time in "Ransomed," which goes on next Sunday, with Forest Stanley in the principal role.

I almost forgot to mention that Oliver Morosco is due back this morning, and as soon as "The Quaker Girl" goes on he plans to go East for a spell.

Remember the story I wrote the other day about the manager of the Hippodrome and his conversion? Now the Chamber of Commerce has one of the famous cards on exhibition.

Up and Down Broadway.

Vaudeville.

SPECTACULAR FANTASY MAKES HIT AT PANTAGES.

A SPECTACULAR fantasy which holds out every promise of becoming a tremendous success, is having its tryout week at Pantages.

This is "The Golden Dream," presented by Edwin H. Flagg, with a competent company of good singers and pretty girls. An interesting item is the fact that all the participants are Los Angeles men and women, the entire project being dreamt and realized right in our midst. The scenic effects are numerous and of quite unusual beauty, and all of them come from the Flagg studios. They embody such entrancing scenes as "The Land of Nod," "Among the Icebergs," "Fairy Dell," "Midasland," "Palace of King Midas," "Nest of the Stork," "Top of the World," and so on—delightfully Peter-Pannish things calculated to please both the children and the grown-ups. The music is of the nursery variety — "Welcome, Little Stranger," various lullabys, etc.

The plot of "The Golden Dream" revolves around a little girl who longs for a playmate, then falls asleep and finds a whole regiment of them, bears, fairies, Esquimos, harem dancers. She goes from one place to another, and enjoys herself immensely in the happy imaginative way of a child. Some beautiful dancing is done in the palace of Midas, in the polar regions, and in poppyland. Hubert Whitehead's fine voice is heard to advantage in the parts of Midas and the Polar Bear, and Marguerite Favar's charming personality embodies one's ideal of Dolly, the little heroine of the fantasy. The choruses are excellent as to voices and young and attractive as to faces and figures.

When once the wheels of "The Golden Dream" have been properly greased it will prove a winner.

"A Bit of Old Ireland," a little musical playlet, is given by Charlie Reilly and his company of five, three of these being good-looking girls who are expert dancers of Irish reels. The plot of the playlet is tenuous, a mere pretext for the Irish airs which Charlie Reilly and Mattie Townsend render. There's plenty of sentiment, of course, real Irish sentiment. Reilly sings "Mother Machree" very touchingly.

Juggler of strength and prowess is Rapoli, who handles cannon balls as if they were pills, and who performs the astonishing feat of tossing up a piece of paper the weight of a postage stamp, and a thirty-five-pound ball at the same time, playing with them as if they were of like avoirdupois.

The two Connelly Sisters, gowned in the new royal purple, sing and dance eccentrically; Irving Roth sings and jokes in dago dialect; Allen and Lewis, dance and joke.

Hippodrome.

Every week the verdict on the bill at the Hippodrome is that it is better than the preceding week's bill, yet, apparently this week's bill surpasses any which has been given since the opening of the house. It is indeed hard to place a headliner honor, as the immense audience yesterday afternoon apparently liked every act.

No doubt the Diamond Comedy Four are the real top notchers in their amusing musical skit called "Fun in a Schoolroom." The plot is old, but the comedy and the music are new. These boys are gifted with excellent voices, and their harmony has seldom been equaled.

Next in line for stellar honors is the Ashley Cooper Company of players in a dramatic playlet entitled "A Newsboy's Debt." Little Dulcie Cooper playing the waif in this act proved that she is one of the best juvenile performers seen locally.

A novelty called the Aviator Girl was well received and the young lady proved that she was very daring in her aerial departure.

"The Stranger," a western dramatic playet by Henry D. Cottrell, is splendidly presented by the ever-popular Abram-Johns Company. From the applause they received yesterday it is evident that this company has become a fixture at the Hippodrome.

Clever, indeed, is Alvino and Sister in their musical offering. They are past masters on the banjo and piano.

Another popular number on the bill is the Howard Sisters, in a singing and dancing act, that is indeed refreshing. Both girls have splendid voices and work beautifully together. They feature the society tango, for the first time seen in Los Angeles.

El Cota handles the xylophone in a masterly manner, playing popular and classical songs equally well. El Cota holds his audience spellbound throughout his entire act.

Clunes.

The new exclusive film service secured during the last part of last week by W. H. Clune for his Broadway theater has opened auspiciously and yesterday the new programme contained two big two-reel features, "The Hermit of Lonely Gulch" and "A Leader of Men." While these are splendid pictures they will probably be overshadowed by the gigantic three-reel wild animal picture which comes to Clune's Broadway on Wednesday and Thursday, "In the Midst of the Jungle." This picture has been pronounced by competent critics as the last word in wild animal motiography. This play in all points surpasses a series of thrilling predecessors for daring device and tensity of situation. It is a brave and masterful welding of romance and reality. It depicts the thrilling experiences of an intrepid, but resourceful woman, given up for dead by her companions in a hunt. Her struggle against the attacks of raving lions with only a frail door between is the acme of a huntress's heroism.

Cartoonist Barndollar's Impressions of "The Golden Dream," at Pantages.

Choral Work.

FESTIVAL CHOIR IN REHEARSAL.

TWO HUNDRED SING WELL "RIGOLETTO" QUARTETTE.

Promising Future for Choral Society of Mixed Voices—Carlson-Spencer Recital at Ingraham Hotel Tonight—Alfred Wallenstein Concert Thursday Evening.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

Judging from the public rehearsal of the Festival Choir of Southern California, held last night at Moose Hall, the opening of the chrysanthemum show next Thursday evening will be doubly attractive.

Started as a feature to the "Land Show" of 1911, this choral society of mixed voices has maintained and increased its membership, which now nombers over 500, with an attendance at rehearsal yesterday of about 300. This unusual percentage casts the greatest credit upon the very able director, Thomas Taylor Drill, pioneer of the Irish Choral Societies of Chicago and Cleveland.

A thoroughgoing Celt, Prof. Drill has managed to hold together a choir of men and women through the love of music.

This interesting organization, possessed of exceptional male voices in the tenor and bass classes, with good sopranos and contraltos, sings with comparatively accurate tempo and splendid tonal quality. some works of difficulty.

The quartette from "Rigoletto" arranged for choral presentation was the number especially interesting last night which will be given at the chrysanthemum show for the first time next Thursday.

Guided only by their enthusiasm and fondness for choral work, the Festival Choir singers are now entering in the second phase of their musical existence alongside of the Ellis, Lyric and Orpheus clubs in the interpretation of singing music.

Wallenstein Recital.

A testimonial concert will be given at the Gamut Auditorium, next Thursday evening, to a young violoncellist of unusual merit, Alfred Wallenstein, who will be assisted by Mildred Langworthy, soprano; Theodore Gordhon, violinist, and Grace Adele Freebey, pianist.

GREAT SCENERY.

Pantages Has Vision of FairyLand in Eleven Scenes This Week—Big Production.

The name of Edwin H. Flagg is sufficiently familiar to those who look at the stage from behind the scenes and read the trade marks painted on the back of the scenery. It is also well known to Long Beach commuters. The two ideas connect in the Flagg scenic studios put on Long Beach avenue, where Flagg and his corps of artists concoct gardens, palaces, streets, fancy interiors, etc.

Out there on the east side, where art and industry join hands, was dreamed the vision of fairyland in which Marguerite Favar is appearing this week at Pantages. "The Golden Dream," it is called, and its production comes near to materialising "the stuff that dreams are made of."

Eleven scenes carry Dolly, a little miss in search of a baby playmate, through the Land of Nod, Babyland, King Midas's country, and back to her nursery, where she is awakened by the nurse bringing in the new baby brother to show her.

Marguerite Favar and eight other Los Angeles girls are presented as Dolly and her playmates in fairyland.

This is the first big scenic production of local origin to appear in vaudeville, and its success means further activity in this line at the Flagg studios.

Alex Pantages, will arrive Friday from San Francisco to see the production, and this looks like confirmation of the persistent rumor of the establishment here of a production department for the big Coast circuit of vaudeville theaters.

Board of Trade Honors Memory of Busch.

PASADENA, Oct. 22.—Though the pupils of the Pasadena High School have now pondered for several months the good advice given them on commencement day last spring by Dr. Charles Edward Locke, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Los Angeles, who then addressed the graduating class, and it is to be hoped have profited by it, the Board of Education is at a loss how to pay the minister for his services. His bill for $50 cropped up yesterday when the members of the board, who are harassed by demands for money that the board does not possess were again looking into the state of their finances. It has cropped up several times before. Each time the question has arisen: How shall it be paid?

The former Board of Education, as had been the case in previous years, determined last spring to expend some money to secure a speaker for the graduation exercises and agreed to pay Dr. Locke $50 for his address. The demand was sent to the County Superintendent of Schools and by him to the legal counsel for the county school department, who replied that the demand could not legally be drawn.

Since then the board has sought ways and means of raising the money. The matter dragged on, a new board succeeded the old one, and the faculty of the High School finally raised $25, which it offered the board to subscribe as half of the sum.

Frank May, one of the members of the board, yesterday suggested that an attempt be made to assess each of their predecessors for the necessary amount to make up the other half. I. N. Smith, who now sits on the board, and who was also a member of the former board, immediately became the center of attention. After some discussion it was agreed to lay the bill back on the table, from whence there are no present indications that it will again be taken up.

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED.

At a meeting of the directors of the Board of Trade, held yesterday morning, resolutions were adopted in memory of the late Adolphus Busch. A copy was sent to the bereaved family in St. Louis and the Board of Trade will also present a handsome floral piece, to be made up in St. Louis, when the funeral takes place next Saturday. The resolutions follows:

"For years, thousands upon thousands of men, women and children have walked in his gardens, rested in the shade of spreading oaks, gazed in rapture upon waterfall and mountain; marveled at the witchery of art displayed in perfecting beautiful hills and valleys; at the wonderful tree growth and the wealth of flower and shrub and farspreading lawn.

"No fair-minded person, young or old, ever left the Pasadena Busch gardens without a sense of uplift and a feeling of profund gratitude to the one who gave opportunity for the experience.

"The passing of Adolphus Busch surely deprives the city of Pasadena of a citizen of the highest generosity and public spirit; one whose kindness reaches the hearts of rich and poor alike.

"He and his family lived in our midst a life of great dignity, unobtrusive and unostentatious, only seeking to give pleasure and comfort to all, without expectation or thought of reward.

"Therefore, be it resolved, by the Pasadena Board of Trade, that it is with profound sorrow that we mourn the death of Adolphus Busch. We respectfully extend the sympathy of this board to his bereaved widow and the members of his family."

GETS OFF CHEAPLY.

"I think that the law is a good one and quite reasonable," said Frank S. Wallace of No. 1263 South El Molino avenue, brother of Lieut.-Gov. Wallace, when he was fined $1 yesterday by Justice of the Peace McDonald for letting his automobile stand in one place in the business part of the city for over an hour.

Wallace paid the fine, which is the amount that most of the offenders have been assessed since the law became operative, smilingly. He said that he was guilty, that he had forgotten about the automobile, and asked how much he owed.

TAKES OFFICIAL'S PURSE.

A sneak thief who ransacked the lockers in which their clothes hung while the men of the gymnasium class of the Young Men's Christian Association were busy with their exercises last Monday night was no respector of persons. He took a number of pocketbooks and among them that of City Commissioner T. D. Allin. It contained $4.75. The thief obligingly left the Commissioner's gold watch, which was also in the locker.

About $60 in money was stolen. John M. Gates lost $14.

NO MOTORBUSSES.

Because the bond of $1000 that the promoters of the scheme had promised the city to furnish as a guarantee that they would fulfill their part of the contract has not been forthcoming, the City Commission yesterday rescinded ordinance No. 1367, which was an ordinance providing that double-decked motorbusses might be operated between Pasadena and Los Angeles. Regular trips without stops were to be made and the busses, those who were to establish the line told the Commissioners, would solve the problem of improving the transportation facilities between the two cities.

Promoters of a suspended aerial railroad have now set up a large working model in the office of the Board of Trade and are seeking to interest the directors of that organization in it as a means of providing swift transit to and from Los Angeles.

CITY BRIEFS.

The girls of the domestic science class at the Polytechnic High School have invited the boys of the school to luncheons which they will themselves prepare and serve at the school this week.

Because they preached in such a loud tone of voice that they could be heard several blocks distant, the little party which has been holding meetings nightly in the street at South Fair Oaks avenue and Mercantile place, were yesterday told by the City Commissioners that they could have the use of the street for their meetings no longer. Their permit was revoked.

Officers were named yesterday for the school bond election, which is to be held November 12.

BURGLAR SUSPECTS.

TULARE, Oct. 21.—James O'Hara, who says his home is in Chicago and who says he is 19 years of age, and Joh Flanders, who claims Minneapolis as his home and who is but 16, are lodged in the County Jail to await a hearing on a charge of having burglarized the home of W. M. Reedy on Visalia road last evening, during the absence of the owner. Ray Tracey, a nephew of Reedy, is said by the officers to have caught the two boys in the act of ransacking the house and notified an officer. Constable Virden took the lads into custody and lodged them in jail. O'Hara told the officers that he was alone to blame for the theft and that Flanders was not responsible. By reason of their ages the boys will probably be held to the Juvenile Court.

Long Beach.

HALF MILLION FOR JETTIES.

Long Beach Aspires to Be Made a Seaport.

Permanent Pensions to Victims of Pier Disaster.

Canadian Youth Loses His Roll to Sharks.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 21.—That the voters of Long Beach will be asked within the next few weeks to vote a half-million-dollar bond issue for the extension of the San Gabriel jetties and the deepening of the mouth and channel of the inner harbor and that this sum will be voted without objection is the opinion today of the Chamber of Commerce Committee of Eleven appointed to devise ways and means for the improvement desired.

The committee yesterday afternoon held a conference with Col. McKinstry, of the local board of engineers, and was gratified to hear him express his opinion as a private citizen and not as an official that if this city would vote $500,000 in bonds to be expended under the direction of the government that the municipality need have no fear of obtaining substantial assistance from the Federal government.

As a result of the conference the committee last night met with representatives of several other civic organizations and discussed a tentative plan to ask the citizens to vote a bond issue of $500,000 for the purposes desired, and this plan will be submitted to the organizations for approval and support. As a strong incentive to favorable action, the Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company has in a measure committed itself to a proposition whereby it will donate to the city in return for the bonds issued water frontage to the amount voted, this proposition being based on the increased valuation to the corporation's property which will follow the proposed harbor development.

In order to get the desired aid from the government it will be necessary for the city to take action on the bond issue within the next three months.

CITY'S RESPONSIBILITY.

Relative to the report of the grand jury on the Empire Day disaster and their words of commendation for the work of the Relief Committee, Chairman C. C. Doran said today: "Our records show that we have attended to a total of 376 cases—thirty-nine deaths and 337 injured—all of which we have administered to. The probable number of those injured was 400, but we have records of only 337. In that work the committee has spent about $47,000. At the present time, five months after the accident, there are still thirty-seven cases on the books, still being cared for. Of these ten are in Los Angeles and six in Pasadena. From present indications there are twelve or fifteen persons for whom the city will have to care for during their lives, the nature of their injuries making them permanently disabled, and they will be so cared for if the original intent of the relief fund is carried out."

EASY MARK JARVIS.

Humphrey Jarvis, a young Canadian, who is spending the winter in Los Angeles and lives at No. 627 Wall street, came to the beach today for a few hours' pleasure, and an hour later was busy at police station giving a description of two men whom he met and with whom he strolled along the Strand until they reached the beach in front of Hotel Virginia, where Jarvis was persuaded to match coins for cigar money. Though in full view of hundreds who passed the game progressed until Jarvis had parted with eighteen beautiful new Canadian $10 bills. Then he tumbled, and as his whilom friends left him Jarvis made a bee line for police headquarters. The entire force was notified to be on the lookout, but the confidence men made a successful getaway.

WANT FEDERAL AID.

At a meeting of property owners of the northwest territory whose lands are annually damaged by the storm water overflow it was decided to ask Federal aid in providing for a remedy of the existing evil, following a statement that the government did not look with favor upon the proposition to divert the waters into the Long Beach and Los Angeles harbors.

Engineer Trask of Whittier, who is acting in an advisory capacity for the property owners, says that the natural flow of the waters is east to the New and San Gabriel rivers, and thence to the ocean by way of Alamitos Bay. Mr. Trask says the watershed affected covers 241 square miles of territory, running way up in the mountain canyons in the vicinity of Pomona, and therefore in view of the large amount of money necessary to be expended, it was decided to ask government aid.

BOY INJURED.

Lloyd Toole, aged 13, was picked up last night near the Pacific Electric car barns in a dazed condition. When found he was walking about aimlessly, repeating with parrot-like precision, "Mack Toole is my father. He works for the Pacific Electric, and I live at No. 4043 Fifth street."

The lad was questioned but he only stared at his interrogator blankly. The police were called and after some difficulty located the lad's parents at Fourteenth and American, having moved recently from the other address. On examination the boy was found to be suffering from injuries above the eye, and his hands and arms were badly bruised and cut. Today there is a little improvement in the victim's condition, and it is hoped that by tomorrow he will be recovered enough to give details of the mysterious accident.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Long Beach was visited by a sharp earthquake shock at 1:45 o'clock this morning. The tremor came from the southeast and traveled northwest, lasting, perhaps half a minute. Houses shook and citizens awakened by the waving of their beds, heard picture frames rattling against the walls. There was no damage so far as known.

Jack Lorraine, who ran a snake show on the Pike, and found business so bad in this "dry" town that no one wanted to see his snakes, and who in consequence became so hungry that he stole cream left in the early morning by dealers. He entered a plea of guilty to theft this morning before Justice Underwood, and was given probation by the judge in order to enable him to get some other work and pay his landlady in addition to getting his meals hereafter honestly.

OPPOSE WATER BONDS.

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 21.—An enthusiastic meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. E. B. Dobbs, 700 El Centro, under the auspices of the Citizens' League to discuss the proposed issue of water bonds which were defeated October 8. Frank A. Cattern took up the subject in detail, explaining why the Marengo Water Company was so anxious to unload upon the property owners of South Pasadena a water system and wells that had no permanent source of supply. Other speakers were William H. Jennings and ex-Congressman Daniels. The Citizens' League has arranged for meetings October 22 at the house of E. I. Robinson, No. 1821 Court street; Fred D. Griffith, No. 1023 Elm avenue.

Riverside.

ARE UNFOLDING THEIR PLANS.

RIVERSIDE WATER COMPANY WILL ABOLISH A CANAL.

Part of Land Holdings Sold to Secure Funds With Which to Make the Improvements—Industrial School Project at Rincon Is Backed by Volunteers of America.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 21.—Transactions that will mean as much for one of the great irrigating systems that supplies Riverside's orange groves as the amount to be expended by the city for the laying of sixty miles of pipe and improving the domestic system, have just been closed by the Riverside Water Company.

The company is laying several miles of pipe in order to do away with what is known as its lower canal, which bisects the city. Sales of four pieces of property, just closed by the company, and bringing a consideration of $60,000, will provide funds for the further improvement of the company's system, and at the same time leave the company with valuable water rights on these lands.

The tracts involved include what is known as the Johnson tract of fifty-seven acres, bordering Colton avenue; the Heath tract, comprising ten acres in the river bottom between this city and Redlands; the Coburn tract of 35.5 acres in Warm Creek Valley, near Colton, and the Taylor tract of ten acres.

In another deal closed today, Albert Schliem purchases from W. E. Dauchy, a ten-acre orange grove on Magnolia avenue. In the transaction Schliem secures properties which make an aggregate consideration of $23,000. A $4000 residence will be erected on the avenue property.

NEW INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Considerable interest has been aroused here over the announcement from Los Angeles of the preparation of plans for a group of five buildings for an industrial school for boys to be established at Rincon, near Corona, by the Volunteers of America. The estimated cost is about $100,000. J. R. Newberry of Los Angeles is chairman of the board of directors of the Children's Home of the Volunteers of America. During the summer seventy boys camped on the land that has been donated by Mr. Newberry for the purposes of a school.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Five Hundred Delegates in Attendance at the Annual Meeting at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 21.—With fully 500 delegates in attendance the State Sunday-school convention was called to order in the First Methodist Church this morning by the president, C. H. Ainley of Monrovia. The convention was then divided into three sections and each section immediately began its deliberations. These sections were designated as elementary, secondary and adult, and the topics in each corresponded, dealing with the work of the teachers and pupils in each division of the Sunday-schools. Speakers this morning were Dr. R. P. Shepard of St. Louis, Dr. S. N. Queen of San Bernardino; Mrs. H. A. Dowling of Los Angeles; and E. S. Palmiter of Orange. The convention will be in session three days.

Venice.

VENICE HAS ITS ASPIRATIONS.

WOULD BECOME PORT OF CALL FOR GREAT SHIPS.

Abbot Kinney Proposes to Build Suitable Wharves and Breakwater If the Pacific Navigation Company Will Enter Into a Contract for Five Years—Short News Stories.

VENICE, Oct. 21.—If the Pacific Navigation Company is to withdraw its steamships, the Yale and the Harvard, from the port of San Pedro, Venice wants the big vessels, and will pay a high price for them.

Abbot Kinney has written to the company, inviting it to make Venice its port of call adjacent to Los Angeles. Kinney agrees to build a 2000-foot addition to the present pier, and construct a long breakwater at right angles to the end, if the company will contract to stop here for five years.

The Doge of Venice has heard a rumor that the Yale and the Harvard would cease to call at San Pedro after the first of the year. He calls the attention of the company's officials to the fact that by stopping at Venice instead of San Pedro, the running time between Los and San Francisco would be cut two hours. If the company decides to come here, the ocean in front of Venice would be transformed into a miniature bay, a project which Kinney has had in mind for some years.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Believing that the large number of accidents and arrests for speeding occurring on Speedway, dubbed the "death trap," is because of the name of the street, the City Trustees will change the name of the narrow thoroughfare leading to Santa Monica and Playa del Rey. Motorists believe that more speed is allowed on Speedway than any other street, oftimes, when the limit is less per mile than on other thoroughfares. The new name has not yet been decided upon.

The police now believe that W. R. Hager, who disappeared after a quarrel with his wife and a dip in the surf, did not drown, or attempt drowning, but that he has taken this means to leave his wife, with whom he was almost constantly embroiled over religion. Mrs. Hager tells the police that Hager had considerable money with him when he left for Venice, whereas not a cent was deposited by him in the valuables boxes at the bath-house when he rented a bathing suit, nor were any valuables found in his clothing, left in the bathroom.

HERMOSA BEACH.

HERMOSA BEACH, Oct. 21.—Fritz Mueller, an actor with the Selig Polyscope Company, had half of his ear bitten off this morning by a camel which figured in the pictures being taken here today. Mueller had been with the company but a few days and went too close to the camel, who resented such familiarity upon the part of a stranger. The top of Mueller's ear was bitten completely off and Mueller will be disfigured though the hearing will not be destroyed. Dr. M. Jaynes attended the injured man.

TWO TERRIBLY INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK.

ONTARIO, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. and Mrs. E. Ben Henke were terribly injured shortly before 7 o'clock tonight when their motor car struck an unlighted sand pile at A street and Fern avenue and, turning turtle, pinned them beneath it. Residents of the section heard the crash and breaking of the glass followed by screams of "Help! help!" and of "Oh, my darling!" When the touring car had been lifted from the pair, it was found that Mrs. Henke was unable to walk and the physician was suffering with severe cuts about the head and face.

A passing machine carried the victims to their home, where they are under the care of two doctors and trained nurses. Mrs. Henke's right hip is reported dislocated and internal injuries are feared. Henke's injuries are thought to be less serious, but it is feared he will be disfigured for life, practically all the skin being torn from his face on the pavement.

Henke's 12-year-old daughter, Jane, became hysterical when her parents were taken home injured and refuses to be comforted. Henke came here but a few weeks ago from San Francisco to take the place of Dr. C. S. Orr. It is reported that Henke will ask heavy damages from the city for leaving the sand pile without light. The headlights of the car were burning.

Bakersfield.

POLICE ARE MYSTIFIED BY DISAPPEARANCE OF THREE.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 21. — The mysterious disappearances within three weeks of three men have led the Bakersfield police to believe that foul play has been at the bottom of the several mysteries. The men who are missing are: Frank Lowrey, S. W. Seymour and O. C. Cantlebury.

Three weeks ago Frank Lowrey bade his wife good-by at noon, Saturday, September 27, saying that he was going downtown to buy a blacksmith shop on K street. On the way he stopped at the fire house and showed a friend $100 which he told him he was about to pay on the shop. From that time he has not been heard from. Lowrey is 35 years of age and weighs 150 pounds.

O. C. Cantlebury, a candy man of Delano, came to Bakersfield on Monday, September 28, to attend to some business, intending to return to Delano the same day. He did not return and no trace of him can be found. Cantlebury had considerable money with him. He is 37 years old and weighs about 145 pounds. His feet are slightly crippled from rheumatism. His friends are caring for his candy business in his absence.

S. W. Seymour, a contractor of Taft, came to Bakersfield on October 5 and cashed a check at a local saloon, since which time he has not been heard from. Seymour, or "Sure-shot Bill," as he is nicknamed, has important building operations under way in Taft and also in Bakersfield. He is 50 years of age and weighs abut 150 pounds, has dark eyes and hair and is slightly gray.

Considering the fact that none of the men had any reason to disappear, on the contrary all being engaged in active enterprises at home, and the fact that each was in possession of a considerable sum of money at the time, police headquarters have concluded that a gang of crooks must be operating in the city.

"That canyon road," said [illegible] Glenn D. Smith of the Ontario Power Company, which recently built the road, "paid for itself today, for we were able to rush men to the fire and check its progress quickly, the result is that the damage to the watershed is slight, indeed."

P. Bowers who made the arrest. Judge Welock entered a plea of not guilty and set the case for jury trial at the City Court Thursday morning. City Attorney Isaac Jones will appear for the city. Brownson will argue his own case and remarked this morning that he guessed he could handle the city attorney all right.

When arrested several weeks ago on a speeding charge, the millionaire refused to [illegible] because, he said, while he had no doubt that he had broken the speed law he did not intend to [illegible] since he had not intended to [illegible] At that time the judge fixed Brownson's bail at $5, in order to accommodate him, and told him to appear, thus saving him the necessity of pleading guilty.

Finds out that the drug, caffeine, in coffee is the cause of headache, nervousness, irritable heart, insomnia or some other obscure ache or pain.

Steady nerves and a clear brain—the best asset any man or woman can have—are often impossible to the regular coffee drinker.

If you are ambitious enough to "get ahead," suppose you stop coffee and try hot, well-made

POSTUM

If the old aches and pains begin to leave after a few days on Postum, you'll know whether to stick to it or go back to coffee troubles.

Postum now comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A spoonful dissolves in a cup of hot water, and with sugar and cream makes a delicious beverage instantly.

"There's a Reason"

EASY CHANGE

When Coffee Is Doing Harm.

A lady writes from the land of cotton of the results of a four years' use of the food beverage, Postum.

"Ever since I can remember we had used coffee three times a day. It had a more or less injurious effect upon us all, and I suffered almost death from indigestion and nervousness.

"I know it was coffee, because when I would leave it off for a few days I would feel better. But it was hard to give coffee up, even though I realized how harmful it was to me.

"At last I found a perfectly easy way to make the change. Four years ago I abandoned the coffee habit and began to drink Postum and I also influenced the rest of the family to do the same.

"Even the children are allowed to drink it as freely as they do water. And it has done us all great good. I no longer suffer from indigestion, and my nerves are in admirable tone since I began to use Postum. We never use coffee any more.

"We appreciate Postum as a delightful and healthful beverage, which not only invigorates but supplies the best of nourishment as well." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

HIGHWAY SAVES WATERSHED

FIRE FIGHTERS ENABLED TO SUBDUE FIERCE FLAMES.

Blaze Originates in a Greek Lesser Fraternity House, Which Is Totally Destroyed—One Hundred and Fifty Men Rushed to Scene in Automobiles.

ONTARIO, Oct. 21.—A splendid automobile road running the entire length of San Antonio Canyon is today looked upon as the chief factor in the saving of the Ontario watershed from serious damage yesterday morning, when fire from the Kappa Delta Fraternity house, near Claremont, where it started, spread to the surrounding underbrush and timber. With the first-class road it was possible to rush 100 men to the scene of the fire by auto trucks in a little more than an hour after a general alarm was turned in, in this city and Upland, where without the road it would have taken the fighters hours to have arrived at the scene of the fire, which would by that time, in all probability, have been beyond their control.

"That canyon road," said Manager Glenn D. Smith of the Ontario Power Company, which recently built the road, "paid for itself today. When we were able to rush men to the fire and check its progress quickly, as the result is that the damage to the watershed is slight, indeed."

The fire broke out last night at the fraternity-house of a Greek letter society of Pomona College and which was occupied at the time by Fred Ryan and another boy. The house, which stood on Dagger Point, a projection just above the canyon, forest Ranger Jack Bryden said, was totally destroyed, a loss of about $1000, and burning particles falling near the ranger's tent were the first signs of the fire he received.

About fifty men were first rushed from Upland, and when these failed to check the flames, 100 more were taken by auto truck from this city shortly after midnight. The men battling with the flames, assisted in subduing them under control by 7 o'clock this morning. The smoldering embers have been watched all day by a force of eighty men, under Superintendent Robert Manley of the Ontario Power Company, and Ranger Bryden. Tonight a small force of men is retained to keep watch. Last night's and this morning's fighting was under the direction of Forest Warden C. LaPlant and Manager Glenn Smith of the power company.

The fact that the wind was from the north is thought to have been a factor that saved Camp Baldy Hotel and cottages from destruction. Guests at the resort were decidedly uneasy and prepared to flee in case the wind should change.

SOCIALIST IN TROUBLE.

Roswell R. Brownson, commonly known as the "millionaire Socialist" of this section, a prominent citizen rancher, residing at Euclid avenue and Eighteenth street, is under arrest today for the second time on a charge of breaking the city's speed ordinance. When taken before Judge J. R. Fellows this morning, Brownson made a strenuous effort to have the charge against him dismissed, declaring it uncertain terms that his arrest was malicious and absolutely false," and that it was pure spite work on the part of Motor Officer J. P. Brown, who made the arrest. Judge Fellows entered a plea of not guilty and set the case for jury trial at the City Hall Thursday morning. City Attorney Jones will appear for the prosecution, Townsend will argue his own case and remarked this morning that he guessed he could handle the City Attorney all right.

When arrested several weeks ago for a speeding charge, the Socialist millionaire refused to plead guilty because, he said, while he did not doubt that he had broken the law, he did not broken the "spirit of the law since he had not intended to break it, that time the judge fixed Brownson's bail at $5, in order to accommodate him, and told him not to appear, thus saving him the trouble of pleading guilty.

DESCRIPTION OF AN OLD

Residents of West Orange Picturesque Phrase to Their Indignation—Short Sojourn.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 21.—Residents of West Orange, who have long been complaining of foul odors arising from Orange's sewage disposal farm, wasted no time in showing shot and shell into the camp today, when they were called as witnesses in their injunction suit against Orange. Judge of San Bernardino was on the bench.

A. Smiley, a rancher, declared that the odors constituted a "nuisance that if a man got a whiff of the sewer farm before eating he would not want anything to eat. If he got the whiff after he ate he would not keep what he had eaten." Fred Scheuter, D. Rush and J. Hilton, who live a mile from the tanks, described the conditions as exceedingly offensive.

Since the action was begun against the city, that city has proceeded under the direction of the State Board of Health to change its sewage disposal system to the Imhoff system. Smiley testified that the odors had not been bettered at all. County Physician John W. Hyde, G. G. Hyde, engineer of the State Board of Health, are arranging to install a sewer system for the hospital and county farm on the West Orange, across the river from the Orange sewer farm. They intend upon establishing a tank on the Imhoff system. The sewage passing through the tank will be spread under the ground by pipes with outlets eighteen inches below the surface.

MARSHAL REMOVED.

ELSINORE, Oct. 21.—At the meeting of the Board of City Trustees here tonight, was seen the highly interesting finish of the affair between Dr. Schuth and the City Marshal, Hayworth, whom the former charged of conduct unbecoming an officer. Thursday night last the doctor publicly apologized to Schutz before the board. Schutz then withdrew charges against the Marshal, and the board saying that he would leave it to them to decide whether he would be reinstated as official. Last night the doctor declared that he was not and declared his office vacant. He protested, however, and intended that two nights of last week be given to nights of last week in his case. Chief Townsend was then appointed by on behalf of Elsinore.

FINES DRUIDS FOR CONTEMPT.

SAN FRANCISCO JUDGE RESENTS DISOBEDIENCE.

Defendants Said to Have Defied Injunction and to Have Organized New Grove in Los Angeles. Trouble Involves Rupture Between State and National Organization.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Former Judge George H. Bahrs, Jules Godeau, James F. Martinoni and Frank Desutti were each fined $250 for contempt of court today with the alternative of spending five days in jail. The fine was imposed in Department No. 4 of the Superior Court, and came as the result of disobedience on the part of the defendants to a court order issued on behalf of the Grand Grove of the United Druids of California, forbidding the representatives of the Supreme Grove of the order from attempting to organize subordinate lodges in this State in opposition to the regular lodges recognized by the present State organization.

The defendants, acting as representatives of the Supreme Grove, which has its headquarters in Indianapolis, proceeded, notwithstanding the injunction, to organize a new grove in Los Angeles. Contempt proceedings followed.

This is the latest chapter in a big volume of trouble, the perusal of which has been forced upon the Druids through a rupture between the State and national organizations. The first chapter dealt with the Supreme Court's attempt to impose a per capita tax upon California Druids over the head of the Grand Grove, which objected.

A stay of two weeks was granted the defendants in the contempt case.

CLAIMS DUVALL ESTATE.

Wife of Chicago Jeweler Makes Formal Application for Large Property Left by Vineyardist.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND (Cal.) Oct. 21.—Mrs. Amelia M. Williamson, who says she is the daughter of the late Alexander Duvall, filed a claim yesterday with the County Clerk here for all properties included in the $500,000 estate left by the French vineyardist. In claiming all the large holdings that comprised the estate, including the handsome villa, the chateau Belleview at Livermore, Mrs. Williamson declares she is the sole heir, and that the estate is little indebted.

No reference is made to her banishment from her father's house at the time of her former marriage to Thaddius Stevens. She is now the wife of a Chicago jewelry manufacturer and asserts that she was not aware of her father's death until she saw legal publications of the sale of a portion of the Duvall properties, early this month, which took place because of the inability of the Public Administrator to find the missing daughter. Besides the estate here, other properties are held in England for the Duvall heir, claim to which will be filed later by Mrs. Williamson's attorney.

C. F. Mess, a Livermore druggist, a nurse who cared for Mrs. Williamson in her babyhood, and several others are expected to help her to prove her identity. The case is expected to come up in the Oakland courts in about ten days.

New Zealander Tells Stanford Students That Only Chemically Pure Newspapers Are in His Country.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) Oct. 21.—"Americans want sensational news, whether it is true or not, while a New Zealander seeks not only to be entertained in his paper, but also to be educated," declared D. J. Guiney, representative of a New Zealand newspaper syndicate, but now with the all-black Rugby fifteen, in an address before the students in journalism here. Prof. E. W. Smith, teacher of news writing at Stanford, secured the visitor to compare the newspapers of his country and the United States.

"New Zealand has a high degree of literacy, and the people take a great interest in their papers," said Guiney. "Your papers here report the events as they are, in the opinion of the reporter, or in the view of the paper's policy, while we in New Zealand print the facts, without any coloring. Your interest in world affairs is behind that of our country, if the newspapers are taken as any indication. We print more world news, more commercial and political news than do the American papers.

"As in America, sports are given prominence. The sporting writers are the only specialized reporters on our papers. All reporters work twelve hours a day. Our papers look to the American magazines as the best in the world."

Favorable Washington Reports Send Leading Shares Up from Two to Four Points, With Larger Advances in Some Cases—Sharp Rise in Americans at London.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Stocks rose buoyantly today. Not for weeks had the street seen such an outburst of strength. Leading shares gained from 2 to 4 points, with advances of as much as 8 points in some cases. The amount of business in the first hour's trading was nearly as great as the total for yesterday's session. It was a bad day for the bears. Short covering was responsible for the heaviest buying, especially in Steel and Union Pacific.

The sharp rise in American stocks in London gave the market its first impulse upward and almost created a panic among the shorts. The upward movement was accentuated by news from Washington that the Interstate Commerce Commission had approved an increase in certain freight rates in the Missouri River district. Reports from Washington that important amendments would be made in the currency bill affecting provisions which have met with largest opposition, also helped to stimulate the market. Increased speculative activity was facilitated by conditions in the money market. Although there was no further essential change in time rates, the tone was easier.

Bonds showed general strength with a good inquiry for some low price issues. Total sales, par value, $2,000,000. United States 2's advanced ½; the 4's ¼, and Panama 2s a point on call.

We Offer, Subject to Prior Sale, a Limited Block of Union Oil Bonds at 82½.

The wide margin of security and exacting sinking fund requirements on these First Lien 5's make them especially attractive to the investor who considers safety rather than profit. To those who seek large income they are equally attractive, netting 6.50 per cent. at this price, with considerably larger future potentialities, in view of the advancing market. We believe these bonds will advance to 85 within six months, and be selling around 90 within one year. Under such circumstances, holders may net up to 9 per cent. per annum, if their bonds are handled with judgment during the next two or three years. What other non-speculative investment presents equal opportunity?

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Shorts Run to Cover—Recent Sellers of Stocks Are Conspicuous on Buying Side.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury building, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Strength displayed by the stock market Saturday and Monday apparently produced consternation among the short interests, for seemingly without any material changes in outside conditions a tremendous volume of stocks were purchased today by those who heretofore have been conspicuous on the selling side. For a time a decision in a minor rate case in which about $100,000 was involved among all railroads concerned was thought to have been the factor which induced the covering movement. Later a great deal of the reported change in the attitude of the administration and various legislators in connection with banking and currency legislation. It is said that many of the various recommendations put forth, particularly by the country banks, will receive serious consideration and in great part be acted on.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Market Fails to Reveal Any Decided Tendencies—Union Oil Shows Slight Weakness.

Business on the Stock Exchange showed a little improvement, but changes amounted to almost nothing. Union Oil came toward the front a little in the trading list, but was far from active and revealed weakness. National Pacific was a shade easier. Midway Northern sold at 28 cents. Associated was firmer.

Los Angeles Investment, which attracted fair interest, opened weak, but was firm toward the close, after a somewhat better tone was shown than the previous day.

Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank stock was firmer. Changes in the mining list were nominal.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCHANGE.

Belmont Makes Fifteen-Point Gain and Other Tonopahs Show Better Tone—Comstocks Weak.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Tonopah stocks were in better form, Belmont was up 15 points, Mexico and North Star 1. The rest held their own. Montana sold at 1.12 just before the close and Merger changed hands at 60. There were no changes of consequence in the Goldfield list. The tone was a little easier if anything. Manhattans continue to move in very narrow channels. Bullfrog-camp stocks were very dull. Comstocks were unchanged to 2 points down.

HARBOR ITEMS.

A slight earthquake shook San Pedro and the surrounding country at 2:40 a.m. yesterday. The shock was more noticeable at Lomita, where dishes and windows rattled and many people were frightened, however, no damage was done.

The passenger liner Harvard left the port for San Francisco with a full passenger list of 501 persons. This is the limit the ship can carry during the winter season and many persons were unable to secure passage.

The Willamette and Henry T. Scott arrived from San Diego and the former sailed for Portland yesterday. The Henry T. Scott is unloading the balance of her lumber cargo at the southern California wharf.

The Japanese government will send out weather reports by wireless on request if the message is paid for, according to an account that reached the port yesterday. The captain of the Korea sent a radiogram to the weather bureau on the Formosa coast, asking for a report of the storm and that a report would be sent if the Korea would pay the cost, 3 yen, or about 62 cents. This was agreed to and the Korea's officer was informed of an approaching typhoon.

The passenger steamer Governor arrived from San Francisco and Portland with 310 passengers and 1100 tons of general merchandise.

The National City came in from Fort Bragg with 11,000 railway ties for the Salt Lake and 44,000 feet of lumber for various consignees.

The Yucatan arrived from San Diego with sixty passengers and sailed for San Francisco and Portland with 114 passengers and twenty-five tons of freight.

The passenger liner Yale brought in a fair cargo and 210 passengers.

New York Cotton Market.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The market was full of both local and telegraphic selling orders at the opening and first prices were some 20 points below parity with cables bullish. Leading trade houses were heavy buyers on the weak showing and a sharp rally caused the first hour, but offerings later proved heavier than could be comfortably digested and closing prices were not far from the low point of the day. It looked as though some of the larger local interests who had sized up the situation correctly had sold out their early purchases, and bought again on the early rally for their own account. Values differ as to the damage sustained, but the fact remains that a heavy to killing frost has fallen, with temperatures from 28 to 32 over at least half of the cotton belt, and that this untoward event had occurred a week or ten days ahead of normal. The larger crop estimates must now be revised. Meantime the spinners find offerings of desirable quality scarce and higher, and are likely to become alarmed over the probability of a further curtailing of supplies. TO LOOK INTO RATES.

State Railroad Commission Sets Date for Hearing Looking Toward Reduction in Fares.

Announcement was made yesterday by the State Railroad Commission that December 1 has been selected as the date of the hearings of the related cases of the Los Angeles Rate Association and Robert W. Armstrong, et. al. versus the Pacific Electric, Los Angeles Interurban, Los Angeles and Redondo, Riverside and Arlington and Los Angeles Railway companies. The hearings are set for 10 o'clock a.m. in the Supreme Court rooms in the Bullard building, with Commissioners Edgerton and Loveland presiding.

These are the cases in which the reasonableness of all interurban rates in Southern California are attacked, and, in some cases, reductions asked of as much as 50 per cent. The Los Angeles Rate Association is, or was, an ephemeral organization of various interests which started out to combine various civic bodies in Southern California for a concerted petition to the commission for a reduction of Pacific Electric rates. Opposition to this plan developed and finally the association contented itself with a slimly-signed petition to the commission to investigate rates.

More important in possible benefits will be the commission's investigation, the following day, on its own initiative, into the matter of establishing a through route and joint rates between this city and Glendale, with the Los Angeles Railway Company and the Glendale and Eagle Rock Railway Company as joint participants.

START DISBARMENT.

Attorney Accused of Taking Woman Client's Money and Failing to Pay It Back.

The Los Angeles Bar Association filed an accusation in disbarment proceedings against S. A. D. Gray, an attorney, yesterday. He is charged on the complaint of Mrs. Alice Stanley, who retained him to advise her as to the disposition of $400 on deposit at a local bank, with appropriating the money. She alleges that being sick and nervous, Gray advised her to withdraw the money and that she accompanied him to his office.

Gray, it is alleged, induced her to drink whisky and she delivered the money to him. He gave her a paper acknowledging the receipt of the money which was to be given to her on demand. She has since demanded its return, but she charges he turned over only $364.

Gray could not be reached last night.

THEY WILL EXHIBIT.

Germany and England to Be Largely Represented at Panama-Pacific Fair, Says Agent to Ad Men.

"I think I am safe in assuring you that all but two of the States in the Union and every commercial nation except Russia will be represented at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Despite the reports that Great Britain and Germany would not exhibit, we have already received applications for more space from prospective exhibitors from those countries than we have at the disposal of all foreign nations put together. This is to be the first really universal exposition that the world has seen. Everything will be ready on time, as we are now over 4 per cent. ahead of our schedule."

This promise was made by George Hough Perry, director of publicity for the Panama-Pacific Exposition at the Ad Club meeting at Christopher's yesterday.

Marshall Stimson, member of the State Exposition Commission, spoke on the importance of having Los Angeles properly represented at the exposition. Miss Mary Martin, the 15-year-old piano virtuoso, gave a delightful and difficult classical programme from memory.

George B. Harrison was the chairman of the day.

RAILROAD INTO CHISOS.

A project, supposedly with the backing of the Southern Pacific, is now taking shape for the invasion of the steel rails into the fastnesses of the mammoth pine and oak forests in the Chisos Mountains, contiguous to Marfa, Tex. Marfa is on the Southern Pacific and is the nearest railroad outlet, hence the project, which has already received the sanction of the State of Texas, which owns the timber, savors of that road.

Comfort Station Plans.

Chief Inspector of Buildings Backus has completed new plans for the proposed comfort station and safety station at Ninth and Spring streets, and it is probable that Councilmen Whiffen and Conwell of the Finance Committee will present this subject to the Council today. The budget contains an appropriation of $13,000 for this comfort station, but by combining this with the new plans for a safety station, the total cost will be about $26,500. The Council must provide the extra money if the plan is carried through. This estimate is based on the work being done by the construction bureau of the building department. The plans provide for a comfort station, 100x26 feet, and below the street surface. Above this will rise the safety station. It is proposed to have the superstructure of granite and the comfort station lined with marble and white tiling.

YELLOW BLISTERS ALL OVER BODY

Itched and Hurt So Could Not Rest Day or Night. Nearly Tortured to Death. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

Hollene, New Mexico. —"Our little boy first broke out in little yellow blisters about the size of pin heads and they itched and hurt so badly he could not rest day nor night. In a few days they were running sores and kept spreading until they were as large as a dollar. He had them all over his body and was nearly tortured to death, as they hurt him so badly he could hardly sleep. He would scratch and cause great sores all over his face and legs.

"We tried several highly recommended remedies but they didn't seem to help him a bit. Nothing seemed to do any good until we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We hadn't used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment but a short time before he was completely cured without a scar." (Signed) Mrs. J. H. Northcutt, Nov. 22, 1912.

Not only are Cuticura Soap and Ointment most valuable in the treatment of eczemas and other distressing eruptions of skin and scalp, but they are also most effective in the treatment of pimples, blackheads, red, rough skins, itching, scaly scalps, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, chapped hands and shapeless nails. A single cake of Cuticura Soap (25c.) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Recall petitions against President McReynolds of the Board of Public Utilities were started yesterday. Mayor Rose stated yesterday that if he is clearly shown that a recall election is imminent, he will not submit the city to this expense, but will request McReynolds to resign.

The Board of Public Works yesterday adopted a resolution asking the Council to at once pass the girder-rail ordinance, or the board will have to begin prosecution of the Los Angeles Railway Corportion for violation of the terms of the existing ordinance.

The Annexation Commission yesterday conferred with representatives of the San Fernando Valley and they are to submit a scheme for union that would be satisfactory to them.

The Chief Inspector of Buildings has completed plans for a comfort and safety station at Ninth and Spring streets, to cost $26,500. The subject of additional funds to those appropriated in the budget for this purpose will be before the Council today.

After twenty years of married life, a famous Wells Fargo express messenger in the days of the red shirt miners, was defendant in the divorce court yesterday. His wife complained that he made her a nervous wreck by his brutality, which he denies.

At the City Hall.

MAYOR'S STAND AS TO RECALL.

SAYS HE'D NOT SUBMIT CITY TO ELECTION EXPENSES.

If He Is Shown Reasonable Prospect of Legal Demand Being Made for Removal of McReynolds, Resignation of President of Utilities Board Will Be Requested.

The Independent Civic League yesterday started the circulation of petitions for the recall of O. O. McReynolds, president of the Board of Public Utilities. The grounds stated for the recall are that McReynolds has refused and neglected to make investigations into the corporations maintaining gas systems and to fix a proper rate or to deliver to the City Council a statement enabling that body to fix a gas rate; that McReynolds permitted natural gas to be turned into the mains and mixed with artificial gas, without notice to the people, at their peril, and without a franchise granted or a rate fixed by law, thus endangering the health and lives of citizens and to the injury of the general public; that he has falsely denied to the people that the natural gas was being distributed and that he was allowed a 70-cent rate for gas costing the gas companies 12 cents, and has refused to make a just rate; that he has fostered special privileges in street car and railroad matters; "all of which is detrimental to the welfare of the people and unjustly subjects them to the aggrandizement and unjust exploitation by the corporations."

F. W. Allender of the Independent Civic League visited Mayor Rose yesterday to discuss the recall petitions, and the Mayor stated, after the interview, that he had told Allender that if it was clearly shown to him that a recall election is imminent, he will not submit the city to such expense, but will request the resignation of McReynolds.

The term for which McReynolds was appointed will expire on January 1, and the Mayor stated that he does not want to do any city official an injustice, but that he does not believe the city should be subjected to the expense of $40,000 or more for a recall election to determine whether the position of McReynolds on the gas situation shall be sustained or disapproved.

ZONE EXTENSION.
CHURCHES PROTEST IT.

The City Council will consider as a committee of the whole the proposition of President Whitten to increase the license fees on liquor permits, and it is expected that at the time of such hearing there will also be considered the proposition to extend the saloon zone southwest, probably to Pico street, and curtail it in the northern part of the district.

The Church Federation of Los Angeles has adopted a resolution protesting against any enlargement of the liquor zone, and has sent a copy of this resolution to each Councilman. It reads:

Whereas, it appears from press reports that it has been suggested that the zone within which intoxicating liquors may be sold within the city of Los Angeles should be enlarged;

Therefore, be it resolved, by the Executive Committee of the Church Federation of Los Angeles that we protest against any enlargement of the "liquor zone" and urge the City Council not to enact any ordinance having such an effect.

MUST GET BUSY
OR PROSECUTION STARTS.

For many weeks past the Board of Public Works has been urging the Council to adopt the reconstructed ordinance of girder rails and providing for the character of paving that must be maintained by the street railway companies in their portions of the street.

In this connection the Los Angeles Railway Corporation has asked that it be allowed to retain in use T-rails that are now in certain streets and that are in good condition and usable for several years. The corporation proposes that when these rails need replacement they will give way to the regular girder rails, but argues that it would be an economic loss to compel the replacement of good T-rails at this time.

The Board of Public Works takes the position that it would be improper to place such discretionary power upon that board, but insists that if certain streets are to have this exemption they must be named in the reconstructed ordinance.

Yesterday the Board of Public Works adopted a resolution urging the Council to immediately adopt the girder-rail ordinance, on the ground that if this is not done the board will necessarily have to start the prosecution of the railway corporations for violations of the ordinance adopted by a vote of the people in 1911.

The streets in which the railway corporation wishes to maintain its T-rails include Macy, Maple, Boyle, Vernon, Hoover and West Adams—a length of about six miles, that would require an outlay of more than $200,000.

MAKING PROGRESS.
ON ANNEXATION PLANS.

The Annexation Commission yesterday discussed with San Fernando Valley representatives the annexation project. Fred L. Boruff sent a letter in which he declared that any scheme is wrong that does not demand annexation as a condition precedent to obtaining aqueduct water.

Lucius K. Chase, representing the committee of fourteen from the purely agricultural parts of the valley, stated that the distribution of the water through use of the Vrooman act provisions would be objectionable, as the mains would cost about $4,000,000, and this must be paid in ten yearly payments. This, he said, with the valley's proportion of the aqueduct bonds interest and the water rate, would bankrupt the valley. He favored proceedings under the Bridgeford act, or the adoption of the borough system.

T. E. Gibbon opposed the formation of any irrigation districts without their including annexation to the city.

F. W. Prince, president of the San Fernando Chamber of Commerce, said that this organization's members do not favor annexation unless under the borough system.

The San Fernando people are to hold a meeting Friday morning at 10 o'clock to formulate a proposition upon which they would be willing to come into the city, and will again appear before the Annexation Commission Friday afternoon.

Today the commission will confer with Chief Engineer Mulholland on the subject of districts that can be advantageously served with the aqueduct water, and on Monday a hearing will be given the people of Eagle Rock, Annandale and San Rafael Heights.

Steam Shovel Begins Work.

The park department yesterday began the operation of a steam shovel and ten teams on the excavation of about 40,000 cubuc yards of earth of the westerly side of Lake Shore boulevard. This earth is to be used in straightening the westerly banks of Echo Lake at the southerly end of the lake, and for widening the dam which is in Bellevue avenue.

Doesn't Like "Grandeur."

Cornelius Cole yesterday filed with the City Clerk a protest to the City Council against the change of the name of Townsend street to Grandeur avenue. Cole says that the property owners on the street were not aware that the change was to be made, and that it was done at the instance of a man who had lived but ten days on the street when he filed his petition. Cole claims to have named the street himself, years ago, a says that it is well known and does not conflict with any other street bearing this name, is good plain English, and easily pronounced, while he seriously objects to "Grandeur."

Material for Harbor.

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded to J. M. Coleman & Co., the contract for creosoted piling, from thirty to sixty-two feet in length, for the wharf on the municipal dock No. 1. The contract price is $13,422.28, and delivery is to be made within thirty days.

The board also received from the Harbor Commission its approval of the specifications for the steel frame for the 1800-foot transit shed for the outer harbor wharf, and set November 17 as the time for opening bids.

Will Clean up on Demand.

The Harbor Commission and the Board of Public Works yesterday gave their approval to the proposal of the Standard American Dredging Company that this company be not required at this time to make the final clean-up in area A, at the municipal dock No. 1, but that the Huntington Fill will be accepted as completed, and the company be allowed to file its bonds insuring the clean-up at such time in the future as the Board of Public Works may order this done. It is considered undesirable to make the clean-up at this time, as dredging is to be done for the properties on the opposite side of the channel.

Eddie Ordinance.

REED PLEADS GUILTY WITHOUT A TRIAL.

F. E. REED, part owner of the Colby & Reed syndicate of cafeterias, pleaded guilty in the University Police Court yesterday to the charge of having violated the rooming-house act. Police Judge White fined him $50 and sentenced him to 100 days in jail, suspending the jail sentence.

Miss Florence Adams, who was arrested with Reed on the same charge, was released because of improper arraignment. Police Judge White held that she was not technically guilty of having violated the law because the act complained of was committed in her own room. She has promised to leave the city.

When first arraigned, Reed became prominent in police court history by hiring seven lawyers to defend him. He was known as "The Man with Seven Lawyers." He promised to fight the case from one court into another until he had appealed it to Washington, if he were convicted. Like many others, he threatened to test its constitutionality, but none has ever done so. Reed had demanded a jury trial, and it had been set for Friday, when he suddenly gave up.

The act under which he was sentenced was drafted by the ousted city prosecutor and moral censor, Eddie, and because of its stringency became known as the "Guy Eddie ordinance."

Reed was charged with violation of the act when he was arrested in Miss Adams's room one morning. She was employed as cashier in one of the Reed & Colby cafeterias, and she alleged that she had repeatedly tried to leave the city, but that Reed would not permit it. He was, she said, infatuated with her.

Because of the notoriety of the case, Mrs. Reed brought suit for separate maintenance, and Reed's bank account was attached, so he was unable to secure funds to fight his case for several days.

At the Courthouse.

HIS JOCULARITY CAUSES WOE.

WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE AFTER TWENTY YEARS.

Famous Express Messenger of Other Days Accused of Brutality, Which He Stoutly Denies—One Remark Makes Trouble—Point Involving Benevolet Society Decided.

"Momma, you are pressing those trousers fine; they are slick enough to wear down the street and catch a girl," is the jocular remark made by William A. Gooding, a famous Wells Fargo Express messenger in the days of the red-shirt miners, to his wife, Rose M. Gooding. Then the trouble started. In the divorce suit brought by Mrs. Gooding, and now on trial before Judge York, she testified Gooding struck her with a strap and was brutal not only to her but to their 17-year-old daughter Helen during the trouser episode.

"He did not apologize," sobbed Mrs. Gooding; "he did not say he was sorry. I said: 'Goody (I called him Goody,) this ends it between us; I can't stand any more of this abuse.' I got ready to leave and he told me to 'go to it.' It broke my heart; I have not been the same woman since."

Gooding said he did not strike his wife, but when he made the jocular remark she got angry and tried to tear the trousers. He told her not to destroy the only trousers he had, and seized her wrists. At this stage of Gooding's testimony court adjourned until this morning.

Mrs. Gooding brought the suit on the ground of cruelty. She testified he had never been kind to her from the first. Three weeks after their marriage, twenty years ago, she said he began calling her names. In recalling the various alleged acts of cruelty, Mrs. Gooding was dramatic. She pounded the bench in describing how he thumped the table, accenting his demand for a hot supper when he came home late.

Gooding stoutly denies all these allegations, and alleges in his cross-complaint that she was not a wife to him. It was stipulated, if a divorce is granted, that Mrs. Gooding shall have the daughter, who was a witness for her mother. Among the witnesses for Gooding yesterday was Mr. Judge Myers, a neighbor, who was called to disprove the allegation that Gooding is profane.

The opposing counsel are Mrs. Clara Shortlidge Foltz and Walter Haas.

PHONE CALL.
AND SOME RESULTS.

According to Mrs. Ruth May Floeter, in Judge Monroe's court yesterday, a mysterious telephone call was the means of trapping her husband with another woman in a North Spring-street rooming-house. She hurriedly notified Hutton & Williams, her attorneys, and, through a constable, papers were served on Floeter in the presence of the woman.

According to Floeter, who communicated with the court, the telephone call, the woman and the rooming-house formed a frame-up plot so that Mrs. Floeter could obtain a divorce. He wrote from Portland and stated he wanted to come here and contest the suit.

This was the situation which developed other angles, as, for instance, Mrs. Floeter's denial it was a frame-up. Floeter declared the woman in the case was a friend of his wife's who had consented to act a part in the sordid drama. Mrs. Floeter declared she did not know the woman. Floeter also introduced the name of a man in the case. He claimed this man had asked Mrs. Floeter to marry him. Mrs. Floeter admitted she knew the man, but that he had asked for her hand after the divorce papers were filed and not before.

It then developed that the man in the case had agreed to start Floeter in business in Portland and failed to make good his promise. Judge Monroe stated he had written Floeter in reply to his letter and had received no answer. He continued the case, instructing Clerk Hughes to notify Floeter to come here and testify, if he can be located.

AFTER ESTATE.
BROTHER ATTACKS WILL.

For eighteen years Lottie Robinson (colored) had been a domestic in the family of W. B. Mathews. Mathews had obtained her from an orphanage, and as she grew up the family became attached to her. So far as Mathews knew, she had no immediate family. When Lottie died last February and it was found that after a few bequests to institutions in this city she had left her estate to Mathews and his wife, Charles Robinson, a brother, contested the probate of the will on the ground of undue influence. The will was admitted to probate.

The contest was heard by Judge Jackson yesterday, Mathews and Attorney Crutcher, who drew the will, being witnesses. Former Judge Bordwell and Attorney Robinson were counsel for the estate. Under the will the Los Angeles Orphanage receives $150, the Young Women's Christian Association, $100; the Immanuel Presbyterian Church Sunday-school, $350. The bequest to Mr. and Mrs. Mathews is about $2400.

NEW POINT HERE.
INSTITUTIONS FAVORED.

Judge Wilbur yesterday handed down an opinion in the suit of M. Culver, administrator of the estate of Electus Searls against the Children's Home Society, involving the gift of eighty acres near Lompoc, Santa Barbara county, ruling on a point which has never heretofore been decided in this State. The heirs of Searls held that the society had no right to take acreage, as it would be in violation of Section 595 of the Civil Code.

Judge Wilbur held that religious, social and benevolent corporations may receive more land than the limit provided by law, and that the obligation is then upon them to dispose of the surplus within five years. The society, it appears, sold the land realizing about $20,000. If they had not sold it within the time limit then the State only could inquire into the matter. In other words, the matter would be between the State and the corporation and not the individual. In giving this property to the society, the heirs of Searls alleged it had been conveyed by undue influence, and they sought to have the gift set aside.

LONG QUESTION.
IN A WILL CONTEST.

A hypothetical question of 5000 words, was framed last night by Attorneys Graves and Harris to be propounded this morning to Dr. Cecil Edward Reynolds, a brain specialist, called by Sahman Babbik in the Shoapin Caspar will contest on trial in Judge Houser's court. This question is intended to cover the mental condition Caspar is alleged to have been in when he drew his will, leaving his large estate to Mrs. Emily Ainley with whom he made his home in this city.

Babbik alleges that Caspar, his cousin, was influenced by Mrs. Ainley in making her the sole beneficiary. By deposition and oral testimony he endeavored to show that Mrs. Ainley made love to the elderly bachelor and that this affection was actuated by an ulterior purpose. On the other hand Attorneys Trippit, Chapman and Laubersheimer will show by many witnesses that Caspar was mentally sound and was not influenced by Mrs. Ainley; furthermore that Mrs. Ainley, a married woman, was not in love with him.

JUDGES SHIFT.
MYERS SUCCEEDS CONREY.

Judge Myers falls heir to Judge Conrey's calendar, and Judge Houser inherits the department he used in the Hall of Records. Judge Myers will sit in Judge Houser's courtroom in the Courthouse. This order was made at a meeting of the judges held in the chambers of Presiding Judge McCormick yesterday. Judge Conrey is working on submitted cases in chambers, and will be ready to assume his duties on the Appellate Bench on short notice.

Judge Conrey succeeded Judge Bordwell, and among the big litigations were the suits of the California Development Company. It was not on account of the latter that Judge Myers was selected, but because he had asked for the first trial calendar available. He sat in one of the two miscellany courts and also presided at the hearings of the Lunacy Commissions. The judge appointed by the Governor to succeed Conrey will be assigned to the lunacy hearings and miscellany court.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

LEA ESTATE. The final account and distribution of the $6230 estate of Gen. Homer E. Lea was approved by Judge Rives yesterday. Under the will the widow, Ethel B. Lea receives three-sevenths of the estate, the residue going to Lea's sisters, Ermal Lea Green and Hersa Lea. They, however, transferred their interests to Mrs. Lea. The estate consists of $24.97 cash; seventy-one shares of the Steamboat Springs Company of Colorado, $4000, and a contract with Harper Brother's for the publication of and royalties for Lea's books, "The Day of the Saxon," and "The Valor of Ignorance," valued at $5.

JEWELRY SHOWN. Jessie Andrews Forman told on the witness stand yesterday, in her suit for divorce from Oza Lee Forman on the ground of cruelty, how he endeavored to force her to sell jewelry which he informed her had been stolen from a department store. The jewelry formed an exhibit in the case. It consisted of a back comb studded with brilliants, a silver chatelaine pencil and a lavalliere. Leola Hurt, Forman's sister, testified to her brother striking his wife because when he wanted to kiss her she pushed him away. Judge Monroe did not find the evidence sufficient to warrant a decree on the ground of cruelty, but he left the case open so that Mrs. Forman may bring action for desertion later on.

SALE APPROVED. The petition of Jake M. Danziger and Florence E. Whitney, executor and executrix of the estate of the late Charles A. Canfield, the oil magnate, for the sale of the livestock and farming utensils on the Sage and Compton ranches, was approved by Judge Rives yesterday. Among the blooded stock owned by Canfield and included in the sale are the bay stallion, Walter Barker, now at Exposition Park; the geldings Woodrow and Pezaro and Starlight, El Vuelo and a bay gelding by Walter Barker, dam Chloe. The sale list is a long one, representing a large amount of money. Among other stock on the Sage ranch in Tulare county are twenty-seven mares, sixteen colts and four geldings.

Another Story.

ON T'OTHER LEG OF MR. NORTON.

FRIENDS REFUSED JOBS; HE RAISES MUCH DUST.

Intermittent Watchdog of the County Treasury Shakes Fist at Absent Tax Collector and Summons Earl Press Agents to Have Him Flayed.

Supervisor Norton, the "stormy petrel" of the board, raised a new storm yesterday when he denounced the alleged action of Tax Collector Welch in refusing positions to four of Norton's close political adherents who are out of a job.

Norton shook his fist at the absent Tax Collector, declaring that if he can prevent it no extra men shall be employed by Welch until his own friends be given work.

Norton sent for the representative of Earl's sunrise organlet requesting that County Tax Collector Welch be properly criticised for presuming to decline the services of any men he sent to the office.

Chairman Pridham and Supervisor Butler were absent. Supervisors Manning and Hinshaw allowed Norton's torrent of wrath to run along its accustomed channels until the Socialist stumbling block to harmony announced that he had a headache.

The trouble originated on Monday when Tax Collector Welch appeared before the board with his annual request to be allowed to employ extra men if occasion requires. He also asked to be allowed to work certain specialists overtime if this seems necessary.

Norton declared such a course would be a shame upon the heroic Socialists who prefer to idle except when it is absolutely necessary to earn their daily bread.

"I'll send some of my friends to Welch," said Norton Monday. "They need work and ought to get it."

When Chief Deputy Alfonso arrived at his office yesterday he found several men waiting to see him. Each brought cards from Norton. Alfonso told them that there is no extra work just at present, but he took their names and addresses. One reported to Norton that the mention of his (Norton's) name did not strike the deputy deaf, dumb and blind, as it ought to do.

It was then that Norton delivered his fulminations to the long-suffering Supervisors and sent for the Earl press agents.

Norton now has fights on his hands with the District Attorney, County Clerk, Tax Collector, Chairman Pridham, and others too numerous to mention.

Tax Collector Welch, who has survived three terms under different political administrations, said yesterday afternoon that he wished for no quarrel, but he did not see his way clear to hire new men until they are needed. He said the men who bore Norton's cards gave their names and will receive the same treatment as other applicants.

TO RECLASSIFY COMMODITIES.

RAILROADS TO GET TOGETHER IN JANUARY.

General Revision of All Matter Amenable to Shipping Rules to Be Made at Important Joint Meeting of All Common Carriers West of Mississippi at Monterey.

If you have a little invention which has not yet attained to the marketable recognition presupposed by official railroad classification or if you are not contented with the present rate-classification of commodities manufactured or marketed by you, know ye that the high judicial classification body of all the railroads west of the Mississippi River is to meet in Monterey, January 13, for a protracted session.

Furthermore, Chairman Fyfe of this body known officially as the Western Classification Committee, has issued notices that petitions for the reclassification or inaugural classification of commodities will be welcomed by him up to November 10, when the docket for the Monterey session closes. These notices are being sent to points in the States contiguous to the Pacific Coast, for the primary object of holding the 1914 meeting in this State is to permit the hearing of western petitioners.

Large interest should and usually does attach to the meeting of the Western Classification Committee, for the reason that, at its dictate, the railroads impose rates under which every commodity whatsoever moves over the common carriers between the Mississippi River and the shores of the Pacific, the Gulf of Mexico and the Canadian border. It does not decide on specific rates, but this committee can rate a commodity at class 4 or "double first class" as may suit its determination of space occupied in a car or the weight contributed to a car per square foot.

Rates depend primarily on class, therefore this committee, in effect, makes the rates. Furthermore, it is a busy body subjected to many complaints, for shippers, duly inoculated with the belief that a stitch in time saves nine, are in the habit of going to this, the initial rate-making body for a righting of their supposed wrongs.

Fate of Miners Is in Doubt.

Explosion in the Shaft of a Fuel Company at Dawson, N. M.

Owners Believe Safeguards Will Prevent Heavy Loss of Life.

Rescue Cars from Kansas and Wyoming Are Hurrying to the Scene.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Oct. 22.—Between 220 and 280 miners were entombed by an explosion in the mine No. 2 of the Stag Canon Fuel Company at Dawson, N. M., at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The entombed men included General Superintendent Frank McDermott of the mine and several other American miners. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Rescue advices received up to 9:45 o'clock tonight were that five miners had been taken from the upper levels alive. These reports stated that most of the day shift were employed below the second level, where the shaft was blocked with debris from the explosion.

Accounts from Dawson and Raton were uncertain as to the possibility of rescuing any of the men alive, while a statement issued from the headquarters of the Phelps-Dodge Company at El Paso, Tex., expressed hope that most of the entombed men would be found alive. This belief was based on the fact that the workings of No. 2 mine were connected by a tunnel with mine No. 5, while an air shaft is said to furnish another means of exit.

Immediate relief work was undertaken by men from the night shift and neighboring mines. Appeals for
